Parishes and Missions of the Diocese of Western New York

In Respect to their organization, and relationship to the Diocesan Council

(The following list of parishes and missions, with the dates of organization and admission into union with the Council of the Diocese, is based upon a list published in the Journal of 1865 by the Secretary of that year, and upon records examined by the present Secretary in the Journals of succeeding years. It is here set forth after most careful search of the pages of the Journals, and with the request that where information is lacking, or the lists are at fault, the clergy and laymen of the Diocese will assist in making the lists complete and correct.

Perhaps it will not be amiss to quote in this place from a note at the head of the lists of 1865, written by the Secretary of that time: "The dates of incorporation and admission of the older Parishes in the following list, though sought out with great care, are quite imperfect. No record is found in the Journals of the admission of.....St. Mark's, Le Roy; St. Luke's, Rochester; Zion, Avon; (the three last organized in 1817, and admitted, probably, in 1818), nor even of Grace, Lyons, reorganized in 1838." The request was then made, as it is now, that "Corrections and additions which may be obtained from Parish Records" be forwarded to the Secretary, to aid in preparing more perfect lists for future Journals.)

Mr. H. A. Bull presented the following Report of Committee on State Legislation, which on motion, was adopted:

REPORT.

The standing committee on State Legislation presents this report on the subject referred to us at page 48 of the printed journal of the last council in 1911:

A resolution by the Rev. Mr. Duff, at page 38, referred to the Standing Committee on Social Welfare and reported by that committee for the favorable consideration of the council was divided, and provisions of the same were unanimously adopted stating generally that the Church should aid in securing laws to improve social conditions, and specifically urging the passage of laws for better inspection of places of work; for more inspectors to enforce the child-labor law; and for limiting the hours of labor of women in factories and stores.

The following propositions were then referred to this committee to report to this Council:

"The amendment of the State Constitution so as to permit of a workman's compensation act on the principle of that recently declared unconstitutional by the Court of Appeals; the amendment of the State Constitution, if necessary, or if not necessary, the enactment of legislation embodying the sentiment expressed in the following paragraph taken from the report of the Social Service Commission of the Diocese of Milwaukee: 'We believe that the discretion reposed upon our Courts to issue injunction is one that has been sadly abused, and that the responsibility for a process so delicate and capable of such far-reaching mischief is not sufficiently safeguarded.' "

The action of the Council in adopting the resolution urging generally laws to ameliorate conditions that work social harm and specifically calling for laws on certain subjects has settled affirmatively, and as we believe wisely, the large question of policy whether the Church, as an organized body, shall officially indorse or disapprove legislation. The reference of the resolutions on a workman's compensation law and on alleged abuse in the issuance of injunctions calls for a report as to whether the measures advocated would ameliorate conditions that cause social harm. In the discussion at the last Council, other reasons given for reference were that delegates unfamiliar with the subjects desired further information; and, also, that any resolution involving criticism of the courts should not be adopted without earnest consideration of the necessity for it and of the wording to be employed.

The discussion of these subjects, during the past year, by public men and in all sorts of publications has been thorough enough to forestall any plea for further inaction because of lack of knowledge on the part of reasonably well-informed citizens. The essential facts and arguments bearing on the action which this Council should take seem to your committee to be the following:

Great social harm unquestionably does result from the present laws of New York governing workmen's compensation. A conservative estimate, based on official reports, indicates that in this State, on an average in one year, industrial accidents kill more than 1,500 people; injure seriously or permanently at least 15,000 more; and injure temporarily over 50,000. These accidents cost those injured and their families, in loss of wages, medical and funeral expenses over $10,000,000 a year. Only a small part of this loss is made up to those suffering it by payments from employers or insurance companies. Consequently those injured, and their families, are forced to a lower standard of living.

The present system of making any compensation is wasteful, being costly to employers and the State and of small benefit to the injured. Much loss also comes through the system being so slow. The operation of the law breeds antagonism between employers and employees. Other countries have adopted laws establishing a better system of compensation for these tremendous losses. The New York law was reported by a commission, after a year's study of the question by hearings and investigations. The question of constitutionality was carefully considered and decided in favor of the bill by the commission, the legislature and Governor Hughes. In the first case the law was upheld by the trial judge and by four out of five judges at the Appellate Division.

The Court of Appeals held it unconstitutional, so that an amendment of the constitution is necessary now to secure the benefits which the law would have provided. We think this Council should strongly favor an amendment that will accomplish that result and prevent, if possible, any harm in future from such decisions.

The resolution submitted simply recommends an amendment that would expressly permit adopting the Workingmen's Compensation Act. The constitution of Missouri, Article XII, Section 5, provides that "The exercise of the police power of the State shall never be abridged or so construed as to permit corporations to conduct their business in such manner as to infringe the equal rights of individuals, or the general well-being of the State." We believe the sentiment of this Council should be expressed in favor of the general purpose without attempting to specify the language of the amendment.

The adoption of this resolution does not necessarily involve criticism of the Court of Appeals for making a decision on the constitutional question, as to which there is room for honest difference of opinion. At the same time it is true and worth noting that the decision is out of harmony with the rulings of the Supreme Court of the United States and of a majority of the highest State courts. The decision has also been criticised as illogical and unsound in a statement signed by many of the foremost teachers of constitutional law in the leading law schools of the country.

In effect, the Court of Appeals holds that our Constitution deprives our people of the right, through their legislature, to adopt a reasonable law promoting social welfare which is available to the people of European countries by simple legislative enactment. An interpretation which produces this result seems to us not to be in keeping with the spirit of true liberty in which the Constitution was framed and which has characterized the brightest chapters in the history of Anglo-Saxon law.

It is pleasant to turn from this subject to the other which was referred to this committee; namely, the issuance of injunctions. The resolution offered is quoted from the Social Service Commission of Milwaukee, expressing belief that the discretionary power to issue injunctions has been abused.

However this may be in Milwaukee and other jurisdictions, we are happy to say that we have heard no criticism of the courts of New York State in this respect, and so far as our knowledge goes there is no ground for any such criticism.

However, high authorities recognize that the right to issue injunctions contains great possibilities of abuse, and that even a slight abuse of this right may cause great popular dissatisfaction. Accordingly a proposition for further regulation by statute of the practice of issuing injunctions received the approval of both of the great political parties in their last National platforms, and was endorsed by so firm an upholder of the courts as President Taft himself. Indeed, so far as we are aware, there is no open opposition to this proposal, and it seems eminently proper that this Council should add its endorsement.

For reasons above stated, we believe some changes in the language of the resolutions referred to us are desirable, and we therefore recommend the following for adoption:

WHEREAS, this Council has recognized the duty of the Church to work for the coming of God's kingdom in every sphere of life, including the social and industrial; and to aid in securing laws to ameliorate conditions that work social harm;

We therefore urge the legislature and people to adopt an amendment to the constitution of this State providing in substance that the constitution shall not be so construed as to invalidate laws passed in the exercise of the police power and clearly "held by prevailing morality or strong and preponderant opinion to be greatly and immediately necessary to the public welfare."

We also urge that laws be passed in the State and in the Nation defining more accurately the right to issue injunctions and providing that none shall be issued without notice, except where irreparable injury would result from delay, in which case a speedy hearing thereafter should be granted.

JOHN LORD O'BRIAN,
HENRY ADSIT BULL.

The Rev. Dr. Jessup presented the following report of the Committee appointed to investigate and report on the situation created by the promulgation of the decree "Ne Temere." On motion it was received and its resolution adopted.

REPORT.

To the Seventy-fifth Annual Council of the Diocese of Western New York:

The Journal of the Seventy-fourth Annual Council of this Diocese, 1911, states (page 35) that the following preamble and resolution were unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, The Roman curia has set forth a decree entitled "Ne Temere" which decree is intended to affect the rights of individuals entering into marriage relations with members of the Roman communion, and

"Whereas, The Church in this diocese, while not intending to criticise the wisdom or the motives of a sister communion with which it has so many beliefs in common, deprecates any action which may tend to unsettle the stability of the marriage relation, and

"Whereas, Members of this Church are or may be affected by such decree,

"Resolved: That this council requests the Bishop to appoint a committee consisting of two clergymen, and three laymen learned in the law, to investigate and report to the next annual council of this diocese on the situation created by the promulgation of the decree "Ne Temere" so far as it affects the Church in this diocese and individuals as members thereof and as citizens; and such committee is directed to make such recommendations as may appear in its judgment to be wise."

The Bishop of the Diocese appointed as such committee the Rev. C. A. Jessup, D. D., the Rev. James W. Ashton, D. D., the Hon. Charles McLouth, the Hon. John Lord O'Brian and Mr. Lewis Stockton.

This committee has held two formal meetings, and its members have had several informal conferences on the subject presented to them for consideration, both among themselves, and also with others of the Clergy and Laity, both of the American Episcopal Church and of the Church of England in Canada, who have made a special study of the decree "Ne Temere."

One of its members has also carried on an extensive correspondence, by which considerable valuable information has been obtained on the history and working of this decree.

The Rev. Dr. Ashton (whose absence at this time because of serious illness, we greatly deplore) has contributed a paper setting forth both the implied claims to authority which the decree involves, and also what would be the indirect as well as the direct results of the working of the decree where it was fully operative.

The Rev. Dr. Francis J. Hall, professor of Dogmatic Theology in the Western Theological Seminary, has, at the request of a member of this committee, written for us a Syllabus on the Decree which is of permanent value.

The investigation and study of this subject has brought your committee to the conclusion that the matters involved are of too large and too wide importance to be dealt with finally by the representatives of a limited section of the Episcopal Church.

It appears that such decree was pronounced after much consideration by the ultimate authority of the Roman Catholic Church. If it so affects the Protestant Episcopal Church as to require any action from the latter it should be by the ultimate authority thereof. The whole being composed of many parts, any one of such parts may, it seems, take definite position in reference to action.

The recommendation of the committee is that the Council of the Diocese of Western New York, of 1912, respectfully memorialize the General Convention of 1913, in view of the large importance of the matter, to consider the whole subject, with all proper care, and take such action, or non-action, in reference to such decree, and the matters therein treated, as to its sound discretion may seem advisable.

The committee therefore recommends the adoption of the following:

Resolved: That the Council of the Diocese of Western New York, of 1912, respectfully memorialize the General Convention of 1913 to consider the situation created by the promulgation of the decree "Ne Temere" so far as it affects the Protestant Episcopal Church, and individuals as members thereof or as citizens; and to take such action or non-action, in reference to such decree and the matters therein treated, as to its sound discretion may seem advisable.

The Rev. Dr. Register offered the following resolution which was unanimously adopted:

In 1909 and also again in 1910 this Committee suggested that the accounts of the Episcopate Fund be examined by an auditing company who should certify to the correctness of the report. This has not been done, and again we ask that the accounts of the Episcopate Fund be examined by some first-class auditing company and that the report of the auditor be made a part of the Treasurer's report.

We would also urge that measures be taken to make those parishes, which have not met their assessment, pay up at once, as there is owing to the Episcopate Fund over $1,000.00.

Respectfully submitted,

APPENDIX I.

Bishop's Annual Address

Reverend Brethren, and Brethren of the Laity :

In the name of the adorable Trinity—Father, Son, and Holy Ghost—we assemble here today. God's work is our work; His Church is our revered mother; His honor and service shall be our delight. In such a spirit and for such a duty I welcome you to the Seventy-fifth Annual Council of the Diocese of Western New York.

Our ranks of the Reverend Clergy are full, as never before, since the Diocese was born. Our communicants have multiplied so that the records show twenty-seven thousand six hundred persons enrolled on the roster of our great army. Our gifts have been increased, beyond former years, $392,000. This advance has not been the fruit of unnatural excitement or heated revivals, but has come by calm, earnest and laborious effort on the part of my Reverend brethren and those associated with them under God. The Church's sober ways win. We want religion in the religious world, if the Kingdom—His Kingdom—is to have victory and is to reach the heights of triumph. May this Diocese in serving its Master seek not the high flights of sensational aviators as the medium of its achievements, but rather tread humbly the calm valleys of rich abundance and honest endeavor, where are the limpid waters and the green pastures of God.

To this is summons given by the Master,—not to white heat and exaggerated speech and irreverent enthusiasm and human exploitations and exaltations. "The Church's work in the Church's way"—that shall be our royal and our humble watchword.

Necrological

My custom is at this stage of my address to recite the names of some of the faithful in God's Church, who have finished their course here. Two Bishops do not now answer "adsum" as the Secretary calls the roll of our House, in special, or in regular session. At the recent meeting, in solemn silence, their names were announced.

First, Right Reverend JOHN MILLS KENDRICK, D. D., Bishop of New Mexico. For twenty-three years he labored cheerfully and with a good courage at a difficult and discouraging post. He was a peculiarly uncomplaining man, notwithstanding the many barriers to growth in his jurisdiction. The people were irresponsive, the conditions unpicturesque, and the support of the work meagre. Few clergymen seemed to desire its isolation, its mongrel population and its dim prospects. It was martyr-work for the Bishop—and loneliness—and an unsympathized-with service.

And yet few could have brought higher and more skilled powers to the field. He was genial, intellectual, industrious, apt to teach, business-like, and a man of God. An experience of several years as general missionary in the Diocese of Southern Ohio, where he manifested striking aptitude for, and thorough success in, his work gave him fitness for the Missionary Episcopate. And the workman wrought well. The result will appear in future years. The graving tool cannot carve as many statues of porphyry in a given time, as can be sculptured of caen stone or alabaster,—but the adamant endures for the ages.

Privations are over for that enduring, patient Bishop. Now he sleeps.

Second, Right Reverend ALEXANDER MACKAY-SMITH, D. D. Pathos girdles his Episcopate's record. As the Priest he was active in parochial work, popular as the preacher, pleasing in administration.

In a favorite Church at the Capitol of the nation he had large congregations and won general acceptance in the community.

Generous-hearted, of attractive presence, refined in manner, his post was admirably filled.

Pennsylvania sought and won him as Bishop-Coadjutor to the godly Diocesan who was gently moving onward to the even-tide and the "sweet sleep."

A very few years after beginning his work in Philadelphia the Coadjutor developed physical feebleness and suffering. His ability to take up and carry the needed burden became impaired, and a long absence from the Diocese became imperative. It was an anxious and a weary life that then fell to his lot. Foreign picture-galleries and Alpine scenery and the splendors of Oriental lands and the luxury of the picturesque and the new, had no charm for him, although experienced under most favorable circumstances. He was absent from his Master's work and his people, by no will of his own, but by the overwhelming force of uncontrollable conditions. He longed to take the helm in hand and relieve the dying Bishop of his great load of care, but seriously failing health hindered. At last, however, he nerved himself to the work. Soon came the departure of Bishop Whitaker to the world beyond. Then his successor was obliged to yield to the strain. A coadjutor and suffragan were consecrated—and he had laid himself down to rest. His Right Reverend Brethren sympathized with him deeply in those days when will and devotion were mastered by the failing flesh, when the heart was heavy and the hand dropped from the plow and the closing eyes spoke of work done.

Our own household has lost one of its long laboring sons. Reverend WILLIAM W. RAFTER, Rector Emeritus of St. John's Church, Dunkirk, left our ranks as he departed this life a few months ago.

I knew him well. For many years, before I was called to this Diocese, we had been friends. Earnestly but modestly he did his duty. The community honored him. His people loved him. He was always the Churchman. His vows bound him solemnly to loyalty in his ministrations at the altar or in the teachings of the pulpit. Conscience compelled to obey that which he recognized as authority—his Church. Its devotional life held his heart. Its law appealed to his reason and his conscience. Compromises with alien bodies had no charm for him. He died a gentle, loyal priest, feeling honored and privileged that he was permitted and able to do the least service in his sanctuary at the bidding and for the glory of his Master. Those who knew him best, have the sure confidence that this man of God has found peace—that the sun-setting only opened the eyes to the eternal radiance beyond.

We will now engage in fitting devotions, including the Nicene Creed.

Church Loyalty and Sound Religion

Since January 1st I have been reading to every Confirmation class a little leaflet, quaint and direct in its simple suggestion, and exhortation. I am uncertain as to its author. It has the tone and mode of expression and devout ethos of some Father of the English Church. It seems to me that it is worthy the pen or the silver voice of an Athanasius or a Chrysostom. It appeared to me needful for these days of attenuated loyalty and sentimental liberality on the part of so many Churchmen.

The Christianity which ignores to a degree, the means of grace, the Holy Sacraments, ordained by our Lord, and the Ministry created by him, or which minimizes these and magnifies an emotional piety that is simply subjective, is deadly and defective. To warn against it, and to win our people back to a sober devotional life, is to rescue them from the peril of a yawning precipice with its jagged rocks, ruthless and deadly, below. This leaflet reads thus:

THE DISCIPLES' LOYALTY.

“Cleave to the old ways and to the old religion, to thy parish church and to thy Prayer Book, and as thou hast been born again in the font of the Church and fed from her Altar, so continue thy life's end to worship in her courts, and thus be laid at last in thy grave as one who has a right to be called ‘a dear brother,’ having never forsaken the blessed family into which thou wast at first admitted, the household of God.

“The longer thou livest the more thankful thou wilt be for thy membership in the Catholic Church of Christ. Thou wilt love her old creeds more and more. Thou wilt feel safe from doubts and disputes under her guidance. When many run to and fro, thou wilt rest. Thou wilt find a holy sobriety and calm about her ways, for which thou wilt seek in vain elsewhere. Thou wilt see in her services, more and more, a likeness to that which thou seekest, a foretaste of Heaven.

“She will guide thee thither, and if thou follow faithfully thou wilt find at last of God’s mercy, that thou wert not far off even here, but that the Church on earth is a Heaven on earth, the beginning and a very part of eternal blessedness.”

So it speaks to the children of God. Its gentle injunctions are timely and necessary. It is not narrow speech, nor uncharitable injunction. Shall we not plead with our own negligent or wandering or weary children to come home? Are our principles uncertain? Have we not the authority? Are we a sect? Are we not the Church?

Nearly a century ago that learned and eloquent Presbyterian preacher, Dr. Bushnell, the glory of the New England pulpit and the terror of the primitive Calvinist, startled his brethren in the ministry, by a book he published on reasonable religion and a salutary piety, bearing the name of “Christian Nurture.” Its calm but searching diagnosis of the revival system, of emotional conversion, ecstatic devotional enthusiasm, and demonional theories of the life of the soul, called out indignation from many of his confreres, but stirred hosts to a revision of their theories of the Godly life and struck a chill to the heart of much of the prevalent piety of the day. He revealed, with amazing discrimination and keenness, the emptiness and final unreality and failure of the religion that leaned on the fragile reed of feeling and sudden conversion. He denounced with a withering sarcasm the piety that demanded new-birth as a lightning’s flash. To him the revival and the revivalist, of whatever tone or name, was an impertinence and a defiler of religion and the Church. God’s ways and God’s Church, he taught, were sober, gradual, reasonable. The Spirit came not in the thunder or in the earthquake, but in the still small voice to his needing child. Religion is a growth. Its development requires helps. These God gives in His Church. They were to work calmly, to build slowly and surely, to strengthen steadily.

day by day. Nature taught the God of Nature's plan, first the seed, blade, and then the ear, and then the full corn in the ear. Fire destroys! The calm sun in the heaven builds.

Thus he reasoned and thus he preached. For this day and its novelties in religious shape his book has pre-eminent usefulness. Out of a Presbyterian pulpit he set forth the life of piety for which your Church and mine stands. Would we be wise, our Christian experience and our devotional life must be conformed to its pattern and its ideals. Am I claiming too much for the Church's principle of Godliness? No! Because it, in its standards, and in its devotional order, is an absolute conformist to Scriptural command and to the primitive, and age-long rule of piety. It offers sober, Apostolic living for the soul and that has saneness, method, rational thought and reverential devoutness.

I am emphasizing and reiterating these facts and these principles because I hear of alienations and relaxed zeal among some who have companied with us. The glitter of the late ephemeral excitements has dazzled their sight. They have forsaken the guide of their youth in part. God help them when the scales drop from their eyes and the melting of the phantom comes.

Bible Instruction

I presume that many of my Reverend brethren will recall the fact that in my address of last year I made request that in every parish, as marking the tercentennial of our English translation, a permanent class for Bible study, on its spiritual and divine side, be established. In my visitations, I have learned that many of my brethren have followed the suggestion. Some, however, have not. May I not hope in view of the needs of this money-getting, world-loving age, this year our Bible Classes for men and women will multiply, all over the Diocese. I need not advance any argument in the ears of those who declared at ordination their belief that "the Scriptures of the Old and New Testament are the word of God," for such a course. I need not remind that with some of their people the Holy Scriptures is a neglected and in some cases a dishonored book, that the sneer from the professorial chair and the undermining speech in the biological or psychological lecture in many of our largest universities are potent influences for the closing of the book to the eyes of our young people throughout the nation. It is flung out as a volume of dreams or exhausted theories, or pleasing fables. There are some before me who perhaps look upon this statement as pessimistic. I claim that it is a declaration in simple drab color, without high lights and glaring tints to give intensity or sensationalism to it. Were you to hear the recital of their sad experiences as respects their own sons, and their daughters too, dropped into my ears by many parents—the unbelief and doubt which had taken possession of their children’s souls, through the tainting atmosphere of the class-room—your hearts would grow sick and every pastor here would rise to a sense of his awful responsibility, and would strive, night and day, while life lasts, to bring back to the fold those wandering children of God; to wake anew in their hearts a love of their Father’s message and their Redeemer’s good tidings for their poor, straying selves. Do you recall that exquisite tradition of the Beloved Disciple? Out of his haunts of sin and crime he won a young man and took him to his own humble home at Ephesus. The youth was fair to look upon, frank and manly, and St. John loved him. The young man found joy and satisfaction in the Apostle’s sweet story of the cross and of a Redeemer’s care for man. The old man’s teaching won the young man’s heart, and the violence and blood of the robber band, with whom he had companied, became loathsome to his thought. So he learned and lived at the Apostle’s feet. On a day St. John, after a brief absence, returned home, to find that his loved disciple had disappeared. The loneliness that came through the youth’s departure almost broke the aged saint’s heart. He went out into the city, up and down its streets, crying out for his lost boy. By day and in the dark hours of the long night he roamed hither and thither seeking him. At last, one told him that the youth had gone back to the fierce robbers’ cavern, far away among the crags of the distant mountains. “The lure of the wild” had resumed its mastery over his spirit. That aged Bishop of the Church resolved that he would seek again that straying one. Many strove to dissuade him because of the perils and hardness of the way, and the violence and blood-thirstiness of that robber-band. They said his life would be the penalty. But, it was the one reply to every one; 'I must seek and find my lost son. The Master requireth him at my hands.' And so for days he pressed onward, his staff in his hand, climbing the crags and searching for that dark cavern among the rocks. At last the bandit chieftain came upon him, wandering high up near the mountain-top, and seized him and bound him and summoned his band of outcasts and threatened him with death. He cried, again and again, until they were weary of that cry: "I have come searching for my son; give him back to me. Let me take him home." Long he pleaded—alas! in vain. But lo! in the night watches as they slumbered, the boy stole from the cave's recesses to the side of the suffering saint and unlocked his fetters. Then falling into his arms and clasping the Apostle's neck, the good heart came back at the gentle pleading of his teacher, and as he learned the privation and the suffering endured for him, he resolved to fly back again with his friend. Hand in hand, they hastened down the mountain-side and angels speeded them on their way. The wanderer came home again. The shepherd guided the lost sheep back to the fold, never again to stray; and the youth heeded the Master's call to serve in His Church and in the end to give testimony and life for Him amid martyr's flames.

This may seem a sentimental intrusion into a business report. But it is meant—be it legend or be it narrative—to be a tender vehicle to convey from the Pastor pastorum to his brethren, his consciousness of the peril to the flocks in these unbelieving, restless days. And so, I call to the watchmen on the tower to be on guard—to the shepherd to guide the flock, and to bring back the lost. It may require St. John's tears. It may call for St. John's heroism and his weary steps where pain and trials lie. Fathers, send not your children to other firesides where untruth taints and where alien shepherds abide. Keep them within the fold. Guide them by that light which gives the life—in His Holy Church.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew

It will be remembered that within the last year the Brotherhood of St. Andrew came to us and held its Annual Convention in the City of Buffalo. The eminent speakers, who honored us by their presence, deeply moved many of our people by their wholesome teaching, and their eloquent advocacy of the causes they were invited to plead and to represent. Especially, was it gratification to those of us who attended, when we heard the glowing words of our venerable Presiding Bishop, telling us of the homelier aspects of religion and of man's relation to it, in contradistinction to the glare and blazon of unnatural and sensational tones in some modern teaching. And how moved were we, by those thrilling demands of another Bishop, who summoned us to stand to our own banner, to watch it, to keep it aloft and to refrain from tarrying within other encampments, allowing our own fires to die out. How many others might I recall who spoke for truth and brotherhood, and loyalty, and the holy Institution that the Master founded on earth!

In very many of its features, it was an edifying and helpful convention. Some of its tones linger in our ears still and we rejoice that good teaching and rich enthusiasm characterized it in nearly all its phases. Let us not permit the inspiration that came of them to fade or grow threadbare. Let us ever remember that the Brotherhood is a Church organization, not a "pot-pourri" of many sects. Let us never forget that whatever the traits of Epworth Leagues and Christian Endeavors and Philip and Andrew Brotherhoods and Interchurch Federations, and the like, the Brotherhood stands only for the faith and order of this Church. The sacramental system, the calm, sober worship, the unsensational studying of truth—these are the features which have been the glory and have given dignity and reasonableness to the Brotherhood's career. Only as it maintains inflexibly its original platform (I need not quote it), can it, in my opinion, maintain its magnitude, its influence and its power. Its object is not to boom, unhealthy and eccentric and spectacular movements. Its object is not to attempt a union of divided Christendom by unauthorized and indiscriminating concordats or cotton-thread leagues,—or by insincere compacts that are only empty and barren compromises.

Christian unity is not coming in a month or a year or—perhaps a century. So say men who are experts and who are authoritatively commissioned by this Church to venture halting steps on the very edge of a field of inquiry.

The men are presumptuous who in the name of this Church, through one of its voluntary organizations, undertake to consummate what a dozen centuries of Christian life has not accomplished. Fellow members of the Brotherhood, let dreams remain dreams. Christendom will continue divided when you and I are mouldering in the grave, the youngest of you. Let us not use our 'prentice hands upon a delicate and difficult condition. Let us humbly and diligently perform our part—we have a noble part—and that is to plead for a restored unity, and for a Church that is one, to pray for the peace of Jerusalem. So shall we use God's own instruments for the accomplishment of His great plan. So shall we be His humble servants patiently waiting on Him until the sun ariseth and the light shineth and men clasp hands in brotherhood, and the world with one great hallelujah bows the knee to King Jesus.

Until that day shall dawn let us pray, without ceasing, as individuals, as a family of God, that the Shepherd shall bring His own again in His good time, so that here shall be the mighty consummation, the prayers of the ages fulfilled—one flock and one Shepherd.

Missionary Council

We are to be favored by the presence of the Missionary Council of the Second Department in Buffalo next October. As you are aware, it embraces all the Bishops of the five Dioceses in the State of New York and of the two Dioceses in New Jersey and the Missionary District of Porto Rico. They are nine in number. Delegates, clerical and lay, to the number of eight from each are members thereof. The sessions will cover at least three days. Missionaries and interesting speakers are expected to address the meetings. Such gatherings are likely to stir Missionary zeal among us and to increase the information on the great theme of the world's spiritual need, and our responsibility for the winning of men to the cross.

May I not ask of my brethren, throughout the Diocese, for a deep interest in those gatherings, and for their living co-operation in every endeavor to make them enthusiastic and profitable.

A series of committees have been appointed to arrange for the meetings and to take in hand all the details in order that our guests may meet with a warm welcome, and that the Church as well as the commercial world may learn that "Buffalo means business."

Annual Reports

A word or two respecting the annual reports from the parish or mission to the Bishop. The Canon is explicit regarding the time when they shall be forwarded in complete form to the Diocesan—or rather to the Secretary. Every year we are long delayed in the issue of the Journal, because some of my Reverend brethren postpone the preparation of their reports. In fact, there have been delays reaching beyond a month and a half and even two months after the Council has closed its session. Surely my brethren will agree with me that this ought not so to be.

I must call attention here to another serious matter. Some of the clergy sent no report at all to me, either last year or the year before. No matter about the discourtesy and the disobedience, but the parish or the mission is thus deprived of the privilege of record of the work in the official register of the Diocese. I think you will recognize the injustice to the flock. May I not hope that every report of every parish or mission, not now in the Secretary's hands, will be forthcoming before this month shall have passed away.

It shall be our aim this year to issue the Journal within one month or thereabouts after these sessions end.

I am sure that this appeal for promptness on the part of my brethren will not be in vain.

General Missions

Last year in presenting the subject of General Missions to you, and in urging interest in the enlarged endeavors of our Board of Missions, I pleaded for the adoption of the Chicago plan for raising apportionments in our parishes. Linked to it as you are aware is the duplex envelope system. In my visitations since that time I have met the vestries and discussed the subject with them and their rectors in all the parishes except two. As the result of my inquiries, I have learned that a goodly number have followed the Bishop's counsel. Some parishes have not, because there was fear that the proposed plan would militate against their present financial system, and diminish, rather than increase income, for parish needs and missionary enterprise. It is due my brethren—clerical and lay—to say that they, almost universally, gave conscientious and earnest thought to the matter. The discussions revealed large variety of conditions, and convinced me that one cast-iron system cannot be applied to all. Several parishes declared absolutely, and with clear evidence of its truth, their inability to meet their apportionment. My sympathy is with many of them. I think, however, that all have the desire and intention to achieve greater things than in any year of the past. At a meeting of the "Standing Committee on Missions" which was appointed at the last Council, it was resolved to assign to each of its members a group of parishes or missions with which he was to have correspondence and oversight, and whose interest he was to make endeavor to increase. To an executive committee was deputed the duty of making such assignments. Their part of the work was performed; but at a meeting held about a fortnight ago, the Secretary was able to present very few reports from the different members. It may be that at this date there will be larger evidence of activity on the part of those engaged in the effort. Of course, the Bishop has, personally, been working along this line throughout his whole series of visitations, as has been before stated. He can speak hopefully as to the result in his case. And yet he feels that he must utter the word of exhortation and beseech that his brethren everywhere will heed the Master's voice calling, "Son, go work today in my vineyard." It may be that service is out of your power to give, but the gifts and the prayers are yours to bestow. Of them will you not give freely? Freely you have received.

Woman's Auxiliary and Girl's Friendly Society

I cannot, in view of their increasing vigor and larger labors for good, refrain from referring, first, to our Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions, and secondly, to our Branch of the Girls' Friendly Society. As to the first, I must declare, as one who knows practically, that it is constantly extending the sphere of its work. I desire to say emphatically to the men here assembled that that body, numbering hundreds of devout Christians, is a credit to religion and worthy of the proper pride of the whole Diocese. It is given, in many of its parish branches, to striking self-sacrifice on the part of its members. It is as a body showing sympathy towards, and doing generous things for, the whole mission field of our Church. And to crown all its sweet labor for our Redeemer, it has, in addition to all its gifts for the distant and the near mission enterprises of our Church, with a happy alacrity come to the aid of the Diocese in raising its apportionment by a pledge for $2,000 thereof, annually.

Regarding the Western New York Branch of the Girls' Friendly Society, I must give high praise as to its endeavors. A splendid band of women act as Associates at the expense of much time and money, and give guidance, sympathy and cheer, throwing sunshine into the life of hundreds of girls that need motherly and Christian help. As many as thirty-five of these young women who are members of this organization were confirmed by me during the past year. They have also been contributors, in a generous degree, to the Church's mission-work. The organization is of this Church, and its spirit is loyalty to their mother and yours.

De Veaux College

I refrain from many words on De Veaux College this year. It speaks for itself as you linger within its walls.

But I must give utterance to two or three facts—although they are embodied in the Committee's report, appointed last year to solicit funds for the increase of its usefulness, through further endowment. The facts are: 1. That thirty-two boys are on its roll. At the time—about two years ago—when the pay pupil department was reopened our number on the foundation was twenty-two. Ten therefore, of the present number, are paying for their instruction. The profit arising from that income, with other gifts, of the Old Boys' organization, have enabled us to put buildings that were woefully out of repair in fairly good condition. Without the supply of funds that came from these sources we would have been absolutely unable to go on unless we made a serious diminution of foundationers—at least to the number of four or five boys. This would have been a calamity of grave import.

2. The Old Boys' Association was formed in 1907, and since then has secured for the benefit of the College contributions as follows:

For the due celebration of Founders' Day, $1,337.25. From Wm. T. Jebb—an alumnus—for the special Jebb Fund, $1,000. From Charles Kennedy for the Charles Kennedy Endowment Fund, $2,000. For the Improvement Fund to better and repair the plant, $1,023.25. From friends of the College other than the Old Boys, and for the same purpose, $195.00. For contribution to the before-mentioned Guaranty Fund, $2,795.00. Also for the same object, from other friends of the College, $695.00. For the De Veaux Athletic Association—a portion of the curriculum which gives pleasure to the heart of the boy always—the sum of $387.35. Other gifts numbering in the aggregate, $102.00. This makes a total from all sources of $9,534.85.

Comment seems to me unnecessary. The new departure has won many an old friend back again. Men who rejoice in their Alma Mater—in its past, and in its renaissance—are giving it back the old love, and are glad in a moderate degree to show gratitude for what it has done for them.

Need I terminate this statement by asking from you who are here, and all your friends throughout the Diocese a generous, practical response to the appeal of this committee—a committee from your own number, and of your own appointment—who are seeking to strengthen the hands of our De Veaux that it may be a blessing to many another boy in his effort to rise to a useful place in this needing and struggling world. May I not ask that these words of mine will not be in vain?

Official Acts

My diary records this tale of official acts. Two children were baptized by me within the year. I presided at forty-seven different meetings in the interest of the Church. I officiated at one hundred and seventy-six different services, besides Confirmation and Communion offices at which I presided. Ninety-seven different Confirmations were held by me in as many different places. There were one thousand three hundred and seventy persons confirmed at these services. My sermons have numbered one hundred and twenty-two, and my addresses in Church and at various meetings reach a total of one hundred and forty-four. I ordained one Deacon, and received by letters dimissory into the Diocese eleven Priests. One Church was consecrated; one was dedicated. The corner-stones of two were laid. The corner-stone of a parish hall was laid and the building was dedicated later. I officiated likewise at the solemn dedication of a reredos. I joined a couple in Holy Matrimony and officiated at four funerals. In attendance upon sessions of the DeLancey Divinity School I made three addresses to the students. As a Trustee of Hobart College, ex-officio, I have been present at the two semi-annual meetings, and as President of the Board, I have taken my place at five meetings of the Trustees of De Veaux College. As "Visitor," I have attended the commencements of St. Margaret's School, Buffalo, and of the Livingston Park Seminary in Rochester. I have also presided at three meetings of the Church Charity Foundation of Buffalo. It has also been my painful duty to suspend at their own written request one Deacon and one Priest, agreeably to the terms of the Canon, for a period of six months.

During the year many meetings of committees and organizations and of the clergy have been held by me in the present See House. Its convenience for such gatherings is peculiarly marked, and in making any change of the Episcopal residence I have felt that such Diocesan usefulness should govern in the selection of it. I have given their transfers to five clergy summoned to other Dioceses.

Conclusion

Here my record of official acts closes. The whole narrative of Episcopal work is not written. The many other responsibilities that come with the office; the duties which are informal and unofficial are simply innumerable. But they are precious to me, because they are related to the Master and to His dear flock.

We are now about to enter on our work as a Council. Matters of moment will come before us for consideration. Discussions of grave importance may result. But it is my hope that the spirit of patience and love will govern, and that all will recognize that we are brethren.

May the Holy Ghost direct and guide us in our labors for the Church of Jesus today and forever.

Reports of Officers and Committees

(A) Report of Standing Committee

To the Seventy-Fifth Annual Council of the Diocese of Western New York:

The Standing Committee herewith reports its official acts for the Diocesan year, 1911-12:

May 17th, 1911. The committee met in Buffalo and organized by the election of the Rev. C. Morton Sills, D. D., President, and the Rev. Walter North, L. H. D., Secretary.

Assessments were fixed at two per cent. for support of the Episcopate, and one per cent. for Diocesan Expenses.

A committee was appointed to prepare and distribute a list of offerings for the ensuing year.

Regular meetings were appointed for the first Tuesdays in September, November, January, March and May, while discretion was given to the President to change or delay meetings for due cause.

The Spindelov Printing Co. was appointed official printer until January 1st, 1912.

June 26th, 1911. The Committee met in Rochester. Consent was given to the consecration of the Rev. Thomas F. Davies, Jr., D.D., Bishop-elect of Western Massachusetts; the Rev. James Ridout Winchester, D. D., Bishop Coadjutor-elect of Arkansas; the Rev. Philip M. Rhinelander, Bishop Coadjutor-elect of Pennsylvania; the Rev. Thomas James Garland, Suffragan Bishop-elect of Pennsylvania.

Consent was given to the Rector, Wardens and Vestrymen of St. Mark's Church, North Tonawanda, to purchase, or to purchase and build, a rectory, to cost not less than five thousand dollars and to mortgage the same in a sum not to exceed $3,500.

On motion the Bishop was advised to give his canonical consent to the removal of Grace Church, Buffalo, from the northeast corner of Niagara and Penfield Street, to the southeast corner of Lafayette Avenue and Congress Street.

On motion the communication of the Rector, Wardens and Vestrymen of St. John's Church, Buffalo, giving its consent to the same, was ordered to be filed in the archives of the Diocese.

The President submitted the resignation of Henry R. Hopkins, M. D., a member of the Standing Committee since 1893.

On motion the same was accepted with deep regret, on account of his long and valued services both to the Committee and the Diocese and the Secretary was directed to so inform Dr. Hopkins.

On motion, Mr. William H. Walker, the son of Mr. William H. Walker, who for many years was a member of this Committee, was elected to fill the unexpired term of Dr. Hopkins.

Whereas the sum of $3,000.00 has been contributed as a guarantee fund to enable the De Veaux College to take pay pupils and whereas by a former action of the Standing Committee this guarantee fund was fixed at $500.00 for each pay boarding pupil, now therefore, be it resolved,

"That the guarantee fund to be required of the Trustees of De Veaux College be $500.00 each for the first six boarding pupils and that for pay boarding pupils above six, the guarantee fund required be $250.00 each, and that no guarantee be required for day pupils."

The above is a copy of the resolution passed at a meeting of October 14th, seven out of eight members being present and consenting.

On motion the Bishop was requested to insert in the note in the annual report of parishes as to what is intended in Salaries and Expenses after the word "music," the words, "whether directly or indirectly."

October 14th, 1911. A deputation from the trustees of De Veaux College presented a partial report of the financial condition of De Veaux College.

On motion the following resolution was passed, seven out of eight members being present and consenting:

"Whereas, the sum of $3,000 has been contributed as a guarantee fund to enable the De Veaux College to take pay pupils and whereas by a former action of the Standing Committee this guarantee fund was fixed at $500.00 for each pay boarding pupil, now therefore, be it resolved,

"That the guarantee fund to be required of the Trustees of De Veaux College be $500.00 each for the first six boarding pupils and that for pay boarding pupils above six, the guarantee fund required be $250.00 each, and that no guarantee be required for day pupils."

Roy Rolfe Gilson and William Tinsley Sherwood were admitted as candidates for Holy Orders.

The Spindelw Printing Co. was appointed the official printer for the year 1912.

The Special Committee on the report of the Trustees of De Veaux College made its report which was received and referred with the report of the trustees to the Annual Council.

To the Bishop and the Standing Committee of the Diocese of Western New York:

Gentlemen:—Your Committee to whom was referred the statement of the Finance Committee of the Board of Trustees of De Veaux College for the year ending December 31, 1911, would respectfully report that, having carefully examined the same, they approve said statement and hereby recommend its acceptance.

Report of the Warden

To the Board of Education of the Diocese of Western New York:

The Warden of the DeLancey Divinity School respectfully reports as follows:

The Lectures have been held and instructions given monthly from October to April, both inclusive.

As was anticipated last year we have had during the period covered by this report three classes, Junior, Middle and Senior, a circumstance, I think, without precedent in the history of the School and marking a distinct advance in the arrangement of the curriculum in favor both of students and lecturers and a growth beyond mere numbers such as will appeal to those at all familiar with educational methods.

Those who have completed the studies of the Senior year, but whose final examinations before receiving the Diploma of the School have yet to be held, are the Reverend Arthur F. Lowe and the Reverend Francis J. Angel, both in Deacon's Order and Mr. Harlow B. Raymond.

Mr. Charles A. Dowdell, Secretary of the Board of Keuka College and a graduate of that institution, is the only member of the Middle Class.

The Junior Class is made up of Messrs. David L. Leach of Depew; Robert T. Gibson of Buffalo; Leon F. Haley of Syracuse, and Fred J. Davis of Antwerp.

Without desiring to make invidious distinctions, great credit is due this class for the faithfulness with which its members have pursued their studies and the solidarity which has marked its course. We are looking forward to its graduation, two years hence, as leaving a distinct impress upon the School.

Mr. John C. Donnell, who last year completed the Junior Course with us, was given credit for his work by the authorities of the General Theological Seminary and was admitted to the Middle Class of that institution, last Fall.

It was thought at the date of our last report that it would be necessary to spread the monthly lecture periods over sessions of three days each and therefore at some slight additional expense. It has, however, been found possible to keep these within the limit of two days each without loss of effectiveness and with the happy results of an avoidance of the expense anticipated or of keeping the students an additional day from their secular avocations.

It is impossible for your Warden to speak in too high terms of the work of those associated with him in the instruction of the young men committed to their care. The note of the year from these devoted gentlemen has been increased freedom in the facility with which they have fulfilled their duties, increased interest in their work and, as a consequence, increased joy in their sacrifice. It is due to the Reverend Mr. Irish to say that in addition to his own department of Church Polity and Canon Law he has given instruction in Greek to the Senior and Junior Classes.

The students, generally, have well sustained their part; when the difficulties and limitations under which they pursue their studies are taken into consideration they will be found deserving sincere commendation for their faithfulness and steadiness, the outcome of that resoluteness and earnestness with which, in the outset of their course, they came to us seeking a way into the Sacred Ministry.

The advantages of the monthly lectures over the older plan continue to afford evidence of the wisdom of the change, while the additional expense is a negligible quantity and is well within the income of the Endowment.

The Warden desires to express his gratitude for the continued confidence in his administration, expressed by his re-election to office, the unfailing courtesy with which he has been met and the sympathetic support of which he has been made the recipient by the students, by his associates and by the governing body.

There have been added to the Library, by purchase, 29 volumes of reference books and 53 copies of text-books. A gift comprising 150 volumes has been received from the executors of the late Reverend Warren C. Hubbard, of Brooklyn. These books from his own library were bequeathed by Mr. Hubbard to S. Andrew's Divinity School in the diocese of Central New York, but that School being no longer in existence the Bishop of that diocese advised that the bequest be made over to the DeLancey Divinity School, which was accordingly done. Our thanks are therefore due to Bishop Olmsted and to the executors of the late Mr. Hubbard.

We are also greatly indebted, a debt of which we here make grateful record, to the Reverend Warren W. Walsh, of Charlottesville, Va., for many years an honored priest of this diocese, for the gift of his library, with instructions to give from it to our students and others such volumes as we do not wish to retain, e. g. duplicates, etc. Many volumes have been so disposed of.

The $125 granted by the Board for the purchase of text-books and for additions to the Library has been expended and found insufficient to meet the requirements of the year: the Warden has therefore felt justified in spending the further sum of $20.36, to meet the necessity, but this amount was taken from the sum of $21 which he received from the sale of books to a former student and no demand was made on the treasurer to balance the account.

The increase in the number of students, the large cost of theological books, the very limited number that may be purchased below catalogue prices, together with the added cost of transportation, first to Geneva and then to the hands of individual students and instructors, makes the item of book expense more than ordinary. The Warden has, however, been able of late to arrange with a New York firm whereby carriage to Geneva, at least, will be saved and a reduction from "net" prices be in many items allowed.

The attention of interested rectors and Church people is again called to the appeal appended to our School catalogue for gifts toward a Library Endowment Fund of Five Thousand Dollars. The sum asked for is so modest that it might be accumulated in a very few years by occasional special gifts, while at the same time the income from such a fund would be sufficient to meet our needs for some years and would thus obviate the necessity of drawing on the general funds of the School.

The grant for books for the current year ought not to be less than $150; already there are requests for books from Lecturers with which they ought to be equipped for their work and the needs of the students will at least equal those of last year.

There has been no catalogue of the books in the Library printed since 1904 and in the eight years since 1,500 titles have been added. Our supplementary manuscript catalogue should be printed and bound in with the copies of the 1904 catalogue which we have on hand. This matter is commended to your favorable notice.

The undersigned attended, without expense to the School, the meeting in New York, last December, of the Commission on the Status of Theological Studies, of which he is a member; and, accompanied by the Rev. Dr. Hubbs and the Rev. Mr. Sherwood, he attended the Conference of Faculties of Theological Schools held in April at the General Theological Seminary. Whatever may be the practical outcome of such meetings to the various Schools represented, the benefit in association and in interchange of ideas is definite and immediate to those privileged to attend them.

The Bishop of the Diocese has been a welcome visitor to the lecture-room gatherings of instructors and students on many occasions through the year, always leaving with us words of counsel and wisdom.

There has been received since May 1, 1911, by Order from the Secretary of the Board, for Lectures and other expenses the sum of $520.00. This sum does not include the special honorarium to the Lecturers of $700.00 which passed through the Warden's hands May 25, 1911, but does not form part of the regular expenses of the School; nor does it include the grant of $125.00 for books as above noted. In addition we have received from the Bishop of Central New York for the expenses of students from that Diocese, the sum of $68.91; and $21.00 was received for books sold to a former student.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

THOMAS B. BERRY, Warden.

Geneva, N. Y., May 1, 1912.

(C) Report of the Trustees of DeVeaux College for Orphan and Destitute Children

Niagara Falls, N. Y., January 24, 1912.

To the Bishop and to the Standing Committee of the Diocese of Western New York:

Gentlemen:—The Trustees of De Veaux College for Orphan and Destitute Children respectfully submit herewith their report for the year ending December 31, 1911, in compliance with the terms of the charter of the Corporation.

During the year the Trustees held seven meetings, with the following record of attendance:

Rt. Rev. W. D. Walker, D.D., President	present 3, absent 4
Gen. H. C. Hodges, Vice-President	present 3, absent 4
Rev. P. W. Mosher, Secretary	present 6, absent 1
John K. Walker	present 6, absent 1
Porter Norton	present 2, absent 5
Rev. Pierre Cushing	present 4, absent 3
Rev. Edward P. Hart	present 3, absent 4
de Lancey Rankine	present 3, absent 4
Rev. E. J. Babcock, Treasurer	present 7, absent 0

The main items of this report are two: 1, the school; 2, the books of account.

1. In the school boys only are taken.

During the year 1911 there were received on the foundation 26 boys. The average number maintained during the year was twenty-two, the greatest number in attendance at any one time was twenty-two, and the least number twenty-two. The age of the youngest boy on the foundation was 12 years; that of the oldest 19 years.

During the year the total number of pay pupils received was twelve, of whom four were day pupils. The least number in attendance at any one time was four and the greatest ten, during the latter part of the year.

The course of study is that published in the Register and is based upon the Elementary and the Academic Syllabus of the New York State Education Department.

2. In the matter of accounts the annexed schedules show: a—the balance sheet; b—payments to and loans from the interest-bearing endowment funds, and the amount of said funds uninvested (upon which 4% interest is received); c—the receipts of interest, rents and other resources, with disbursements of the same; d—a list of real estate, bonds and mortgages of the General Funds, Strickland Fund, Kennedy Fund and Land Contracts; e—a list of real estate owned by the Corporation. There is a net increase of endowment by $6,915.05 from sale of lots, and additions to Guaranty Fund.

Through the assistance of the Old Boys' Association of De Veaux College the gymnasium, which was rapidly going to decay, has been furnished with a polished maple floor 42'x 82', painted within and without and otherwise put in excellent condition.

Early in January, 1912, Mr. Charles Kennedy of Buffalo added $1000.00 to the "Charles Kennedy Endowment Fund." Although this gift will not appear in the Treasurer's report until next year, the Trustees desire to express at once their appreciation of Mr. Kennedy's loyalty to his old school and his large hearted generosity.

Attention is called to the liability of $2,300.00 notes payable in a note to Schedule "C."

Respectfully submitted,

PHILIP WHEELER MOSHER,

Secretary.

By order of the Board of Trustees.

By order of the Board of Trustees there is affixed to this Report the report of the New York and Buffalo Audit Company to the Finance Committee of this Board.

 REPORT OF THE NEW YORK & BUFFALO AUDIT COMPANY.

Buffalo, March 16, 1912.

The Finance Committee,
De Veaux College,
Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Dear Sirs:—In compliance with your request we visited the residence of the Treasurer of De Veaux College for the purpose of comparing the annual statements that had been rendered to you by the Treasurer with the books and records in his possession, and reporting as to their correctness, supplemented by furnishing such additional information as might assist you in the future conducting of your duties.

Our work has heretofore consisted of a detailed audit of all receipts and disbursements for the year, and in this connection we may say that all money shown to have been received has been properly accounted for, and all disbursements made supported by vouchers.

We visited the vaults of the Niagara County National Bank and inspected the Bonds, Mortgages and Land Contracts, finding all in order with the exception of the following:

Loan No. 494—Feis Einstein Estate (paid in January, 1912)	$ 7,000.00
Loan No. 495—Charles E. Mabon (In the hands of Carl E. Tucker)	1,500.00
Loan No. 690—William J. West Estate (transferred to Listed Real Estate)	1,573.03

Loan No. 718—John Traverse (this was reported as missing a year ago) 500.00

Loan No. 722—Nellie T. Allen (paid in February, 1912).... 1,000.00

We also inspected the Insurance Policies for the purpose of seeing that all Policies expiring during 1911 had been properly renewed, and in addition, for the purpose of ascertaining that all loans were properly protected by the insurance policies.

In our previous reports we have called attention to the fact that the Financial Statements have not included such items as Insurance Premiums unexpired, accruals of rent and interest, and sundry accounts payable, owing at the close of each year, and again recommend that in the making of all future statements the above items be taken into consideration.

The operations of the College for the year 1911 show that the Income received during the year has not been sufficient to take care of the Expenditures incurred. The income was as follows:

Interest on mortgages.....	$ 12,120.12
Bank interest	627.80
		$ 12,747.92
Miscellaneous Rent	1,264.90
O. B. A. of D. C. Improvement Fund (used for new floor in gymnasium, $777.75).....	789.25
Refunds, etc.	408.76
From Pay Pupils, including sale of supplies.....	3,345.03
From Foundationers for supplies.....	325.61
		6,133.55
Total		18,881.47
The disbursements were as follows:
Maintenance of School and Pupils.....	16,572.93
Maintenance of Trust	2,023.21
Disbursements for Foundationers, Clothing, Cash, Doctors	937.95
Disbursements on account of Pay Pupils.....	283.16
		19,817.25
Total		935.78
Showing Excess of Disbursements over Income..

This deficit can be reduced by $526.51 in order to show that which is applicable to the year 1911, made up as follows:

Difference between the interest outstanding

at the close of the year 1910 and received in 1911, and the interest outstanding at the close of the year 1911 which will be received in 1912	352.06
Excess of insurance paid during the year over the expired portion	174.45
Leaving a net deficit for the year of.....	$	409.27

This deficit is occasioned not by excessive operating expenses, but rather through the necessity of having to make repairs for a considerable amount that might with propriety have been spread over a certain period. For example: the repairs to the School Buildings amounting to $2,249.92 will not be necessary each year. Quite a large part of this sum was expended on painting the buildings, which we are informed had not been done previously for over fourteen years.

If a yearly deficit were to occur the Principal of an Estate would suffer in consequence, and the matter of spending money should receive careful consideration with a view to curtailment, though we are of the opinion that the pure maintenance cost, consisting of the General Operating Expenses, is not high, and in support of this assertion we have prepared what we term an estimated statement for the purpose of illustrating the regular operating cost of maintaining the pupils independent of repairs.

In statement "A" we show the cost of all pupils for the year to be $13,106.30 as disclosed by the book of figures, and the per capita cost of the pupils to be $486.68. By the elimination of the heavy repairs this per capita cost might be reduced.

In statement "B" which we are submitting we estimate that the per capita cost of maintaining the Pay Pupils is $347.26, and on this basis there is a profit on each pupil of $152.74, or a total of $1,088.00 applicable to the reduction of the Foundationers cost. If the pay pupil department is increased it should effect a sufficient revenue to gradually permit of an increase in the number of Foundationers.

The fees received from Pay Pupils last year amounted to $2,800.00. There are now in attendance at the College six boarders at $500.00 each, and four day boys at $150.00 each. Provided the number stands at the same figure for the year, it will increase the revenue from Pay Pupils to $3,600.00.

Very truly yours,
 NEW YORK AND BUFFALO AUDIT COMPANY,
 H. C. MEECH, C. P. A.,
 Vice-Pres. and Gen. Mgr.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO STANDING COMMITTEE.

To the Bishop and the Standing Committee of the Diocese of Western
 New York:

 of the Finance Committee of the Board of Trustees of De Veaux College for the year ending December 31, 1911, would respectfully report that, having carefully examined the same, they approve said statement and hereby recommend its acceptance.

ALBERT C. WALKER,
 SELDEN S. BROWN,

Committee.

(D) Diocesan Missions

Report of the Archdeacon of Buffalo

The Rt. Rev. William D. Walker, D. D., LL. D., Bishop of the Diocese.
Rev. Father in God:

Your Archdeacon respectfully tenders this his ninth annual report of the work performed by him during the year. In reviewing the missionary work and interests of this Archdeaconry we find there are some thirty-two places which are not self-supporting. In order to maintain clergymen in these parishes and missions it is necessary to augment their salaries by a stipend from the Board. They in turn for the stipend given agree to give services and pastoral comfort to adjoining parishes or missions as arranged with the Missionary Board. In this way provision is made for a number of our missionary stations, so that the work for this year has been better manned than ever before.

Three clergymen have been added to our force this year and the number receiving stipends from the Board has never been so many. In consequence of this increased number the Treasurer will not have as large a surplus to report as formerly, because every place is filled by a clergyman in charge—save one. However desirable aggressive work may be, the most urgent and the most important work lying at our hands is to furnish the Board with increased funds so that they may be able to maintain the present number in the field, and may possibly open up new work in many of the villages and places about us. In order to do this it would be a good step forward to get our people of the parishes as well as those of the missions to exercise greater zeal for the work within their own borders, and, above all, to show greater generosity towards the missionary work of the home field.

Your Archdeacon has visited regularly at stated times the following places, holding services, celebrating the Holy Communion, and performing other duties of his ministry: Angola, Alden, Brocton, Brant (Indian), Corfu, Depew, Darien Center, Chautauqua, Ellicottville, East Randolph, Franklinville, Hinsdale, Irving, Little Valley, Mayville, Randolph, Sinclairville, and Springville.

Belvidere, Rector at Belmont.

Friendship, Rector at Cuba.

Belfast, Rector at Angelica.

Little Valley and East Randolph, Rector at Randolph.

Forestville, Rector at Silver Creek.

Attica, Rector at Warsaw.

Lewiston, Rector at Youngstown.

Steel Plant, Rector at St. Phillips, Buffalo.

Hamburg and Gowanda, Rev. F. A. Ransom.

Bolivar and Allentown, Rev. R. D. Baldwin.

Springville, Rev. A. F. Lowe.

Deaf Mute Work, Rev. F. C. Smielau.

Indian Work, The Archdeacon.

There are other places ministered to by others of the clergy who do not receive financial help from the Board, who as a labor of love assume these extra duties in addition to their parochial work, as follows:

St. Mark's Chapel, Buffalo, Rector of St. Mark's, Buffalo.

Kenmore, Rector of All Saints', Buffalo.

St. Clement's and Holy Communion, Buffalo, Rector of St. James', Buffalo.

Rolland and Blasdel, Rector of St. Judes', Buffalo.

Depew, Rector of St. Paul's, Buffalo.

Brookside, Olcott and All Saints', Lockport, Rector of Grace Church, Lockport.

Boardmanville, Rector of St. Stephens', Olean.

Ripley, Rector of St. Peter's, Westfield.

Echota, Rector of St. Peter's, Niagara Falls.

To state the missionary work briefly, there are some fifty-five places ministered to outside of self-supporting parishes in this Archdeaconry.

Parochial Missions	12
Those receiving stipends	24
Archdeacon's Missions	18

The record of the year is one of success and some aggressive work done. The mission at Angola laid its corner stone in October last by the Bishop. The church was completed and occupied in November. This is the mission to which the Sunday School advent offering to the amount of three hundred dollars was devoted, and with a loan from the Rev. Charles H. Smith, D. D., a very neat church building is the result. The mission is making steady progress.

The Chapel on the Chautauqua Assembly grounds is associated with the parish at Mayville. The chief part of the work, and that in which it needs especial attention and oversight, is during the summer. There are gathered here people from all over the world, ten to twenty thousand, and among this number there are from three to four hundred communicants of the Church, who as children of the Church look to their mother, the Church, for pastoral care and ministrations. This work has been cared for by the Rector at Mayville since 1893, when the Chapel was built and services begun by the then rector, the present Archdeacon. The Bishop of the Diocese has always felt a keen interest in this work, officiating from time to time and ministering to the people. For the second time in the history of the Chapel services it was without pastoral oversight last summer, owing to the vacancy in the rectorship at Mayville. At the request of the Bishop the Archdeacon was placed in charge and with the assistance of the rectors at Dunkirk and Westfield the chapel was kept open. The following services were held:

Sundays: Morning Prayer 14, attendance 1,720.

Holy Communion 16, attendance 1,128.

Week days: Evening Prayer 26, attendance 1,439.

Report of the Archdeacon of Rochester

Rt. Rev. William D. Walker, D. D., LL. D., and Brethren of the Clergy and Laity:

As another year passes in review before the retrospective glance of your Archdeacon, he finds, in presenting this his eighth annual report, many things of which it might truthfully be said, "This ought ye to have done and not left the other undone."

Annual reports differ very little from year to year. The records show so many services held and sermons preached, so many baptisms, confirmations, marriages and funerals, a certain amount of aggressive work undertaken and the ever present financial burden. These and other matters of a kindred nature constitute the yearly round of things seen. —

Of laborers in the mission field we may boast of as efficient a corps as can be found in any like jurisdiction and our constant endeavor should be to give them living salaries so that, as in Apostolic days, "They may give themselves continually to prayer and the ministry of the word."

In this particular we are able to report an increase during the past year of $283.65 in the amount paid out for stipends.

In every case where a stipend has been increased the Missionary Board of the Archdeaconry has stipulated that the mission, or missions, over which the missionary has charge, shall also make an increase in the amount given.

One new laborer has been added to our working force, the Rev. Harris B. Thomas having assumed charge at Sodus and Sodus Centre, the first of last June.

At Sodus Point on Sodus Bay we have entered upon a new arrangement. Early in the summer of last year your Archdeacon obtained from Mrs. E. H. Harriman, of New York, the use of a house owned by her at the Point, and during the season several of our clergy with their families occupied the same for periods of two weeks each, maintaining the services in the local church for the time being.

The house is large and sufficiently furnished, and it is gratifying to know that Mrs. Harriman has again placed it at the disposal of your Archdeacon.

A class for confirmation awaits the coming of the Bishop.

Spencerport, under the care of the Rev. J. H. Parsons, has during the past year completed a neat and attractive Church Hall which will serve as a place of worship until such time as the people shall be able to erect a church building. The zeal and enterprise of the people of Spencerport is to be commended.

The work at Charlotte and Fairport, under the genial leadership of Dr. Harvey S. Bush, has gone steadily forward. At Charlotte a movement is under way looking towards the enlargement of the Church building, and the people of Fairport have in mind the completion of the interior of their newly constructed building. A class for confirmation has been presented at each of these places.

Work at other places is being cared for by capable men and is showing advance. The Rev. Mr. Freeman looks after the work at Manchester. The Rev. Mr. Newton has charge of the mission at Shortsville. The Rev. Mr. Raines, of Scottsville, goes every Sunday afternoon to Caledonia. Dr. Hubbs, of St. Peter's, Geneva, serves also the Church at South Phelps. The Rev. Mr. Bouck, of Watkins, supplies the services at Montour Falls. The Rev. Mr. Johnson looks after the Church at Holcomb.

Until recently the Rev. Mr. Gales has been in residence at Wolcott; while the Rev. Mr. Smielau ministers to the deaf mutes in this and three other dioceses.

At Bradford, in Steuben County, repairs have been made on the Church property and a new heating system put in. A class of eight or ten adults awaits the coming of the Bishop.

At Hunts, in Livingston County, the work has prospered. The interior of the new church has been completed and a new organ installed. It was the privilege of your Archdeacon to baptize four men in the Church at Hunts, and later to present a class of eight adults for confirmation. Other baptisms have taken place during the year and it is hoped to present another class for confirmation on the twentieth of next June, at which time it is purposed to relay the corner stone taken from the old original Church building which for over eighty years stood in Hunt's Hollow. The occasion will also be made the formal opening of the new building. The day will be given over to general festivities. Mr. Harlow B. Raymond is lay reader in charge.

At Nunda, which place is served in connection with Hunts, some advance has been made in the way of improvements to the Church property. Nearly enough money is in hand to install a furnace in the Church and decorate the interior. There has been one person baptized and one confirmed.

The Churches at Dundee, Dresden and Himrods have been served more or less regularly by lay readers from Hobart College. Of the consecrated work of Mr. Jatho at Dresden I cannot speak too highly. That also of Mr. Quigg at Sodus Point during the winter, deserves commendation. These men are candidates for the ministry.

In this, as in other dioceses, there are mission stations which, while their names appear on the map of the Archdeaconry, are nevertheless practically non-existent. I refer to such places as Livonia, Bergen, Victor, Allen's Hill and Wayne. For many years these places have been on the list of the seemingly impossible. In each of them there is a church building and they remain with us in the hope that sometime the work may be revived.

It is a mistake to place such places in the list of failures, for many of them have "Fought a good fight." The Church at Allen's Hill, now practically deserted, was, during the early years of the past century, among the most flourishing in the state. Five sons reared within her walls went out to preach the Gospel. The Church at Bergen during its early years wrought a good work, and Wayne in the days of the stage coach was a town of considerable importance. But conditions have changed and these places "Now must rest from their labors." During my term of office three missions have been rescued from the "Slough of Despond" and are now in a flourishing condition. I refer to St. Luke's, Fairport; St. Mark's, Hunts, and St. Stephen's, Rochester. In each instance a new church building has been, or is now, being erected, and the prospects for the future are bright. This leads us to hope that other points now dormant may be revived. The fact remains, however, that with few exceptions the problem of maintaining the services of the Church in towns remote from the centers of population is going to be an ever increasing one. It calls for a speedy healing of the "Unhappy Divisions" among Christian Bodies and should lead us all to pray more earnestly for the unity of the Body of Christ. This need is perhaps brought home more forcibly to your Archdeacon than to you, as by the nature of his office he is being brought constantly face to face with it.

By some strange law of selection the first to die, or move away from a small community are almost invariably members of our communion, or those who are about to become such. To become a member of the Church nearly always foretells a fatality or a removal. The recruits for the city parishes and the Church Triumphant are drawn largely from the rural districts. Whether this is owing to superior intelligence or sainthood I do not know. I am simply giving facts obtained from long observation. I will add however, that the city seems to hold the chief attraction over the Church Triumphant.

Unless we are prepared to support a mission and carry it on from year to year, I believe that with few exceptions, it is best not to attempt to enter the smaller villages. Not but what the Church has a mission in every community, and every community has need of the Church, this I thoroughly believe; but unless it can be presented to the community in a way to inspire respect, I believe it better for the present to concentrate our efforts upon the suburbs of our cities, and upon those places where we have already set up our banner.

In this Archdeaconry (I am told that it is not so in the Archdeaconry of Buffalo) the responsibility for the financial part of our work rests largely upon the shoulders of the Archdeacon. This is an evil inherited from my predecessor in office which I am trying gradually to throw off. Of late one of the members of our Missionary Board has come to the rescue with a monthly letter setting forth certain facts concerning our work and we believe it is going to do good.

I do not wish to be quoted as crying down mission work in other parts of the world, but through the urgency of the appeals now being sent out from New York, and by our added apportionment for the general missionary work of the Church, that portion of the same, known to us locally as Diocesan Missions, is in danger of being crowded out and the time has come when we must fight for its life.

The general adoption of the "Duplex Envelope" system while it has undoubtedly increased the stream of money flowing into our treasuries, has at the same time played havoc with our "Quarterly Offerings."

In place of getting remittances, as heretofore at four stated times, we now get them, if we get them at all, "at any old time." Consequently we are frequently called upon to borrow money in order that our missionaries may be enabled to pay their bills promptly and maintain their credit. I would therefore suggest that the Rectors instruct their treasurers to forward any funds due us, upon the dates set forth by the Standing Committee of the Diocese. I would also ask that they send to me the name and address of the local treasurer, so that in case of neglect I may become to them a "Discopragger of Hesitancy." Furthermore, I would recommend that in each parish and mission, where the "Duplex Envelope" is used, that a certain per cent. of the money given for missions be set apart for Diocesan Missions. St. Mark's Church, Rochester, gave us 33 per cent. the past year and we have had more from St. Mark's than ever before.

The offering from the Sunday Schools during the last Advent was the largest ever received, amounting to $632.86 and exceeding that of the previous year by $52.99.

There has also been an increase in the amount received from the "Quarterly Offerings."

On the other hand our treasurer's books show a decrease in the amount received from the Permanent Fund, and for work among the Deaf Mutes. The "Bishops Fund" has been given to another cause and these deflections have made holes in our cash account which the increase from other sources has not made good. We trust therefore that the brethren will not relax their efforts.

We trust that in the year before us, the last in my third term of office, we may achieve greater things, remembering always that the efficiency of those who serve is largely dependent upon the prayers and the financial support of those by whom they are sent.

Respectfully submitted,

W. L. DAVIS,
Archdeacon of Rochester.

Report of Missionary to Deaf Mutes

To the Right Reverend William D. Walker, D.D., LL.D., Bishop of Western New York:

Reverend Father in God:—I herewith submit my annual report as your Missionary to the Deaf-Mutes:

During the year services were held and visits made at Buffalo, Rochester, Geneva, Watkins, Niagara Falls, Olean, Pittsford, East Aurora and Corning. Services were held regularly in St. Luke's, Rochester, and in Trinity, Buffalo, once each month on Sundays, and the Holy Communion was administered at each place on alternate Sundays. The attendance at the evening services continues to increase, as many as thirty-five being present on several occasions. I am pleased to notice a growing interest in the work at Buffalo. Literary and social meetings are held at Rochester and Buffalo every month.

Summary of work: Services held, 56; celebrations of the Holy Communion, Public, 12, Private, 6; Pastoral calls, 145; Offerings at the services (for travelling expenses), $74.25. Contributions: For Diocesan Missions, $5; St. Luke's Church, Rochester, $5; Trinity Church, Buffalo, $5; General Clergy Relief, $5; total, $20. The Rev. Mr. E. P. Hart buried two deaf-mutes at Rochester.

In addition to my work in this Diocese, I have served the Dioceses of Bethlehem, Erie, Harrisburg, and have exchanged with Rev. Mr. Van Allen and Rev. C. O. Dantzer.

The Empire State Association of the Deaf met at Rochester last summer, and it was my privilege to hold a service and preach to the delegates at St. Luke's Church. Fully one hundred and fifty deaf-mutes were in attendance at the service more than two-thirds of the number being communicants of the Church.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANKLIN C. SMIELAU, Missionary.

(3) Report of Sunday School Commission

(Presented by A. B. Houghton.)

In lieu of a formal report, I ask permission, on behalf of the Sunday School Commission, to lay before you the following statement:

By the terms of the canon creating it the Commission was directed, among other things, to secure information regarding the status of the schools in the Diocese; to organize Sunday School associations; to establish courses of study for teachers, and, in general, subject to the Bishop, to take whatever steps it deemed wise for the betterment of Sunday School work. No power to enforce its requests or recommendations was given. But it was made the duty of all rectors and clergy to report to the Commission such facts as it might, from time to time, ask of them. Three years have now elapsed since the Commission was formed. It is perhaps opportune, therefore, to review briefly what has been accomplished, and to consider, in the light of actual experience, how best to proceed in the year to come.

The subject lends itself to brevity. During the first year of its existence the Commission gave considerable time to a study of the general situation, to discover, if possible, the best method of carrying into effect the various duties imposed on it. As a first step, the Commission determined to form the schools, as a whole, into a Sunday School Association, and to divide the Diocese into six districts with centers at Buffalo, Rochester, Bath, Geneva, Geneseo and Olean. It was planned and agreed that each district should hold a convention semi-annually, and that the whole association should be brought together annually. The organization was perfected. One convention was held in one district and one in another. And that is all. The organization exists. But nothing has come of it. Next, as a preliminary step toward the establishment of training classes for teachers, the Commission, wishing to sound the sentiment of the Diocese, sent to each rector and to each parish, a little book on the training of teachers, with the request that its receipt be acknowledged and that the Commission be favored with any comments or criticisms that were suggested by it. That was two years ago. Not only was no comment or criticism ever made, but the receipt of the book was, in two instances only, I believe, ever acknowledged. And there, so far as the establishment of training classes goes, the matter now stands. A year ago a new Commission was chosen, and again the situation was canvassed. After several meetings and some consideration, the Commission, in view of the apparent falling off in the enrolled membership of our schools as disclosed by the Diocesan reports, determined to lay the foundation for a statistical record, by means of which the numerical condition of each school, and so of all the schools, in the Diocese, could thereafter be followed from year to year. You perhaps recall the figures referred to. In the year 1901 the report showed an enrolled list of 11,567 scholars and 1,260 officers and teachers, and in the year 1910 the report showed an enrolled list of 9,411 scholars and 992 officers and teachers,—an apparent loss of about 2,500 in all. And this in face of a gain of nearly 6,000 in the number of communicants during the same period! We found it easy to theorize. We found it easier still to offer reasons of an apriori sort by way of explanation. But we finally came to the conclusion that an apparent loss in numbers of practically twenty per cent. in ten years demanded some sort of explanation based on facts. We knew figures were at hand to give us the actual enrolment and the actual average attendance in each school. These figures we determined to make the basis of a permanent record. But just how we were to obtain any facts to explain why our schools had, on the average, grown smaller during the decade was more difficult to determine. We knew, however, that the general population had increased largely. We knew, as a consequence, that unless the birthrate in church families had decreased in opposition to that of families of other denominations or of no denomination, or unless the rate of infant mortality was greater in Church families than outside, neither of which seemed likely, there must be a couple of thousand children, at any rate, in our parishes which our schools were not accounting for. It seemed safe to assume, therefore, that these missing children, provided they existed at all outside of the Diocesan reports, would be represented by the difference between the total number of children of proper age found in the parishes, and the number enrolled in the parish schools. Accordingly, we were driven to ask a question never hitherto put—namely, how many children of normal Sunday School age have you in your parish? Our interest was not wholly mathematical. We felt, if attention could once be directed definitely toward this group, we might reasonably hope, in one year or two or three, to bring our enrolled list up to a normal figure as compared with ten years ago. At any rate we would have some facts on which to work. Such a question, obviously, permitted no exact reply. We were aware that just in proportion as a parish is doing good work and pressing its organization further and further afield so, necessarily, there must be an element of uncertainty in any figures reported. We were aware, too, that we were running foul of such serious and really important questions as “what is a Church family?” or “what is my parish?” or, “how often does a child need to go to Church to be fairly reckoned?” and the like. We expected this. And, as a consequence, we were prepared to accept, in lieu of an impossible or exact number, such a reasonable estimate based on a more or less thorough knowledge of local conditions as political parties make every year in their canvasses, or as any shop-keeper or manufacturer constantly makes of his possible customers or of his market. At any rate, this was our plan. There was, of course, only one way to carry it into effect, and that was to ask for what we wanted. This we did. We sent to every rector and to every parish a blank calling for the information. A half dozen replies were received. We then mailed a second request and a few more replies came along. They are still straggling in. We have enough on hand now to know that we have utterly failed in our undertaking. Roughly speaking, sixty per cent. of our blanks elicited no reply whatever. That killed, at the start, any possibility of making a numerical record. But, unfortunately, out of the replies that we did receive, we got a little that helped us to determine the total number of children in any given parish. Some few men replied intelligently and fully. Some few told us, with cheerful candor, they had no idea how many such children there were. Others still illuminated the situation by declaring they knew no way of finding out. But the favorite method of reply was, apparently, to add up the number of children enrolled in a school and to put this number in as the total in a parish. For instance, taking the replies as they came, up to a week or so ago, it appeared that out of a total of 3,208 children of Sunday School age reported, 3,182 were enrolled in our schools. All but 26! If the parishes not responding had shown equally good results, it would appear that of all the possible children of Sunday School age within the Diocese, all but about 65 are cared for in our schools. The Diocese is indeed to be congratulated. The difficulty, of course, lies wholly in the method of figuring. If a man measures his possible field of work by what he has already accomplished, his record is necessarily good. One is perhaps justified in doubting whether such a method of figuring really serves any useful purpose. It might conceivably be of value in determining the population of an abandoned grave-yard. It certainly has no relation to living and growing things. There is a possibility that here and there, among the parishes, where lines are clearly drawn, instances can be found where substantially all the possible children of Sunday School age are enrolled. But such instances must, in the nature of things, be few. The schools which are being pressed hardest, and which are working most eagerly and most systematically out toward the edges and fringes of their respective parishes, show no such result. They still have work to do. And it is probably safe to assume, even in face of the encouraging figures reported, that they always will find work to do until the Church ceases to grow and her membership becomes a fixed and definite thing.

That is a statement of what the Commission has accomplished. It is easily summarized. The Commission has accomplished nothing, unless, perchance, to qualify itself for a position among those ornamental bodies more noted for their aims than for their achievements. And there, possibly, we would do well to leave it. And yet we cannot. To do so would be to take a step backward. The creation of the Commission marked the formal recognition of the fact that Sunday School work now transcended parochial limits and had become a matter of general interest. That gain cannot be surrendered. If the Commission has thus far failed to justify itself in practice, instead of condemning it, we will do well to ask ourselves the reason for its failure.

We revert again to the work of the past year. The Commission asked you for certain figures which we were empowered to ask for under the canon, and which it was your duty, under the canon, to give us. We did not ask for these figures in any idle way. They are unquestionably important. Certainly to know the facts in any situation, in so far as they can be reasonably ascertained, is the very starting point of efficient change or progress. The Commission has no desire to emphasize unduly the numerical side of Sunday School work. But if one may judge the work of the Church as in any way analogous to that of any other organized body on earth, one is justified in assuming that a common sense, mathematical definition of it from year to year is of value. And yet, when this problem, in so far as it concerns our schools, is put squarely up to you by the Commission, we get no response. We are as far from knowing the real situation today as we were a year ago.

Now why? Why should a sane request for information of real value be refused? or, if not refused, at least be substantially ignored? It can hardly be because the work of our schools is so well done that it cannot be bettered, nor that there are no children now outside our schools who could not, under a better organization and a more eager and systematic striving, be brought in. That would be a dangerous assumption. It can hardly be because such inquiries demand detailed knowledge, for that you have, or time and effort, for that is the price of any work worth doing. Then what is the explanation? One explanation undoubtedly is the comparatively low estimate put on Sunday School work. It concerns children mainly—therefore to many logical minds it is essentially childish. We all agree, in theory, that work among the young is of importance; but in practice, we seem very ready to excuse ourselves if we treat it as of decidedly minor importance. Those, for instance, who did not answer our inquiries probably, and perhaps not unnaturally, felt them to be more or less trivial and perfunctory, at least as compared with other duties. To the extent that such an estimate prevails the Commission necessarily labors under a handicap which only time can remove. The explanation, however, leaves something to be explained. There is a further condition which must be faced. We find it, I think, in the more or less wide-spread belief: first, that the Commission has no right to interfere in the work of individual parishes; second, that the Commission can render no real assistance; and third, that, if permitted to enter the situation, the Commission will only be one more source of worry and trouble to men who have worries and troubles enough of their own. Not every man believes all three. But, in a greater or less degree, pretty much everybody seems to assume either that the work of the Commission must be an interference or a nuisance, or else that it can be of no real value. Hence has grown up an attitude, a temper of mind, which simply makes it impossible for the Commission to accomplish anything. We do not mean this in a personal sense. Individually the members of the Commission have no reason to complain. But we do say that, as a body, as a Commission, our plans have received very much the sort of smiling and tolerant approval that men show toward children playing with blocks.

Now something may perhaps be said in behalf of the first reason cited,—that the Commission has no right to interfere in the work of individual parishes. But even so, how does it touch the question at issue? Each rector can shut the Commission out of his parish if he so desires. Each rector can manage his school as he, and he alone, sees fit. There is no misunderstanding here. But, surely, the mere fact that a man has the power to refuse to answer a reasonable inquiry, or to accept a suggestion or recommendation based on sound sense, is no good reason why he should do either. Whatever his rights in the premises, one may fairly assume, if he is a reasonable man, that he will act along reasonable lines, and accept or refuse requests or recommendations on their merit. Something may perhaps be said also in behalf of the third reason cited,—that once given a foothold, the Commission will make of itself a more or less intolerable nuisance. It is possible, for instance, that if, following the lead of a competent Commission, a greater interest in Sunday School work should be created in this Diocese, and the work itself gradually be done along more organic and progressive lines, a rector, if there be any such, who feels that he has sufficiently excused the existence of a weak and inefficient school by the smiling statement that he is a poor Sunday School man, might find the explanation insufficient. That is possible because, sooner or later, whether by a commission or otherwise, detailed reports of each school will be published regularly. But that is all. No one need fear that the Commission, at least, can or will disturb him otherwise than as the record of his own work disturbs him. If the Commission had power to enforce its requests or recommendations it conceivably might become an instrument of oppression. But it cannot. It has no power whatever, except in so far as it is helpful. We see no excuse, therefore, why either of these reasons can be fairly used to justify an attitude of indifference or hostility to the Commission's work.

We face the real difficulty when we examine the second reason cited, —can the Commission be of any real assistance? It is idle to discuss this matter in large phrases. Theoretically, we could probably all of us agree that an ideal Commission, working in harmony with ideal parishes, would be of service. But that, unhappily, is not our situation. What we have to determine is whether, in this Diocese, such a Commission as is likely to exist can be of any real service to the individual parishes as they are. And that question is fairly open. It certainly cannot without the willing and effective support of the parishes. That is plain. It certainly cannot unless the Commission itself is composed of competent men who are willing and eager to do its work. That is equally plain. One would seem justified, therefore, in coming to the obvious conclusion that whether or not a Sunday School Commission can be of real service in this Diocese depends, first, on the competence and willingness of the men who compose the Commission, and, second, on the effective and cordial support given to the Commission by the parishes. It seems the more strange, this being so, that no effort has as yet been made directly to satisfy those two conditions. We have simply assumed them. A competent and willing Commission can be formed in this Diocese, although its personnel should receive earnest and careful scrutiny. That is not so difficult. But how about the other condition? How may we be sure that such a Commission will enjoy the support of the parishes? Heretofore this has been assumed. It has apparently been taken for granted that any plan which a Commission might formulate would receive the eager and enthusiastic support of the parishes. But the assumption was an error. The facts disprove it. We have had three Commissions and none of them has received efficient support. Even the fact that the Commission is trying to do a sane and desirable piece of work offers no such assurance. There seems to be only one way—and that is to plan out in advance the work a Commission may think ought to be done, and to lay this before the Council, and to ask definitely if it meets with the approval of the Council. If the program so outlined receives your approval, well and good. The Commission then appointed and elected may safely proceed with it. Otherwise not.

To bring this matter to a definite focus, we venture to submit to you such a program. The Commission should, in our opinion, during the coming year, seek to accomplish two objects. It should, in the first place, endeavor to establish a statistical basis by which the work of the individual schools can be followed. This will necessitate the sending out of blanks of much the same sort as those recently mailed you, but covering the work of the year. A permanent record should then be maintained showing from year to year the potential membership of each school, its actual enrollment, its actual average attendance, and such other facts as may be deemed necessary. Each successive Commission will then have at hand the exact situation in each school in so far as this can be expressed in figures. The Commission should, second, acting on the assumption that some men possess a greater power of organization than others, and that no school is perfect, and that questions of discipline, methods, attendance, and the like, frequently arise which are difficult to answer, endeavor to furnish any Rector or Superintendent, who may care to ask, a sound answer. There is no need here to go afield. There is no need to hearken to counsels of perfection. We have, in this Diocese, half a dozen schools which can provide an answer to those questions in so far as they are reasonably capable of answer. The Commission should bring together the working forces of these schools, examine carefully each aspect of the work of each and its results, and from this comparison work out a sort of typical school organization which may serve as a useful model for every parish. That, in our opinion, should be the Commission's program. The second half of it involves only the active co-operation of the rectors and schools called for. This you will get without difficulty. Schools of that sort have reasons for what they do, and possess records, and are eager to be of service to others. The first half of it involves the active co-operation of every rector and school in the Diocese. If the members of this Council believe that these two objects are worth working out, and if they are willing to do their share of the work, the Commission can safely undertake them. If they do not believe that these two objects are worthy of accomplishment, or if they are not willing to do their share of the work, then, in common fairness, it seems to us their position should be made known and a new program planned which is acceptable. In no other way can another wasted year be avoided.

The program just given is definite. It calls for work, not only by the Commission, but by the individual parishes. It may be that, owing to defective statistics, or the hardship involved in obtaining real figures, the burden, in many instances, may prove considerable. But it is worth all it may cost. Do you realize, gentlemen, that such a record would, in large measure, have made impossible such a cumulative loss in membership as the Diocesan reports show? Twenty-five hundred loss in ten years, and no one, apparently, the wiser. Three thousand loss in seven years, and no one apparently even aware of the fact. Sixteen hundred loss shown in one year—and yet, when we ask for information by which to localize and possibly check this tendency, those of you who reply at all to our request, report in effect that in all this great Diocese, there are only 65 possible children who are not enrolled in our schools.

Depend upon it, sooner or later this work will be done. Sooner or later the modern efficient idea of working always in the light of your actual results will take possession of this field. We are dealing here with a definite problem—the religious education of all our children, not that portion of them which come to us without special or organized effort. We can make a start in the right direction or we can postpone the time. That is for the Council to decide. But there is no reason, if we are willing to make the effort, why we cannot put the schools of this Diocese on a continually higher plane of organization and efficiency. Such work demands faith and sustained effort and a definite plan. It calls to the layman quite as strongly as to the clergy. It cannot be done all at once. But it can be done, little by little, year by year, without asking too much of any of us, or too little of us all, provided only that it is carried on in the light of actual facts and figures and results. A fight of any kind is hard enough. A fight in the dark is hardest of all.

(11) Report of Standing Committee on Missions

Pursuant to resolution of the Council on May 22d, 1912, this Committee met on May 28th and directed the secretary of that meeting to prepare a report on the work of the year, which is hereby submitted as directed.

The general committee was called together at the See House for two meetings, on June 13th and November 20th, 1911.

At the first meeting, a sub-committee on the apportionment was appointed. This sub-committee met at the See House October 2d, and divided the apportionment among the parishes and missions of this Diocese. That action was reported and approved at the second meeting of the general committee.

At this second meeting, the following resolutions were adopted, namely:

“That there shall be an executive committee of not more than five members, including the Bishop, ex-officio, whose duty it shall be to meet at least as often as once in two months and to keep in the closest possible touch with missionary work throughout the Diocese.

“That the general committee be divided into sub-committees of two, each to be responsible for a certain number of parishes and missions, in the Diocese, the division into sub-committees and the assignment of parishes to be made as soon as possible by the executive committee.

“That the duty of a sub-committee of two shall be to do its best to lead all parishes on its list to meet their apportionments. In particular it shall urge the adoption of the Chicago plan; it shall learn which parishes have the every-member canvass (by a committee of men, wherever possible), and urge those who have not adopted this plan to do so at once; secure missionary speakers for meetings and make such suggestions for a parish campaign as may seem useful in each parish.”

The executive committee was duly appointed, consisting of the Bishop as chairman ex-officio, Rev. Charles H. Smith, D. D., Rev. Francis S. Lippitt, Mr. Clinton Rogers and Mr. Charles R. Wilson, secretary. Two meetings of the executive committee have been called and held, on January 9th and February 1st. Each meeting was attended by the chairman, the secretary, and the Rev. Charles H. Smith, D. D. At the first meeting, at the See House, assignment was made of parishes and missions to individual members of the general committee. At the second meeting a form of letter was approved, to be sent to members of the general committee giving them notice of their assignments.

The secretary of the executive committee, Mr. Wilson, prepared a report on May 21st, which was presented at the Council next day, setting forth alphabetically the 39 parish reports which had been received by him from members of the general committee. This report and statement from the Treasurer of the Board, dated May 1st, show the following results:

Ten parishes have already paid their apportionment:

St. Philip's, Belmont	St. Ambrose Chapel, Niagara Falls
St. Andrew's, Bradford	St. Michael's, Oakfield
St. Luke's, Branchport	Trinity, Ripley
St. Peter's Bushnell's Basin	All Saints' M., Sinclairville
Advent, Kenmore	St. Paul's, Stafford

Seventeen more parishes have paid more than half of their apportionment (eight months of the fiscal year having passed):

St. Paul's, Angelica	St. Peter's, Niagara Falls
Good Shepherd, Brant	St. Luke's, Rochester
Grace, Buffalo	St. Mark's, Rochester
Trinity, Buffalo	St. Paul's, Rochester
St. Andrew's, Caledonia	St. Thomas, Rochester
Trinity, Geneva	Incarnation, Spencerport
St. Luke's, Jamestown	St. James', Watkins
St. Mark's, LeRoy	St. Peter's, Westfield
Grace, Lockport

Two churches in the above list express doubt whether they can meet the full apportionment; but it seems reasonable to hope that all with this good start will keep their places on the honor roll.

The 37 parishes named had paid in over $5,900 by May 1st, more than sixty per cent. of all payments credited to the Diocese at that date.

Special advances or opinions reported by individual parishes are as follows:

Ascension, Buffalo, has the duplex envelope. The rector and vestry think the other features of the Chicago plan would not be helpful to the parish. It has a mission study class.

St. John's, Canandaigua, has a successful mission study class.

St. Luke's, Jamestown, reports that since adopting the plans suggested by the inspiration of the Laymen's Missionary Movement the missionary offerings have increased six-fold.

St. Pauls, Rochester, has a missionary committee of sixteen, made up of one or more representatives from every organization in the parish. It has a special missionary treasurer and in general follows the Chicago plan.

St. Andrew's, Rochester, reports a personal canvass last year, raising full apportionment for first time in history. Planning a second canvass. Duplex envelope will be used permanently.

St. Thomas', Rochester, has a missionary treasurer and satisfactory results from duplex envelope. Rector "thinks the missionary spirit is growing with us" and expects to pay full apportionment, which has been trebled since last year.

One parish, nameless for this year, reports "entire absence of missionary interest," and five others are frankly pessimistic. None of these even claims that it has tried to do anything.

The foregoing statement summarizes work and results during the past year. Nothing more has been authorized to be included herein.

Respectfully submitted, by order of the Committee on Missions,

HENRY ADSIT BULL,

Secretary pro tem of meeting, May 28.

X. If a question in debate contains distinct propositions, one or more, they may be separated at the call of any member into so many several motions.

XI. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received, except (1) to lay the motion on the table, (2) to postpone it indefinitely, (3) to postpone it to a certain time, (4) to commit it, or (5) to amend; and motions for these purposes shall have precedence in the order thus named.

XII. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, when no member is speaking, and shall be decided without debate; and if it be negatived, it shall not be renewed until other business has been treated in due order.

XIII. A motion to lay on the table shall be decided without debate.

A question, being put by the President, shall be determined by the sound of voices; but any member may require a count of the vote; or previous to a decision by count, any three members may require the yeas and nays to be taken, which shall be done by calling the names of the Clerical members, and the names of the Churches and Missions represented; and the vote shall be recorded in the Journal. Or the yeas and nays may be taken by order on the call of any five members, and when so taken the vote shall be recorded in like manner.

XV. No member except the mover may speak more than twice on the same question without leave of the House.

XVI. A question once decided, shall not be reconsidered during the same session without the consent of two-thirds of the votes of the Council, nor without the motion for that purpose being made by one of the majority on said decision. No question shall be reconsidered more than once.

XVII. Special Committees not otherwise provided for shall be appointed by the Chair.

XVIII. Except by the votes of two-thirds of the persons present entitled to vote, no standing rule or order shall be suspended, changed or rescinded.

XIX. Before the final adjournment of any session of the Council, the minutes of the last day's proceedings shall be read, corrected and approved.

XX. Parishes and Missions of the Diocese of Western New York

In Respect to their Organization and relationship to the Diocesan Council

(The following list of parishes and missions, with the dates of organization and admission into union with the Council of the Diocese, is based upon a list published in the Journal of 1865 by the Secretary of that year, and upon records examined by the present Secretary in the Journals of succeeding years. It is here set forth after most careful search of the pages of the Journals, and with the request that where information is lacking, or the lists are at fault, the clergy and laymen of the Diocese will assist in making the lists complete and correct.

Perhaps it will not be amiss to quote in this place from a note at the head of the lists of 1865, written by the Secretary of that time. "The dates of incorporation and admission of the older Parishes in the following list, though sought out with great care, are quite imperfect. No record is found in the Journals of the admission of.....St. Mark's, Le Roy; St. Luke's, Rochester; Zion, Avon; (the three last organized in 1817, and admitted, probably, in 1818), nor even of Grace, Lyons, reorganized in 1838." The request was then made, as it is now, that "Corrections and additions which may be obtained from Parish Records" be forwarded to the Secretary, to aid in preparing more perfect lists for future Journals.)

The Rev. Dr. North presented the following resolution, which, on motion, was made the order of the day to-morrow at ten o'clock.

Whereas, In his address to the Council of his Diocese in the year 1887, Bishop Arthur Cleveland Coxe, in reviewing the Acts of the General Convention of 1886, says:

"As you are aware, there was a proposal to change the civil name which, with meek respect to our equal laws a hundred years ago, this Church accepted; previously it was known as 'the Church of England' in the American Colonies. Now it is justly objected that this name is neither historic nor descriptive; it seems to conflict with the language of the Creed, though it does not in fact; it conveys wrong impressions to foreign Churches and peoples, among whom 'Protestant' is a word covering ideas to which every page of the Prayer Book is opposed; and it deprives us of the use of the Prayer Book as a tract, just where it is most likely to be useful. Thousands of our foreign population would gladly accept it, and study it, but the word 'Protestant' on the title page (where, by the way, it is unauthorized by the Act of Ratification) is a bugbear, which leads them to throw it down, unexamined. In our prisons and hospitals this is artfully made to operate against us. It is said, 'You see, it is a Protestant book, don't look at it.' All this is urged, I admit, very forcibly against the feeble title 'Protestant Episcopal.' I call it feeble because a protest is the last resource of an unsuccessful cause. Men enter a protest when they give up a case they are not able to maintain. Also, because it has 'lost its savour,' if ever it had 'salt in itself.' In our days 'Protestant' means nothing in particular. In Europe it means, too commonly, one who protests against the Bible itself. In America it describes great masses of indifferent people, who have not spirit enough to protest against anything.

"Notwithstanding, I have earnestly objected to the proposed change of name as singularly inopportune. We should wait for some event which might be recognized as Providentially calling for such a revise, and even as forcing it upon us. When this shall come about, by the mighty power of the Holy Ghost, it will be time enough, in my opinion, to discuss the proper name for our enlarged Catholic Communion."

In his "Institute of Christian History" he speaks of "the constructive forces of the American Church." Bishop Coxe says, "Our unfortunate civil name has bred discussions which seem to me sufficient of themselves to settle the point, practically for the present. Let nothing be done without harmony and virtual unanimity. This Church evidently understands the fact that a local designation adopted for local convenience can no more alter the Catholic essence of a Catholic and Apostolic Church, than human enactments can change the nature of a man by giving him a name in law which he accepts in consideration of supposed privileges or suggestions of expediency."

"God in His Providence seems to be teaching us not to be impatient, but to bide our time in the interests of the American people and of the American Church, as 'In quietness and confidence shall be our strength.'

Therefore, be it resolved, That this Diocesan Council call attention to the words of our great Bishop, and believing the events of the present day "to be such a Providential calling to a revise of the name of the Church and even as forcing it upon us," recommend a change from Protestant Episcopal Church to the American Church, so that the title page of the Prayer Book shall read:

THE BOOK OF COMMON PRAYER

And Administration of the Sacraments and Other Rites and Ceremonies of the Church.

ACCORDING TO THE USE OF THE AMERICAN CHURCH
IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
TOGETHER WITH
The Psalter or Psalms of David

The Rev. Mr. Goodwin, appointed with Hon. S. S. Brown by the Standing Committee for the purpose, presented the following resolution, prepared by the Standing Committee:

Resolved, That three hundred dollars be appropriated annually from the fund for Diocesan Expense to defray the traveling expenses of the Bishop while discharging his Diocesan duties.

The Bishop retired from the chair, summoning the Rev. Dr. North to occupy it during the consideration of the resolution.

On motion, the resolution was adopted.

The Bishop, on resuming the chair, expressed his hearty appreciation and thanks to the Council.

The Rev. Dr. Jessup offered the following resolution, which, on motion, was referred to the Standing Committee on Constitution and Canons:

Resolved, That Title III., Paragraph III., Section 2, of the Constitution, be amended to read as follows:

Second. Each church shall be entitled to one Lay Delegate and one additional Lay Delegate for every three hundred (300) confirmed persons whose names are enrolled in the Parish Register; provided, that such Lay Delegates have been duly chosen by the vestry or congregation of the church. But no Lay Delegate," (etc., as it stands).

Resolved, That Title IX., Section 1, of the Constitution be amended by striking out all that follows immediately after the words, "entitled to a vote," and inserting therein the words, "and each Lay Delegate shall be entitled to one vote."

Mr. Harlow Curtiss offered the following motion, which was unanimously carried:

Moved, That the Chancellor of the Diocese, or such other legal officer thereof as shall be proper, be directed to obtain a judicial ruling or decree in the matter of the estate of Naomi Clark Van Bokkelen, judicially interpreting said will, as to what is the relation of the Trustees of the Christmas Fund and that of the Bishop of the Diocese to said Thomas Clark Fund.

Judge McLouth moved that the motion offered by Mr. Curtiss be rescinded. By vote, the motion to rescind was laid on the table.

The Rev. Dr. Converse, on behalf of the Trustees and faculty of William Smith College, extended an invitation to the members of the Council to visit the college.

The Council, on taking a recess, held a service of commemoration at the grave of the second Bishop of the Diocese, the Rt. Rev. Arthur Cleveland Coxe, D. D.; D. C. L., the Rev. C. H. Smith, D. D., and the Rev. W. North, L. H. D., leading with the Creed and prayers, and Bishop Walker making a brief address and giving the benediction.

Tuesday, 7:30 P. M.

Evening Prayer was said by the Bishop, assisted by the Rev. C. M. Sills, D. D.; the Rev. J. B. Hubbs, D. D.; the Rev. C. J. Davis and the Rev. C. C. Goye.

The Bishop read his Annual Address.

St. Peter's Church, Geneva, N. Y., May 21, 1913.

Wednesday, 9:00 A. M.

The Holy Communion was celebrated by the Bishop, assisted by the Rev. J. B. Hubbs, D. D.

After the service of Holy Communion the Council visited the grave of the first Bishop of the Diocese, the Rt. Rev. William H. de Lancey, D. D., where a service of commemoration, similar to that at the tomb of Bishop Coxe, was held.

Trinity Church, Geneva, N. Y., May 21, 1913.

Wednesday, 10:45 A. M.

The Bishop called the Council to order for the transaction of business.

The minutes of yesterday's proceedings were read and adopted.

The Rev. Dr. Ashton made the following statement:

On the last page of the Journal of last year your minute contains your resolution unanimously adopted by a rising vote and expressive of the warm greeting of the Council to myself and assuring me of their prayers on account of an illness that had obliged me, after many weeks of suffering, to go into Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore. At the time of my reception of your telegram, a year ago, I was awaiting the uncertain outcome of the serious operation. From that I am now recovering. It takes, I am told, at least a year to survive the shock of such an invasion of the human anatomy. My vestry kindly granted me from last October a year's leave of absence from parish work. I have returned before the expiration of the time set and am at my post unexpectedly.

I wish to say that your message communicated by the Secretary was received with feelings of deepest gratitude and thankfulness. I cannot convey to you any impression of the effect it had upon me, warming my soul and inspiring me with fresh courage and hope. I dictated an answer to the Secretary, which, of course, the Council could not receive in session. I wish to thank you now for your remembrance and your prayers, which I believe were answered. I have learned a lesson of love for my brethren and faith in God that could never be forgotten. I thank you for your cordial greetings at this Council. I have accepted a nomination as Deputy to the General Convention, because of the thought that, if you choose to send me, I should try to serve you. There is important business that I was appointed with others of the two houses to attend to and for three years we have been devoted to that work. If the General Convention should determine that the work should continue, I would be pleased to continue my connection with the work. I do not say this to solicit votes, but to explain my permission to have my name on the ballot. Should I be elected and not able to attend, which event however I do not anticipate, a Provisional Deputy would go in my stead.

The importance of these personal mentions at this time justifies my making them as a matter of privilege and of my writing them because I could not trust myself to use the right words in an offhand statement. I thank you for your attention.

The Bishop presented the request of the Rev. T. A. Parnell, D. D., to be appointed a beneficiary of the Retiring Allowance Fund, explaining certain particulars in which Dr. Parnell's case might not seem to comply literally with the provisions of the Canon and asking the will of the Council in the matter. On motion, the request of Dr. Parnell was unanimously granted.

The Council proceeded to the election of officers.

The Bishop appointed as tellers for the—

Clerical Votes, The Rev. H. F. Zwicker, G. H. Andrews.

Lay Votes, The Rev. W. S. Barrows, T. W. Shannon.

The Council having balloted, the polls were declared closed.

On motion, a memorial of the Association of Chaplains of the Military and Naval Forces of the United States was referred to a special committee to be appointed by the Bishop.

The Rev. Dr. North presented a continuation of the report of the Standing Committee of the Diocese:

REPORT

Of a plan for the management of the Sustentation Fund.

Pursuant to Section III of the Resolutions adopted by the Council of 1911 in regard to a Sustentation Fund, printed on page 46 of the Journal for that year, and the resolution adopted by the Council of 1912 regarding an assessment for this purpose, printed on page 37 of the Journal of 1912, the Standing Committee assessed the parishes of the Diocese one per cent (1%) upon "Salaries and Expenses" to create this fund, no penalty, however, being attached to its non-payment.

In response, the sum of $1,021.95 has been paid in from 51 parishes. Recognizing the difficulties involved in the distribution of this money, the Standing Committee wishes to propose for the consideration and advice of the Council the following resolution:

Resolved, That Title I of the Canons of this Diocese be amended by the addition of a canon as follows:

CANON XVI. OF THE SUSTENTATION FUND.

Section 1. The Standing Committee shall during each and every year levy an assessment upon the parishes within this Diocese for such an amount as shall in the judgment of the Committee be required to bring up, where necessary, the salaries paid to their Rectors by churechs at present in union with this Council to the standard prescribed in Title I, Canon II, Section 6, subsection 5. Such assessment shall be made upon the amount contributed for current expenses as reported by the parishes, and appearing in the Journals. The Standing Committee shall notify each parish of the amount due therefrom under such assessment. And it shall be the duty of every parish to pay the amount thereof to the Treasurer of the Diocese on or before the first day of April in each year; and the Treasurer of the Diocese shall on the second day of the Annual Council report to the Council all parishes which have failed to pay such assessment.

Section 2. There shall be elected at each Annual Council a committee of one clergyman and one layman, who, with the Bishop of the Diocese, ex-officio, shall constitute and be known as the Committee on Sustentation Fund and shall hold office for one year.

(1) The Treasurer of the Diocese shall report to this Committee at the close of each Council the amount of the money received by him during the preceding year from the parishes for the purposes of the Sustentation Fund; the names of parishes which have contributed and the amount contributed by each.

(2) The committee shall meet within three weeks after the close of the Council and shall from the aforesaid report of the Treasurer of the Diocese, and from the parochial reports for the preceding year then in the hands of the Bishop, make an eligible list consisting of rectors—

(a) Whose parishes have paid in full the assessments of the preceding year for the Support of the Episcopate, for Diocesan Expenses, and for the Sustentation Fund; and

(b) The amounts of whose salaries as pledged by their parishes are below the standard provided for in Title I, Canon II, Section 6, subsection 5; and

(c) Whose parishes in the judgment of the committee pledge as large a salary as is consistent with their ability.

(3) The committee shall then apportion the amount of money in Sustentation Fund, or such portion of it as seems expedient to the committee, pro rata to the rectors whose names are on the eligible list; provided, that in no case shall the amount apportioned to any one rector be enough to raise his salary above the standard set by the Canons of the Diocese. And the committee shall notify each rector upon the eligible list of the amount apportioned. Objections, or requests for admission to the eligible list must be filed with the committee within two weeks after such notifications have been sent, and the committee shall in every case consider such objections and requests and be the judge in such objections and requests.

(4) At the end of two weeks after the aforesaid notifications have been sent, the committee shall send by mail to each rector upon the eligible list a draft upon the Treasurer of the Diocese for the sum apportioned to him, and the Treasurer of the Diocese shall pay such drafts from the Sustentation Fund in his hands.

Section 3. The committee shall within three weeks after the close of each Annual Council report to the Standing Committee the amount which in their judgment should form the basis of assessment for the current year."

Mr. H. A. Bull presented the following, which, on motion, was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Standing Committee, in making its report of arrearages to be printed in the Journal, be requested to state the amounts and dates of unpaid assessments, with the purpose of the said assessments.

The Rev. C. J. Davis presented the following, which, on motion, was adopted:

Resolved, That that portion of the report of the Standing Committee which embodies a resolution to amend the Canons be referred to the Committee on Constitution and Canons with a request that the committee report the same to the Council at two o'clock this afternoon.

On motion of Dr. Sills, the following proposed amendment to the Constitution was referred to the Standing Committee on Constitution and Canons:

Amendment to Title III, Section 3, subsection 2, of the Constitution.

No Delegate from a Parish or Mission shall be allowed to vote in the Council unless the Parish or Mission which he represents shall have paid all assessments levied upon it; not to vote in the election of any of the important officials of the Diocese unless all such assessments levied the three preceding Council years shall have been paid.

The important officials of the Diocese shall be the Bishop, the Standing Committee of the Diocese and Deputies to the General Convention.

The time having arrived for the consideration of the resolution presented yesterday by the Rev. Dr. North (respecting a change of the name of the Church), after a lengthy discussion, the whole matter was, on motion, laid on the table.

The Council took a recess until 2:15 P. M.

Wednesday, 2:30 P. M.

The Bishop called the Council to order.

The Standing Committee on Constitution and Canons made the following report as to Dr. Jessup's proposed amendment to Title III, Paragraph III, Section 2, and Title IX, Section 1, of the Constitution:

The committee are unanimous in reporting adversely upon these proposed amendments for proportionate representation.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES W. ASHTON, Chairman.

On motion, the above report was received and laid upon the table.

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Council be instructed, the Bishop consenting, to prepare and have printed for the next Annual Council of the Diocese a revised form for Parochial Reports.

Resolved, That there be included in the revised form the following explanations and additions which have been approved by the Bishop of the Diocese:

1. By "Families or parts of families" is intended the number of calling places.
2. By "Communicants, present number" is intended all Confirmed persons enrolled upon the parish list.
3. By "Total number of souls" is intended the total number of individuals connected with the parish or the parish organizations.
4. By "Sunday School Officers," "Teachers," and "Pupils" is intended the number of each enrolled on the Sunday School Register April 30.
5. By "Number of Sittings in Church" is intended the seating capacity of the church.
6. By "Number of Rented Sittings" is intended the number actually rented together with those offered for rent.

7. Give actual number under each item of Sittings, as in all other cases.

8. "All Other Sources," in Receipts, includes amount raised by parish societies.

9. To the note at the bottom of first page of Financial Statement add the words, of the Church and of the Parish House, whether paid directly through the Parish Treasurer or by income from Endowment, or indirectly through Individuals or Parish Societies.

10. Insert after "For Assessment for Diocesan Expense" the item, For Assessment for Sustentation Fund.

11. The Parochial Report is not a balance sheet.

12. The Parochial Report is arranged in conformity with the requirements of the General and Diocesan Canons. In order that accuracy and uniformity in tabulation may be secured, it is urgently requested that the headings indicated be strictly and exclusively adhered to in filling out the report. All offerings from the parish should be included in the report under the headings provided. Special mention of offerings and other items of general interest may be made under the head of Remarks.

Resolved: That this Annual Council memorialize the General Convention to prescribe a uniform Parochial Report blank to be used in all Dioceses, and to define thereon the terms used so far as may be necessary to a clear understanding of them.

Resolved: That this committee be continued and authorized to prepare, for collecting and preserving parochial statistics, a record card for a filing system, on which shall be included all items of information asked for on Parochial Report form under the head of vital "statistics," and such other information as shall be deemed necessary.

Resolved: That there be appended to the Certificate of Lay Delegates the note: The Canons make no provision for representation in the Diocesan Council by Alternate Lay Delegates.

The Standing Committee on the Admission of Churches made the following report, which, on motion, was received and its recommendation adopted:

JAMES W. ASHTON, Chairman.

On motion, the above report, with its recommendations, was adopted.

The Rev. C. J. Davis presented the following report for the Standing Committee on General Missions. On motion, the report was accepted.

REPORT.

The Standing Committee on Missions, of the Diocese of Western New York, presents to the Diocesan Council of 1913 the following report:

The whole committee has held two meetings since the last Council—on September 20th 1912, and on April 29th, 1913; the Executive Committee held a meeting on April 29th, 1913: the Sub-Committee on Apportionment has met once—on November 6th, 1912.

Resolutions were passed on November 6th, thanking the Woman's Auxiliary for their great assistance in contributing more than $2,000.00 last year to the Diocesan Apportionment, and expressing the hope that the committee might have the same co-operation this year.

The committee noted with gratitude the meeting of the Missionary Council in Buffalo last October. It was successful not only in devising plans but in the inspiration which it gave to all who came into touch with it.

By resolution, on September 20th, 1912, a letter was sent by each member of the committee to the parishes assigned him requesting answers to the following questions:

1. Have you used and are you using the duplex envelope for offerings? If you have given up their use, why?
2. Have you had an "every-member-canvass"?
3. Have you a Missionary Committee of men or women or both?
4. Have the duplex envelope and missionary committee increased your offerings for missions?
5. What effect have they had upon your offerings for parish expenses and Diocesan Missions? Please specify amounts.

Replies to this letter from thirty-three parishes have been received, and of these, twenty are using the duplex envelopes; 17 have had an "every-member-canvass"; 8 have a Missionary Committee; and all who are using the duplex envelope report increased missionary offerings. Fourteen report an increase also in offerings for parish expenses and Diocesan Missions, while none reports any decrease in these offerings because of the duplex envelope.

The method adopted by the committee last year of assigning to each member certain parishes in order that in each case he may confer with and help the Rector, if desired, in raising the parochial apportionment, has been followed this year, and reports show that in many cases this plan has proved fruitful.

The Sub-Committee on Apportionment, in making the apportionments, again divided the parishes into seven groups, according to their reports on "Salaries and Expenses," in the last Journal and assigned a percentage to each group, these percentages varying from 10.6% to 14.9%.

On April 1st, it was reported that five parishes in the Diocese had met the present year's apportionment, and the total offerings were about $2,200.00 greater than at the same time last year.

The fact that two years ago the Diocese was only $1,500.00 short in meeting the whole apportionment encourages the committee to believe that the whole sum can be paid. It was therefore determined that if on June 1st, it seems probable that we shall fall short not more than $2,000.00 that the committee come together and devise a plan of raising this amount and so put the Diocese on the honor roll before September 1st.

In view of the reports of parishes who are using the "duplex envelope" that it results invariably in increased offerings for missions as well as for other objects, the committee wishes again to urge the adoption of this system—urging that in "Missions" be included not only "General" but also "Diocesan" Missions, and also that in every case where it is possible the introduction of the system be preceded by an "every-member-canvass." The unanimous experience of those who have tried it proves that while the system will not work itself, it will make the efforts of a Rector and Vestry abundantly fruitful.

In conclusion, the Committee makes a most earnest plea to every Rector in the Diocese to do his utmost for the apportionment. There is no reason why the Diocese cannot raise the amount asked of it, if every parish will but do its best.

Given a proved plan such as that suggested, and personal effort, and God will give the increase.

The tellers made their report on the third ballot and the following were found to have been elected by a concurrent vote:

For Deputies to the General Convention: The Rev. C. M. Sills, D. D., the Rev. J. W. Ashton, D. D.

They were declared duly elected.

On motion, the Secretary was instructed to cast one ballot for the Clergyman and Layman who, failing of election as Deputies to the General Convention, had received the highest aggregate vote for that office. Also a similar ballot for the one receiving the highest aggregate vote for Trustee of the Christmas Fund. The ballot being cast, the Rev. C. H. Smith, D. D., and Mr. R. A. Sibley were declared duly elected Deputies to the General Convention, and Mr. W. B. Farnham a duly elected Trustee of the Christmas Fund.

On motion of Mr. Sloan, seconded by Judge McLouth, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved: That the Trustees of the Christmas Fund are respectfully requested to present to the Council at its next annual meeting a detailed statement of the transactions of the Thomas Clarke Fund.

Nominations for Provisional Deputies to the General Convention were made as follows: The Rev. J. B. Hubbs, D. D., the Rev. C. J. Davis, the Rev. Pierre Cushing, the Rev. D. L. Ferris, the Rev. P. W. Mosher, the Rev. J. B. Thomas, Ph. D., the Rev. J. C. Ward, Messrs. Lewis Keyes, H. B. Graves, H. A. Bull, Judge C. McLouth, J. M. Prophet.

The Rev. Walter North, L. H. D., declined nomination.

The Council proceeded to ballot for Provisional Deputies. The ballots being cast, the polls were declared closed.

The Rev. N. W. Stanton presented the following report of the Special Committee on Text Books and Class Room Instruction in Public Schools. On motion, the report was received and its request granted.

APPENDIX I.

(A)

Bishop's Annual Address

Reverend Brethren, and Brethren of the Laity:

In the name of the Adorable Trinity, Father, Son and Holy Ghost—the one God of our worship and of our love, I greet you and welcome you.

I have asked you to come this year to this attractive city—with its honorable record in the Church—for three distinct reasons:

The Original See City

First—Geneva was the original See city of the greater Western New York—the Diocese which embodied our neighbor on the East, as well as our own. Many venerable and sacred associations that linked themselves to the fresh life of a young diocese had their birth and being here. The first journals tell us of men and methods adopted here for the Church's work that inured to its health and happiness throughout the land. It was a centre of loyalty to our Master from the beginning. The Church was precious in the eyes of the community, when in other parts of the country it had dubious devotion from its children. Here there was ever strong rallying around the flag—and that flag was the uplifted banner of God's holy Church. The leaders were loyal men. The Bishop saw in the Church the Divine Institution—the Saviour's Body—the family of Christ which He loved as His own flesh and for which He gave himself. That was the atmosphere of this place. Call it "High Church," if you please; but I call it the reverential allegiance of true sons to a Mother. God grant that such a loyalty—and no less—may permeate this city, yea this whole diocese, on and on, without waver or decay or blur to the end of time.

Sacred Associations

Second—A second reason I have for inviting you to Geneva is that the two great Bishops who, in the past, presided over the Diocese lie at rest, near or within one or the other of the two beautiful temples of God which glorify this place. Here they sleep having left behind them the fragrance of the "good name which is better than rubies."

As we stand at the sepulchre side of each tomorrow shall we not remember with a veneration gratitude their holy lives, their consecrated service, their unwavering devotion to the Faith, their advocacy of the Church, their full surrender to it—and not to modern systems bearing the name of Christ but really inimical to Him.

Shall not those two tombs speak to us of God's Holy Ministry, yours and mine—a heritage from the beginning—the very heart and symbol and hope of and for religion, in this wandering and unruly world. It will be a sacred pilgrimage indeed, if new honor and reverence be stirred for this Holy Ministry—this divine office of which we are partakers—if a zealous and unfaltering defence of our sacred gift in its claims and in its power be maintained for His glory who gave—and against the gainsayers of that truth. We need it in this loose-jointed, hazy and unsettled day.

Hobart College

Third—A third reason for my invitation to the council to assemble here is that Hobart College stands within a stone's throw of yonder altar, bearing the name of a great Bishop and for years giving to earnest youths this Church's nurture and bathing them in its healthy, religious life. I would win for that, now venerable and learned, institution your honor, your help and your hearts. I recognize that for a few years past there has been grave questioning among the clergy and others as to the status of the institution with respect to the Church. The Living Church Annual of this year contains the following:

First—In capitals these words occur “Non-sectarian colleges having some Churchly character.”

Second—Under this heading I find this declaration: “The following colleges, formerly recognized as Church institutions are now classified, in the official reports of the U. S. Commissioner of Education as non-sectarian. Each is however under the presidency of a clergyman of the Church, and has the services of the Book of Common Prayer in its chapels.” Then follow the names of these institutions of learning, viz.:

1. Hobart College, Geneva, N. Y.
2. Trinity College, Hartford, Ct.

This statement is, in a sense, misleading. It is a truth that, by its original charter—as “Geneva College”—which charter is operative today—professors or students are not to be subjected to any sectarian or theological tests for admission to Hobart, yet its atmosphere religiously for a long series of years has been that of the Episcopal Church. It began life as a weak institution, with meagre advantages and little, if any, endowment, taking the title of Geneva College. It had much of struggle and poverty in those early years. The community was loyal to it, and worked earnestly in its behalf. But a college is a costly luxury for a town of moderate size. The day came when I think I may truly say, that as a purely secular institution, it was nearly moribund. Then Churchmen throughout Western New York became generously interested in its welfare and its work. The attention of Trinity Church, New York, was turned to it and it made some liberal gifts. The name was changed to that of New York’s great Bishop. It stands today an institution capable of furnishing a finished education in all branches of learning to the diligent student. In the ancient and modern languages, in Philosophy, in Science, in Mathematics, in Literature in Biology, in Chemistry and Astronomy and the nicer studies of a polite learning the seeker after an intellectual training and a well-equipped manhood will find satisfaction and scholarship.

It is ranked as a "smaller college." That is not to its demerit, but to its praise. The closer relationship to professor and alma mater which such an institution brings to the stalwart and sincere and studious youth is of immeasurable value. The loneliness of the monster university for many an inconspicuous young man abiding within its courts is heart-sickening. There are solitudes more dreary than that of the forest glen, or the boundless Sahara. They are to be found within the halls of some of our teeming and massive institutions of learning. The less extensive college, by its very smallness knits men together. Brotherhood, fellowship, manly friendship is born in it. It is a family bond that ties. It is a household and a human fireside. But the merit of the smaller college I need not expatiate upon here. My purpose is to endeavor to renew the old affection of some whose sympathy for and interest in Hobart, has faded, seemingly. I would sweep away the cloud that obscured her former fame and name. She has not "forsaken the guide of her youth," as some have declared, nor turned her back on the Christian religion as some have cruelly announced. Her trustees recently gave announcement to the world that her aim was to stand before the world as a Christian institution and to show allegiance to the Church from whose hands so many gracious gifts have come. Their idea is that such an institution should aim at the culture of the whole man—not mind alone; but body and soul too. And so her chapel has not closed its doors, and her prayers and praise are offered up unchanged, as of yore. And the word has been preached by her chaplains and by other reverend brethren of the Church. And her altar has been glorified continually by the feast of love spread there. No! "Carnegie foundations" have not banished worship nor the priest's ministering care of his flock from venerable Hobart. She is a handmaid of the Church still—and will be, in coming days, with warmer devotion and a higher love. And why should she not be thus loyal and true? Would you hear the long tale of benefaction from the hands of Church people to Hobart College?

1. When it took its new name and became "Hobart Free College" the Corporation of Trinity Church, New York, endowed it with a large sum of money.

2. The chapel was built and the chaplaincy was endowed and the chaplain's house reared through the gifts of a Churchman and a Churchwoman—my personal friends of years.

3. About seventy scholarships have been endowed by Church people.

4. The splendid Library Building was erected, if not entirely, at least largely, through the generosity of one woman, an honored communicant of this Diocese.

5. Bishop Coxe Hall was the gift of Churchmen of Western New York, and other friends of the Bishop.

6. Medbury Hall was a communicant's offering.

7. A bequest of $30,000 came to us on the death of a faithful member of the Church in Buffalo.

8. Trinity Church, New York, makes an annual gift of $3,000.00 to the college, on the condition that its President shall be a clergyman of the Church.

9. The "Society for the Promotion of Religion and Learning of the State of New York," a Church Foundation, contributes generously each year for the support of the college.

10. Groups of the Alumni, nearly all, if not the entire number, Churchmen, have contributed annually for its sustenance thousands of dollars.

11. I must add to the above list two bequests of $5,000 each, by two generous communicants of this Diocese, who filled high places in its official life.

I have not recited here all the generous doings of those who are linked to us in the ties of our "Brotherhood" for this college. It lives because they lived and gave of their substance for Christian education after the pattern and in conformity to the ideals of this Church.

But in addition, its Church characteristics are manifested in that the President must be a clergyman of this Church; the chaplain also. The Bishop of Western New York is ex-officio, a member of the Board of Trustees, and he nominates the chaplain of the institution. Its Board of Trustees are nearly all either clergymen or laymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church. It breathes and does its fine large work for the youth of our country because largely fed and fostered by Mother Church's hand. I have thus enlarged on this theme because I would vindicate the alma mater of many of you and ask service and sympathy from you, my brethren, all, for Hobart.

Necrological

At this stage of my address, I have been accustomed to refer to those, who—faithful in duty here while the Master willed—"do now rest from their labors."

I. Rt. Rev. T. A. Jaggar, D. D.

Two of our Fathers-in-God have gone forth from our midst during the year past. One was my friend and classmate in the General Theological Seminary. We sat in adjoining chairs in the classrooms. I speak of Right Rev. Thomas A. Jaggar, D. D., for many years Bishop of Southern Ohio—its first Diocesan. His peculiar charm was his rich power in preaching. As the successor of Bishop Brooks in one of his parishes he was eminently acceptable to the people, and successful too in general administration. A long period of ill-health separated him from active work, to his great sorrow. In retirement, he gradually recovered strength. In the meantime, however, he resigned the charge of his Diocese, and that resignation was accepted by the House of Bishops, with much regret.

By the Providence of God the power of work, as a Bishop, came back, and in many ways he was able to perform the functions of his office. Here he assisted a Right Reverend brother temporarily disabled, and there he assumed the charge of a parish, rectorless—or filled the gap in days of necessity. Finally he was appointed by the Presiding Bishop—his classmate and mine—Bishop of the Chapels on the continent of Europe. Deeply interested in, and faithfully performing this work, he died. In the days when the Church was stirred by conflict between Churchmen and those who espoused the theories of what was called the “evangelical school,” within our borders, he was aggressive in defense of the ecclesiastical views of that party. There were long, sharp conflicts in those days, thirty and forty years ago, and men were arrayed earnestly on one side or the other anxious to secure victory for the causes they respectively espoused. It was not a mere battle of words in those days, nor a mere question of names. The issue was, should the honor of a mother be loyally maintained and vindicated or should it not? Should her claim to certain authority and her unsullied name be defended? This meant more than war for title or prerogative or territory. It meant contention for historical fact and the divine birthright of Christ’s holy bride and for validity of the ministry and its exclusive claims as against amiable surrender and unauthorized compromise with other Protestant claimants. Passions were aroused and battle-cries were stout and the standard was kept aloft and the mother’s stainless honor was vindicated. The men of this generation know little of that anxious war. If they turned their eyes back along the vistas of that historic age they would withhold the hand from the projected compromises of the time—eccentric movements, inter-church compacts and—I had almost said—Faith and Order Conferences. Am I mistaken in my belief that the old watchwords and the fierce battle-cries of yore, are to resound again and that peace will cease for a time in God’s Church. My prayer is that the tocsin of war may not be sounded. But if the Church-press be a true barometer of the Church's temper, then we cannot "dwell together as brethren" until this seeming impending "storm be over-past."

But to close my tribute to my Right Reverend brother's memory. It can be warmly said of him that he taught with zeal the truth of salvation in Christ Jesus—of redemption that came by the cross—of the wonderful incarnation—of continued life in the redeemed through the Holy Ghost—the Evangelic truth of the Gospel. New thought or lax doctrine or broad interpretations which mean denial and disloyalty to Christ had no place in his believing or his teaching. He was the stout Evangelical—to use the party title—ripe a half century ago, who loved the Lord Jesus.

II. Rt. Rev. W. C. Doane, D. D.

We all recognize in him one who was a power in this Church, for many years. He was the prelate,—eloquent, persuasive, genial, sympathetic and consecrated. I have seen him again and again, here and in the Lambeth Conference, holding hosts spellbound as he discoursed brilliantly on some great topic of which the Church was thinking, and for which it was working. In the early days of his episcopate, opposition that was strong met him; but in many instances he, finally, through work and worth, overcame antagonism. He lived beyond the four-score years. His memory among men will be that of one who toiled through long years for the Master's Kingdom, with an intense devotion. I have not attempted to dwell long upon his biography or his achievements. They are well-known. You are familiar with them through the press of the last few days. He is asleep after the workman's long labor.

Of our own Diocesan family two have departed this life. 1. Rev. William Andrew Sterling. He was of us, for more than a dozen years, serving our Master earnestly in St. John's Church, Mount Morris,—which was his sole charge in this Diocese. He was a man of cheerful, patient spirit, although a sufferer for many years. My sympathy went out toward him, as I beheld him many a time staggering under his burden—which, however, was lightened greatly by a sympathetic and helpful people—a Congregation memorable for its thorough loyalty to its pastor. He honored his Church and loved his office and never lowered its dignity by concessions of truth or authority, or by affiliations with bodies, or men, that taught another Gospel. He was a priest of the Church of God,—and he claimed to be so, without arrogance or pride. But this honor he could not concede to another who was not of the Apostolic lineage. Character and sanctity in such, of course, he recognized, but identity of authority or of the Divine sanction, or of mission, never. There are three orders of the ministry, divinely ordained, transmitted down the ages from Apostles' hands, possessing power, of which no modern sixteenth century system has proprietorship—these have the King's authority as His ambassadors—that was His conviction and His message. And so he was a Churchman, antagonistic with a holy zeal to excess of ritualist in ceremony and doctrine, and to defect of the evangelical in worship or dogma. And so, to the end he was a loving, learned, loyal son of our Mother, the Church.

2. Another of our reverend brethren went forth from our midst during the twelve-month just past. He was one of our own sons and had relationship to the city where our sessions are now being held, both as an alumnus of Hobart College and as its Chaplain at the time when the Father called him to His eternal home. All recognize the genial and reverent and sincere personality of Rev. G. Grey Ballard, Jr. He first worked in the Diocese, and then labored outside of it. And he came, at last, home to give sunshine in his Alma Mater, to win young hearts to nobler ideals of living, and to tell the story of hope and the cross to youths stepping forth on the threshold of life. His life of leadership lasted but a few years; but his labor in it was real and loyal. Many here have honoring and happy memory of him. Our joy is that the Father giveth His beloved sleep.

The General Convention

Our great Council of this dear Church is soon to gather in New York. Naturally we are interested in the possible legislation of that body. To forecast in the matter would be unwise and so while I desire to refer to one or two subjects which may be under discussion, I would not presume to predict results.

Divorce and Remarriage

I. One of these, however, is of such moral importance that, in my opinion, it should not be passed by.

It is that old theme on which you have heard determined words from me so often, ex-cathedra. It is the topic of divorce and remarriage. You and I cannot pretend to keep abreast of the current concerns of the day without recognizing that this hideous and leprous evil is vastly on the increase. It is a veritable epidemic in our fair land, tainting everywhere—on the prairies, in the mountains, by the seaside, in teeming cities—wheresoever man abides, within our borders. The records of the bureaus in the Capital of the nation demonstrated five years ago that every twelfth marriage solemnized in the United States was severed in a Divorce Court sooner or later. Let me briefly read you the statistics on the subject that are of official record. In the twenty year period, from 1887 to 1906, the number of marriages dissolved was 945,625, while from 1867 to 1886—the twenty previous years—it was 328,716, or slightly more than one-third the number of the later twenty year term. In 1887 there were 483,069 marriages and 27,919 divorces, about one divorce in every seventeen marriages. In 1906, marriages numbered 853,290, and divorces no less than 72,069, or one divorce, as I stated before, in every twelve marriages. Is not this a fearful rate of increase? But worse than this, I read recently that in the present year, the divorce factories are cutting marriage ties at the rate of ten per cent. That is to say, we have reached the condition that every tenth marriage is, by law, broken; even though God's Holy Church has sanctioned and sanctified the union. Did you read in the newspapers of less than a month ago that on a single day twenty-eight parties appeared in a New York Court asking separation from those whom they had promised lifelong "to love and to cherish." Did you read also that on that—as on nearly all such occasions—there were the new candidates for the hands that were unclasped there, and that at least twenty of that number were to make a new test of matrimony on obtaining the decree? Did you read that within six weeks two judges sitting on the bench in Providence, R. I., on a single day, granted fifty divorces? If this appalling rate of increase continues, when we reach the middle of the present century we will see one marriage in every five dissolved in the courts of divorce. Here, then, are homes being destroyed by the wholesale, decrees under the sanctions of law, and families broken to pieces, parents and children scattered to the four winds, and so an ugly sore is created that breeds sin and sorrow of the deepest dye.

What is the duty of this Church? To emphatically legislate for its own clergy and people that they shall in no sense directly or indirectly have partnership in a business so foul and so inhuman and so unholy. At the last General Convention, it was my privilege to cast my ballot in favor of a law which emphasized the sacredness of the marriage-bond and forbid the remarriage by any clergyman of this Church of man or woman, rich or poor, having a wife or husband living. I stood with a majority that so voted—which majority would have been much larger had many absentees been in the House of Bishops on that day. It came before us suddenly, had little debate and was carried—and the Christian world, I am sure, have higher respect for the House of Bishops because of that act. Have you noted that within a few weeks different Christian bodies at their Conferences and Synods and General gatherings have spoken strongly and denouncingly against this vicious and horrible and hideous corruption in this, our country? May the coming General Convention, so far as this Church is concerned—thro' its priests and people—crush with an iron hand this unclean monster, and trample it under foot.

Change of Church Name

II: We all read the Church papers more or less. None have failed to note the theme that has filled their columns for nearly a year past—until it has become a weary monotone—almost a nauseating subject. Rancor and bitterness and evil speaking and uncharitableness have flashed and flamed, and too many are forgetting the law of a Christian courtesy which asks that we “love as brethren”; which directs the Christian man to “be pitiful, to be courteous, not rendering railing for railing, but contrariwise blessing.” I refer to the matter of a change of name for this Church. The subject is not before us as a Diocese, or before the entire Church of the land, in any formal or official way,—in any way. It was discussed and settled at the last General Convention, as you know, by a vote in the negative. It is true that the majority against making an alteration on the title-page of the Prayer Book—that was the question considered—was a solitary vote. Had the decision been the other way, I imagine its friends would have felt it to be a sorry and undesirable victory. But, of course, the question did not reach the House of Bishops. And so its voice was not heard.

If the matter comes in new shape to the Convention, it will probably call out unseemly and angry debate—from which ‘may God defend his Church,’ is my humble prayer.

As your Father-in-God loving the Catholic Church, having served at its altars for long, long years, knowing from experience its struggles and strifes and agonies and victories, anxious for and praying daily for the welfare and the peace of God’s Jerusalem, I undertake now to address you on this grave subject of our time.

I desire to state at the outset of these remarks that, during the year past, I have been, times without number, urged to give my views upon the matter. I have been asked, in private, by intimate friends, by many of my beloved laymen of the Diocese, to express myself. I have been importuned by interviewers—reporters of daily and weekly journals—ecclesiastical and secular—to give my opinion for public record. All have wooed, and not won, in the matter. My invariable reply has been that the subject is not before the Church by its authority—that it is solely a topic of newspaper discussion. Hence it is, brethren, that you have seen nothing in the press of the theories or views of the Bishop of Western New York on the change of name—as well as on many other current and popular themes. I have an argument to offer on the subject. It is brief. Shall we change our name? That is question number one. As a general principle, the title of any corporation should have the minimum of words that define or characterize its functions. This is a law which governs forcibly in the business world. It is more convenient. It can better describe to the ordinary mind the purpose of the organization. On this basis, no man who has read ecclesiastical history fairly, and who grasps the idea of a Church as presented in Holy Writ, but will confess that the name Protestant Episcopal is cumbrous and unnecessary as a description of a branch of the Church of God. Because it is the Church, it is ever protesting against error, whether that error be heathen or pseudo Christian—whether it take the costume of Protestant sectarian defect, or of Roman Catholic excess; whether it show the absurdities of Christian Science, the keen disloyalty of Neo-Anglicanism or the sentimental sympathy with the mystic cults of the East. Thus, on every side, the Church—this National Church—of which we are clergymen and communicants, is Protestant. I am not afraid of that word. I honor it if you give it its right significance. And, I am a Protestant verily, if you mean by it—which is my meaning in my giving it honor—one who protests against the addition of twelve new articles of faith welded to the Catholic Creed by the Bishop of Rome named Pius IV. usurping to himself the title of Pope. I am a Protestant, too, through and through, if that means one who denies the right of one National Church to claim for its Chief Bishop supreme authority over all branches of the Catholic Church. I am a Protestant, if that means one who denies the right of any provincial council to add to the Creed Apostolic, or to the Nicæan formula, one scintilla of a doctrine, or one letter to a single word. I am a Protestant if that means one who denies the authority of forged decretals in connection with the canonical system of the Catholic Church. I am a Protestant if that means stout objection to any dogma which lifts the blessed Virgin—Mother of our Lord—to any place in heaven or earth where the Divine Master or His Holy Word, or the Primitive Church, or the Ancient Creeds, did not exalt her. I am a Protestant if that implies one who protests solemnly against the assumption and presumption of a Pontiff who only a few years ago declared ex-cathedra that the Holy Order of Bishop, Priest or Deacon, conferred on you and me, are null and void, when his own authority and mission emanated from no other than the same source as yours and mine. I am a Protestant, if that means one who shudders at the thought of a priesthood and a Church that robs the people of the means of grace our Lord bestowed, in furnishing them only a mutilated sacrament, and teaching dogma and practicing cults which are contrary to God's Word, and at variance with the teaching of the ancient Church, of the martyrs, and of the Primitive Age. In these I am a Protestant, and on such a basis, I glory in the name. But standing on such a foundation, I must too, be a Protestant against Protestants—any Protestant body or Protestantism which has broken the unity of the Catholic Church: which has robbed a Christian organization of one—the perpetuating—order of the ministry; which has forced on men as articles of the faith, what are mere pious opinions or subtelties of philosophy or transcendental conceits; which has eliminated a sacred and Biblical and Apostolic rite from the warp and woof of religious life; which has robbed the holy sacraments of their miracle-character in its teaching; which minimizes the force and the meaning of the sanctity of that marvellous and yet primarily fundamental doctrine of the Scripture, the Church and the Creed, the very keystone of the religion of Jesus. I mean holy incarnation of the Lord Christ, who, by the power of the Holy Ghost, was born of the Virgin Mary. Thus am I a Protestant. And for this I do not despise the name. It means the "via media," which is "tuta." It means vigorous protest against all un-Catholic truth or unapostolic order. It means an arraying of myself in opposition to all false or incomplete teaching, whether it take the shape of Protestant defect or Romish excess.

This, then, is the necessary attitude, the actual condition of a Church that is a Church. And by a Church I mean a body that clearly possesses the four "notes" of Catholic life—Unity, Sanctity, Catholicity, Apostolicity: an Institution that holds "quod semper, quod ubique, et quod ab omnibus creditum est." Such a Church is, must be, Protestant to the core. But is such a descriptive adjective necessary to define it any more than it is essential in announcing a human being you should describe him as a heart-possessing, eye-beaming, active-brained, reasoning creature? It is enough for you to say he is a man. The solitary word describes the character of the being. And so, on such a basis, and in such a spirit, I call,—for its brevity, its Scripturalness, its sanctity and its truth,—the sacred organization to which I belong,—the Church. All else—even in view of this divided Christendom, and these many bodies of many names—in the way of titles and of adjectives—are really superfluous.

And now I turn to that other adjective,—"Episcopal." Is not Episcopacy necessary to the Church's very being—not alone its "bene esse"—as much as sap is needful to a living tree or the sparkle is the adjunct to the cut diamond? I am asking the question, basing it upon, not this man's opinion in the Church or that one, this school of thought's theory or that school of thought's opinion. I am asking it founding my question upon the teaching you and I find in this Church's formularies, and are bound to teach as its loyal priests.

But, perhaps, it will be asked, "Is there no room in this 'comprehensive Church' for that broader view of the ministry and its system of three orders which affectionately and reverently holds its convenience and general advantage and its historic hoariness; but denies the Divine authority and the necessity or the fact of an Apostolic succession?" With courteous respect to the opinion of those who claim right to such laxer theory, I must reply that I believe not. Why? You and I pledged ourselves at ordination, "Always so to minister the doctrine, the sacraments and the discipline of Christ as the Lord hath commanded and as this Church hath received the same." There is no shadow of doubt as to how this Church stands on the doctrine of Holy Orders. Witness the preface to the Ordinal:

"It is evident unto all men, diligently reading Holy Scripture, and ancient authors, that from the Apostles' time there have been these Orders of Ministers in Christ's Church,—Bishops, Priests and Deacons. Which officers were evermore had in such reverend estimation, that no man might presume to execute any of them, except he were first called, tried, examined, and known to have such qualities as are requisite for the same; and also by public prayer, with Imposition of Hands, were approved and admitted thereunto by lawful Authority. And, therefore, to the intent that these Orders may be continued, and reverently used and esteemed in this Church, no man shall be accounted or taken to be a lawful Bishop, Priest or Deacon, in this Church, or suffered to execute any of the said Functions, except he be called, tried, examined and admitted thereunto, according to the Form hereafter following, or hath had Episcopal Consecration or Ordination."

What on earth can be more definite than that?

Again this Church, when a minister of any denomination of Christ desires to serve at its altars, requires a Bishop to ordain him. This is the demand of its canon law. He must even be confirmed first. The statute recognizes, by special enactment for such cases, if he be of a certain age, the qualifications in a literary or theological way of which the man may be possessed by shortening the time of his preparation; but there is no admission that any of the specific functions inhering in the sacred ministry are his. The Church does not acknowledge it as re-ordination. She claims by her practice that his action must be "de novo." This is the Church's position. Is it tenable? Is she presumptuous then in assuming such an attitude? I trow not. For in so doing, she challenges an appeal to the only authority in such matters, viz., Holy Scripture and ancient authors and the whole practice of the Christian Church in every time and clime and amid every people from the day that Jesus Christ our Holy Redeemer walked the earth. Hence, then, the adjective Episcopal again as applied to the Church, is superfluous and redundant. Shall we change the Church's name? Is it expedient? Is it necessary? What benefit will accrue to the world or the Christian cause thereby? Will many—or any—outside our borders be drawn within the fold? Will Christian unity be advanced thereby? Will clearer knowledge of the Faith result to those who have obscure views of that once delivered to the saints? As to the reply to some of these queries there will be, of course, differences of opinion. But it is my conviction that there ought to be indisputable evidence that some such outcome as these questions present will result before the Church determines so grave a matter as an alteration in its venerable title. To change a name for the mere sake of change, when it is not a clear misnomer, I opine, is a childish proceeding. I have perused article after article in our wise newspapers treating the subject from every viewpoint possible, and I fail absolutely to find one argument proving, with an absolute certainty, that any present or remote good, will ensue to this branch of the Church by such a course.

And, this being the case, I am constrained to inquire, on the other hand, as to the possibilities of grievous harm working through such a proceeding were it wrought in the near future. It would involve changes in the Prayer Book and canons, with the interminable discussion in General and Diocesan Conventions, and the more intolerable heat in argument of the newspapers. Already a spirit other than brotherly love is manifest in the latter from week to week. May a good Providence defend us from the rancor and ferment and fury which must stir the Body of Christ should any effort be made to raise the issue at the coming Council of our great Church.

But again, as chief pastor here, it is impossible for me to divest myself of concern for the many souls that would be wounded everywhere by changes in our name—such as those suggested by the advocates of this measure. That there would be the drifting away of hosts from our ranks all over the Nation I firmly believe. Is it worth the while to run such a risk for the mere sake of a correction or a readjustment in a title? “What’s in a name?” we may well ask, if such dire results shall be the consequence of such action? If, then, a change of name that brings no spiritual advantage, that stirs no enthusiasm for Church extension, that wounds the souls of myriads of God’s elect, that arrays brother against brother and flock against flock during the passing years be the consummation planned for our triennium as a Church, then I say:

“Away with it all!

Rather my cry shall be,

O! ever pray for Salem’s peace,

For they shall prosp’rous be

Thou holy city of our God

Who bear true love to thee.

May peace within thy sacred walls

A constant guest be found,

With plenty of prosperity

Thy palaces be crowned.”

So I present my personal views. The argument I offer with all solemnity and humility. I love my Mother, the Church, with my whole heart. My prayer is that of the hymn,—

“Jesu! with thy Church abide,

Be her Saviour, Lord and Guide,

While on earth her faith is tried;

We beseech Thee, hear us.

May she holy triumphs win,
Overthrow the hosts of sin,
Gather all the nations in,
We beseech Thee, hear us.

May she soon all glorious be,
Spotless and from wrinkle free,
Pure, and bright, and worthy Thee.
We beseech Thee, hear us.

May her priests Thy people feed,
Shepherds of the flock, indeed,
Ready where Thou call'st to lead;
We beseech Thee, hear us."

The Church! To me it is no mere organization; no moral confraternity; no mutual benefit society; no ethical club. Not any one of these solely—but comprehensive of them all. And yet, more than they all,—the chaste Bride of Jesus, the brotherhood of man, the Father's family, the Kingdom of God.

Bequests

Our Diocese has been highly privileged through bequests which have come during the past year.

1. In a last will and testament there is incorporated the following: "I give and devise to the Bishop of that Diocese of the P. E. Church, of which Rochester shall form a part, and his successors in office, the proceeds which may arise or be derived from the sale of my house on Plymouth Ave., Rochester, where I now reside, in trust nevertheless, and the income arising or derived from the fund to be set apart from such proceeds of sale to be used for the purpose of assisting the aged and infirm clergymen of said Diocese."

2. In the same will there is a bequest to the Church Home of Rochester amounting to $5,000.

The sale of the residence above named will be consummated in a few days and the product of that sale,—minus expenses,—will be the splendid sum of $25,000.00.

The donor of this bequest was Mrs. Caroline L. Ely, widow of the Congressman who long represented Rochester at Washington. Her sister's husband in the early days of my ministry in New York was a dear friend of mine and often came to preach for me and so relieve the burden which was heavy in a busy parish for a stripling in the ministry as I was in those days.

3. On the 22d day of February, 1913, a deed was executed by Mrs. Mary W. Harriman, widow of the late E. H. Harriman, conveying certain real estate "to Wm. David Walker, Bishop of the P. E. Church in the Diocese of Western New York, as trustee and in trust, for the charitable purpose of supplying a place for rest, recreation, health and refreshment to such clergymen and their families and the widows and orphans of deceased clergymen of the P. E. Church in the said diocese as the said trustee may select, but wholly under the regulation and control of the said trustee."

The property conveyed by this deed of trust consists of a large house and ample grounds located at Sodus Point, on an elevation near the lake and overlooking it. Rev. Orlando Harriman, Mr. Harriman's father, was also my personal friend and often comforted me by preaching in my pulpit when writing sermons was not easy labor and when the barrel was but scantily supplied.

4. I am informed by the vestry of the Church of the Ascension, Rochester, that their corporation has fallen heir recently to $400.00 by bequest.

5. Mrs. Harriet M. Goodsell, a resident of the village of Holcomb or East Bloomfield, where our St. Peter's Church stands, recently bequeathed to that parish $1,500 and to St. Paul's Church at Allen's Hill the sum of $3,000.00. The Church Home in Rochester likewise inherits $10,000 for its work by her will.

Thus have our faithful Church people shown their belief in, and love of their Church. We hail these grand offerings from God's children for His service with thankful hearts, and we praise His holy name that He has thus put it into the hearts of His servants to appropriate and devote these gifts for His honor and the good of His own. I will add the petition of that beautiful prayer in the Consecration office, "that all who shall enjoy the benefit of these pious gifts may show forth their thankfulness by making a right use of the same to the glory of His blessed name," who is God over all blessed forever.

Official Acts

A survey of the year past shows that your Bishop has officiated at one hundred and eighty services of Morning or Evening Prayer, and preached one hundred and thirty-one times and delivered one hundred and eighty-eight addresses on as many different occasions. I have held confirmations at ninety-nine different services. This is a smaller number than was reported by me two years ago, although last year the number of occasions was ninety-seven. More than twenty of my reverend brethren were unprepared with classes this year, and I was compelled often to cancel my announced visitation. I have wondered whether the lack in classes was due to an early Lent, or to confusion in the minds of a goodly number because of the closer contact we had of late years with sectarian thought and theory. It is true that in some villages mild epidemics prevailed and public gatherings were discouraged by health authorities. The numbers in the classes, too, in many instances, were smaller than usual. Brethren, may I ask you at this stage to suffer a word of exhortation? Nearly thirty years ago I was consecrated a Bishop. I have been, of course, an observer of the spiritual life of hosts of individuals and parishes. I am most thoroughly convinced that scarcely a boy or girl should be presented for confirmation before they have reached fourteen years. That should be the minimum age. I referred to this matter some years ago. My convictions of that time are unchanged. As I have witnessed at the altar the demeanor of young people under that age standing before me, indifferent, inattentive, unconscious of the meaning or solemnity of the act my soul has been sick. Brethren of the clergy, I ask you to spare me the pain of performing a service which is often—and has been this year—so many times but perfunctory and irreverent, perhaps a hurt to the young soul. It was my privilege to confirm the goodly number of 1,380 persons this year. I presided at eighty-one meetings in behalf of our Church work of one kind or another. I held conferences on matters of the Diocese with individuals or committees seventy-six times, and had interviews with clergymen or laymen bearing on Church problems or policies—relating to organizations or parishes—no less than seventy-eight times. I officiated at one baptism, one wedding and five funerals. Two priests were ordained by me. I dedicated one parish house, two parish halls, and consecrated one church, and laid the cornerstone of another and dedicated still another on its completion. I have held two canonical and official hearings of matters under dispute between parishes and rendered my Godly judgment thereon. I have engaged in the inspection of different properties to which the Church became inheritor on four different occasions. I officiated at a unique function when a mortgage that had been paid was burned. It was my painful duty to depose, at their own written requests, three clergymen from the sacred ministry during the last twelve-month. I have given official approval to the sale of two different churches and the establishment of a new mission in a locality where there was need therefor. I have presented their diplomas to the graduating classes of two different institutions and addressed them on the happy occasions.

It has been my responsible duty to hold conferences with executors of two estates, touching property in which the Church has an interest, on many occasions. I have been in attendance several times on meetings of the Board of Trustees of Hobart College, of the Church Charity Foundation, of the De Veaux College, of the Missionary Boards, of the Financial Board, and of the Board of Education, and of the Laymen's Missionary League, and of the St. Andrew's Brotherhood, and of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions.

DeVeaux College

De Veaux College comes to our consideration annually—and it is worthy our observation and our interest for a few moments. It was a great step forward in its usefulness when its doors, three years ago, were thrown open again to a pay student body. The first year showed an addition to the number of those within its walls for training of four boys. The next year developed an increase of, perhaps, seven more. It will be remembered that only twenty-two pupils were on the Foundation,—and these were all that it was possible to care for with our endowment. As you are aware, the consequence was, that nearly two-thirds of our buildings were unused and subject practically to a dry rot. It was a pathetic spectacle to see such a useful and beneficent institution to so large a degree unutilized and suffering from non-use. But, thank God, there is a new condition today. The twenty-two students have flowered out into forty-one. Two have been added to the list of foundationers; large necessary repairs have been made; the gymnasium has been transformed into a place of delight for the robust boy; a pipe organ has been installed in the Chapel; the buildings have been cleansed and somewhat altered in character. It is a living hive. It is no longer a semi-sepulchre. These are happy and rich results which have come of zeal and gifts on the part of the “old boys,” profits from pay scholars, an anxiously careful Board of Trustees, and a Head Master unceasingly and intelligently and conscientiously devoted to his work.

De Veaux College has put on new life. You and I have no need to be ashamed of it or its policy of administration to-day. The Church may rejoice that the good founder showed so much of a love of youth and of a religious soul, as to provide so beautifully and generously during generations for the sound training of boys who have the holy seal of baptism printed on their brows. The report of the financial situation is in your hands. I think all find satisfaction in its perusal. Let us all pray often that De Veaux College will become more and more an instrumentality for blessing among the young.

Conclusion

I think you will say that this record shows a busy year for your Bishop. But it has been made easy, Brethren of the clergy, by the cordiality and helpfulness of nearly every one of you,—and by the comforts you have arranged for me in my visitations, from their beginnings to their end. And, too, your kindnesses have been supplemented so lavishly by your people, that my goings in and out among you have had no hardship in them. For such gracious welcomings and entertainings I must here, in this public way, express my gratitude, and offer the full thanks of my whole heart. Especially has it been joy to me, when the privilege has been accorded me of conferring with and counselling the vestries. As their Bishop—a Father-in-God—and as their friend, I esteem it privilege to meet and greet them.

A Bishop's life is lightened and his cares soothed and his burdens made softer, as he thus finds kindly greetings and hospitable deeds shown by his people when he thus moves hither and thither among them. A feature pre-eminent in my visitations this year—as in former ones—has been very large congregations in most of the churches. Of course, the gatherings were made up, in part, of people from other Christian bodies. It is good thus to see the Church delivering her message to many others than her own children, and manifesting the “beauty of holiness” in her chaste rites and her devotional worship as people of other ecclesiastical names crowd her courts. I am glad when the clergy aim to make the service rich and stately on visitations.

May the work which we undertake here have acceptance in the Redeemer's sight. May the aim of each of us, now and ever, be His Church's advance and His own glory. May the Holy Ghost direct and bless our way and work, as we press forward, striving mightily for the extension of His Kingdom, and for the redeeming of our Lord's needing world.

(A) Report of Standing Committee

To the Seventy-Sixth Annual Council of the Diocese of Western New York:

The Standing Committee herewith reports its official acts for the Diocesan year, 1912-13.

May 22nd, 1912. The committee met in St. Peter's Church, Niagara Falls, and organized by the election of the Rev. C. Morton Sills, D. D., President, the Rev. Walter North, L. H. D., Secretary.

Assessments were fixed at 2 per cent. for the support of the Episcopate, 2 per cent. for Diocesan Expenses.

A committee was appointed to prepare and distribute a list of offerings for the ensuing year.

Regular meetings were appointed for the first Tuesdays in September, November, January, March and May.

Frank Arthur McElwain, Suffragan Bishop-elect of Minnesota; Rev. Herman Page, D. D., Missionary Bishop-elect of New Mexico; and to the translation of the Rt. Rev. Peter Trinkle Rowe, D. D., to be Coadjutor Bishop of Southern Ohio.

Rev. Francis J. Angel was recommended for Priest's orders.

On motion a circular letter was directed to be prepared by the President and Secretary, in explanation of the assessments and sent to the Rector, Warden and Treasurer of each parish and congregation.

The special committee appointed by the Council on the Sustentation Fund was directed to issue a circular explaining its work.

July 20th, 1912. Consent was given to the deposition of the Rev. Edward Henry Fulton, Presbyter, according to Canon 32 of the General Canons.

Nov. 25th, 1912. Consent was given to the consecration of the Rev. William Farrar Weeks as Bishop Coadjutor of Vermont, and Rev. John Chauncey Linsley, Suffragan Bishop of Connecticut.

A hearing was given to the Rev. P. W. Mosher, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Niagara Falls, and Vestrymen of that parish in the matter of the establishment of a Sunday School and mission near the corner of Pine Avenue and Fourth St., in the City of Niagara Falls.

Of the two neighboring parishes the Rev. G. Sherman Burrows made no objection, the Rev. Coleman E. Byram, Ph. D., objected.

On hearing the case the committee gave the opinion that the petition of the Rev. P. W. Mosher be granted and the Secretary was directed to prepare an answer to be signed by the members of the committee and presented to the Bishop.

The Rev. Dr. Byram then withdrew his objection.

January 2nd, 1913. Frederick Thomas Hall was recommended as a candidate for Holy Orders.

Messrs. Goodwin and Brown were appointed a committee to submit to the Diocesan Council a recommendation of this committee that an appropriation, not to exceed $300, be made from the fund for Diocesan Expenses to defray the expenses of the Bishop while performing official acts.

Consent was given to the deposition of the Rev. Charles M. Kimball, Presbyter.

Report of the Warden

To the Board of Education of the Diocese of Western New York.

The Warden of the DeLancey Divinity School respectfully reports as to the condition of the School for the year 1912-1913:

The lectures have been held and instruction given from October, 1912, to April, 1913, both inclusive, except that owing to hindrances in the way of attendance on the part of nearly all the students, it was thought best to omit the session in March; this omission will, however, be supplied by holding a session in May, between the close of this report and the assembling of the Diocesan Council, and postponing the annual examinations until June.

Indeed, there seems no reason, taking into consideration the class of students for which the School provides instruction, why lectures should not be given both in September and May, making nine sessions instead of seven, except the extra work entailed upon the lecturers and the slight extra expense to the Endowment Fund. Since the Fund is able to bear this increase in expense and the lecturers, appreciating the value of the extra work to the students, are not only willing but glad to undertake it, the Board is hereby requested to make the order that sessions be held monthly from September to May, both inclusive, and that the annual examinations be held in June. Such an order needs no argument to make manifest the value of the additional instruction to the student body.

Our experience with students during the year included in this Report has been rather more varied than usual. Of the three men, Rev. A. F. Lowe, Rev. F. J. Angel and Mr. H. B. Raymond, whom we expected would graduate last June, Mr. Angel alone sustained the annual examination in all subjects and received the School Diploma. Mr. Lowe failed to send in papers on two subjects and, therefore, did not receive a Diploma, and Mr. Raymond did not take the examination and soon afterwards left the Diocese.

Mr. Chas. A. Dowdell, who, in order, should have taken the Senior studies, was prevented by physical infirmity from so doing. He has not attended any of the lectures of the year, but I understand, hopes to re-enter upon his work next Autumn. The Junior Class of 1911-12, which has been the Middle Class of the year just closed, made up of Messrs. D. L. Leach, of Lancaster; Robert T. Gibson, of Buffalo; Leon F. Haley, of Syracuse, and the Rev. Fred J. Davis, of Watertown, has with great commendability held together, although Mr. Haley has felt obliged to be absent from some of the lectures, and will in all probability proceed to the Senior studies next term.

Mr. John L. Somerville, of Depew, began the work of the Junior year last October, together with Mr. Lewis E. Ward of Auburn. Business arrangements have sadly interfered with Mr. Somerville's attendance upon the lectures, but he is hoping to overcome present obstacles and to be able to continue his work with us. Mr. Ward has secured a position as teacher in a Church school in the West upon which he enters in October. It is his intention, however, to proceed with his preparation for Holy Orders.

Besides the men above mentioned we have had for a short time Mr. Thomas B. McClement from the Diocese of Central New York. He later decided to enter upon a special course of reading in the General Theological Seminary.

Through this unusual experience the Middle Class has steadily held on its course and I repeat the hope, expressed last year, that at its graduation next year it will leave a distinct impress upon the School.

We note the resignation from the Department of New Testament Studies, of the Rev. E. M. Duff, B. D., owing to removal from the diocese. Mr. Duff's work was always conscientiously done and his duties faithfully discharged to the great advantage and manifest pleasure of his students. The Rev. Philip W. Mosher, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Niagara Falls, was appointed to the Lectureship thus vacated and at once entered upon his work with an assurance born by ample preparation and familiarity with his subject, which won him his rightful place in the lecture room.

It is needless to say, but justice demands the saying of it, that the devotion of all the gentlemen associated with the Warden in the instruction of the young men committed to us and in the general welfare of the School is beyond praise and beyond price, when it is remembered that they are all rectors of parishes making large demands upon their time, thought and energies.

Thirty-seven volumes have been added to the Library by purchase, twenty-six of these being text-books for students' use. We are indebted to the family of the late Mr. H. C. Spindelw of Buffalo, for several years a devout communicant and a lay-reader of the diocese, for the gift of sixty-two volumes, a valuable addition to our book shelves.

Of the grant made last year by the Board of $150.00 for books, $82.89 only has been expended, leaving a balance in the bank of $67.11. A grant of $50.00 at this time will probably be amply sufficient—with the unexpended balance—for our needs the coming year. This sum is respectfully asked for.

The permission given by the Board to print a supplementary Library catalogue has not yet been carried into effect by the Warden, but its preparation for the printer will be taken in hand through the summer.

A new biennial catalogue of the School for 1913-14 is called for at this time and permission is asked of your Board to prepare and print the same by October 1.

The Bishop of the Diocese has, as is his custom, visited the lecture rooms from time to time during the School year, where his presence and counsels are a profitable and pleasant interlude to routine work, both to lecturers and students.

The Warden has received since May 1, 1912, by order from the Secretary of the Board for Lectures and incidental expenses, the sum of $420.00. This sum does not include the special honorarium to the lecturers of $700.00, which passed through the Warden's hands June 5, 1912, but does not form a part of the regular expenses of the School; nor does it include the grant of $150.00 for books above accounted for. The Bishop of Central New York has remitted the sum of $71.36 on account of expenses incurred for students from his diocese. The sum of $11.10 has been received from former students for books purchased by them.

In conclusion the Warden desires to express his gratitude for and his appreciation of the hearty support he has received in the discharge of his duties from students, associates and Trustees, and, not less, from many of the diocesan clergy who are becoming more interested in our work as they make themselves more familiar with it.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS B. BERRY,

Warden.

C) Report of the Trustees of DeVeaux College for Orphan and Destitute Children

Niagara Falls, N. Y., January 1, 1913.

To the Bishop and to the Standing Committee of the Diocese of Western New York:

Gentlemen:—The Trustees of DeVeaux College for Orphan and Destitute Children respectfully submit herewith their report for the year ending December 31, 1912, in compliance with the terms of the charter of the corporation.

During the year the Trustees held seven meetings, with the following record of attendance:

Rt. Rev. W. D. Walker, D.D., President	present 6, absent 1
Gen. H. C. Hodges, Vice-President	present 3, absent 4
Rev. P. W. Mosher, Secretary	present 7, absent 0
John K. Walker	present 7, absent 0
Porter Norton	present 4, absent 3

Rev. Pierre Cushing	present 3, absent 4
Rev. Edward P. Hart	present 4, absent 3
de Lancey Rankine	present 5, absent 2
Rev. E. J. Babcock, Treasurer	present 6, absent 1

The main items of this report are two: 1, the school; 2, the books of account.

1. In the school boys only are taken.

During the year 1912 there were received on the foundation 29 boys. The average number maintained during the year was twenty-two, the greatest number in attendance at any one time was twenty-two and the least number twenty-two. The age of the youngest boy on the foundation was 11 years; that of the oldest 19 years.

During the year the total number of pay pupils received was twenty-two, of whom ten were day pupils. The least number in attendance at any one time was ten and the greatest seventeen during the latter part of the year.

The course of study is that published in the Register and is based upon the Elementary and the Academic Syllabus of the New York State Education Department.

In the matter of accounts the annexd schedules show: a—the balance sheet; b—payments to and loans from the interest-bearing endowment funds, and the amount of said funds uninvested (upon which 4% interest is received); c, No. 1—the receipts of interest, rents and other resources, with disbursements of the same; c, No. 2—Statement of estimated expenses incurred through pay pupils; d—a list of real estate bonds and mortgages of the General Fund, Strickland Fund, Guarantee Fund and Land Contracts; e—a list of real estate owned by the Corporation.

In the audit of the books of the school it was shown that the expense incurred through the pay-pupil department, which included one extra master, food, service and proportion of general expenses, amounted to $2,845.34, and there was received a total from the pay pupils of $4,499.40, showing a total profit of $1,654.06, which amount was applied to reduce foundationer's per capita cost.

We are pleased to report that Mr. Charles Kennedy has again added $1,000.00 to the 'Charles Kennedy Endowment Fund.' This gift came in January, 1913, and will not appear in the Treasurer's report until next year.

Electric lights have been installed in the principal rooms of the College buildings by the Old Boys' Association.

In accordance with the directions of the State Fire Marshal 24 fire extinguishers have been added to our equipment, stand-pipes have been erected and fire hose provided sufficient to reach all parts of the building. These improvements account for the large sum spent on repairs.

Respectfully submitted,

PHILIP WHEELER MOSHER,

Secretary.

(D) Diocesan Missions

Report of the Archdeacon of Buffalo

The Rt. Rev. William D. Walker, D. D., LL. D., D. C. L., Bishop of the Diocese.

Rev. Father in God:

Your Archdeacon respectfully tenders this his tenth annual report of the work performed by him during the council year. There are many subjects of greater or less interest that are engaging the minds of this Church at this time, such as the meeting of the General Convention in New York in October next, the change of the name of the church, how to evangelize the negro, the mountain whites; but to my mind the extension of the Church within the confines of this Archdeaconry is of greater importance, because it concerns the interests of this Church within our own borders. May God put it into our hearts to realize the obligations and the splendid opportunities that offer themselves here at our very doors for the extension of the Kingdom of our Redeemer.

I believe every mission and station connected with a parish had an incumbent in charge at our annual meeting last year.

The following are the names of the clergy that have received stipends from the Board during the year:

Rev. Harry Idle, minister in charge, Bolivar and Allentown.

Rev. Wm. Eastham, minister in charge, Randolph, East Randolph and Little Valley.

Rev. A. A. Murch, minister in charge, Warsaw and Attica.

Rev. Geo. A. Harvey, minister in charge, Mt. Morris and Perry.

Rev. Jerome Kates, minister in charge, Belmont and Belvidere.

Rev. J. H. Herendeen, minister in charge, Angelica and Belfast.

Rev. Wm. Compton, minister in charge, Silver Creek and Forestville.

Rev. F. A. Ransom, minister in charge, Gowanda and Hamburg.

Rev. D. A. Blose, minister in charge, Youngstown and Lewiston.

Rev. Jas. Livingston, minister in charge, St. Philip's, Buffalo, and Lackawanna.

Rev. A. F. Lowe, minister in charge, Ellicottville and Springville.

Rev. F. C. Smielau, minister in charge, Deaf Mute Work.

The Archdeacon, minister in charge, Indian Work on Cattaraugus Reservation.

There are other missions which may be termed parochial missions within the Archdeaconry, which are cared for by rectors of self-supporting parishes, which do not receive any remuneration from the Board, but are willing to assume these additional labors for the love of Christ and His Church. They are as follows:

St. Mark's Chapel, by the Rector of St. Mark's, Buffalo.

St. Clement's, Holy Communion, St. Bartholomew's and Orchard Park, by the Rector of St. James', Buffalo.

Kenmore, by the Rector of All Saints', Buffalo.

Epiphany, by the Rector of St. Simon's, Buffalo.

Erie County Alms House, by the Rector of Good Shepherd, Buffalo.

Rowland and Blasdell, by the Rector of St. Jude's, Buffalo.

Brookside and Olcott; All Saints, Lockport, by the Rector of Grace, Lockport.

Boardmanville, by the Rector of St. Stephen's, Olean.

Ripley, by the Rector of St. Peter's, Westfield.

Echota, by the Rector of St. Peter's, Niagara Falls.

There are in the Archdeaconry, not counting the self-supporting parishes, where the services of the Church are held each Lord's day:

Parochial Missions	10
Those receiving stipends.....	24
Archdeacon Missions	19

Another year's work has passed into history. The progress of the work has been quite as satisfactory as it was last year, and that is saying a good deal. One new station has been opened up for services, and bids fair to become an important center of church life and work. I mean the mission at Williamsville. The one chief source of annoyance in our missionary work is the frequent changes of the clergy in the field. It is hurtful to the work in the parishes and missions and discouraging in like manner to the people. Several missionaries have resigned their charges, and have gone elsewhere. It is not wholly due to the small stipends offered and paid, but somewhat due to the restlessness on the part of some of the clergy for pastures new. They do not seem to realize that the element of success in their labors are in the continuance of the same even at some cost and some sacrifice on their part. A clergyman can do his work best only when he knows his people and the community, and they have had time to know and respect him. Though influence and success only come from continuous pastoral relations and patient continuance in well doing. We need and we must have more clergy to take up the work in our villages and smaller towns. Pray ye to the Lord of the harvest to send them to us. We must hold up to them the delights of a country life and the opportunity for quiet study. They must feel that the man with the hoe is as honorable as the man with the sword or the pen. The mission church in the village was, and is still, the recruiting ground for the city parishes.

Your Archdeacon has gone in and out of the many places under his charge during the year, visiting the homes, holding services, administering the sacraments, visiting the sick, burying the dead. There is an appreciation on the part of the people for what the Church is doing for them spiritually. Like begets like. They are attentive to the services, active in the different societies and guilds and Sunday schools. The financial ends of the work are met for General and Diocesan Missions, the Episcopate, Diocesan Expense, as well as the Sustentation Fund. And above all, the people are especially kind and hospitable to the Archdeacon in his visitations to their homes which, to say the least, is both pleasing and gratifying, and is an evidence that his being in their midst is a pleasure to them.

The Archdeacon at the request of the Bishop took charge again of the Chapel of the Good Shepherd on the Chatauqua Assembly grounds during the summer of 1912, with the assistance of the Rector of Dunkirk, and St. Jude's, Buffalo, the services were maintained during the season as follows:

Sundays: Morning prayer, 14; attendance, 1,710.

Sundays: Holy Communion, 16; attendance, 1,140.

Wednesdays: Evening prayer, 23; attendance, 1,420.

Fridays: Litany, 8; attendance, 440.

Your Archdeacon has visited regularly the following places, performing the duties of his office:

The Parishes—Belmont, Irving, Silver Creek, Youngstown, Lewiston, Ellicottville and Mayville.

Organized Missions—Angola, Belvidere, Brant and New Town (Indian), Corfu, Chautauqua, Darien Center, Depew, Forestville, Franklinville, Sinclairville and Springville.

Stations—Williamsville, Alden, Hinsdale.

The spiritual report of the work is as follows: Morning prayer, 51 times; 1,883 attendance; 37 average.

Evening prayer, 168 times; 5,913 attendance; 35 average.

Holy Communion, public, 129 times; 2,864 attendance; 22 average.

Holy Communion, private, 10.

Litany, 33.

Penitential Office, 12.

Baptized, adults, 2; infants, 21.

Confirmed, 36; sermons and addresses, 348; marriages, 8.

Sunday school teachers, 40; scholars, 286.

Christmas tree festivals of Sunday schools, 7.

Meetings in the interest of missions, 40.

Attended ordinations to Priesthood, 2.

Depositions, 1.

Hospitals visited, 45.

Burials, 24.

The Archdeacon here desires to express his thanks to the Bishop of the Diocese for his fatherly advice and counsel, which has been so helpful to him in doing the work at hand. To the Reverend Clergy for their interest in the work and for the many services given (to the number of fifty-five) during Lent.

To the superintendent and members of the Laymen's League for their work in nine different mission places during the year, where services are held each Sunday, when the Archdeacon cannot be present. They are only of course a help in keeping open the missions. They are willing to spend and be spent in the Master's service.

To the Babies' Branch and to Miss Mary Hart in particular, for the gift of $35.00 for the purpose of purchasing a suitable piece of land on the Indian Reservation. The gift has made it possible to buy such a lot, 60 x 90, and as soon as weather will permit, a small but suitable chapel will be erected on the site used, especially among the younger element of the pagan Indians.

The Rev. F. L. Smielau, the missionary among the deaf mutes, has continued his good work among these afflicted people within the limits of the Archdeaconry during the year. His report will be found in the Journal.

Your Archdeacon takes the following data from the consolidated report of the Archdeacon and missionaries, prepared by General H. C. Hodges for the Missionary Board from February 1, 1912, to February 1, 1913:

Services, 1,093; attendance, 32,388; collections, $1,704.25; Holy Communion, public, 254; communicants, 3,339; baptisms, 31; baptized, 45; confirmations, 8; confirmed, 47; marriages, 9; burials, 39.

Sunday school sessions, 326.

Teachers, 546; pupils, 3,716.

Sunday school offerings, $79.54.

Ordination to the Priesthood, 1.

Here I close my report, with thankfulness to God for His goodness and mercy to me, for His many blessings of health so freely vouchsafed during the year; for the generous friends He has raised up for the work. Asking your prayers and co-operation let us go forth to the work of another year with strong faith in God and His Church to do what we can and all we can while it is day, for the advancement of His kingdom in this part of God's vineyard.

Respectfully submitted,

G. W. S. AYRES,

Archdeacon of Buffalo.

Report of the Archdeacon of Rochester

Rt. Rev. Wm. D. Walker, D. D., LL. D., and Brethren of the Clergy and Laity:

Standing today at the end of my third term as Archdeacon of Rochester, I might be pardoned if I allowed my mind to wander in review over the record of the past nine years.

Of things seen and temporal, we might marshal a goodly array, while of things not seen and eternal, "Who among us is sufficient for these things?"

To dwell in the past is an evident token of failing power. The mission of the Church is ever in the future, each accomplishment should tend only to extend the horizon of opportunity and reveal to the eye of faith greater fields of labor.

He who dwells in the past will perish with the past, while he whose look is ever forward hath eternal life abiding in him. It is with such thoughts as these in mind that I turn to a brief retrospection, not of the nine years which it has been my privilege to serve as your general missionary, but to the twelve months which constitute the last year of my third term in office.

On the third of May at Sodus Point, the Bishop confirmed a class of seven, and during the summer months services were conducted by visiting clergymen of the Archdeaconry who, for periods of two weeks each, were in residence at the Clergy Rest House so generously placed at their disposal by Mrs. E. H. Harriman, of New York. In this connection it is in order here to state that the house above referred to, has now been deeded to the Bishop of the Diocese and his successors in office, to be used as a Rest House for the clergy of this Archdeaconry and their families.

Mrs. Harriman has also given $1,000.00 with which to place the property in thorough repair, and the work of renovation will soon be underway.

Previous to the Bishop's visit to Sodus Point he confirmed a class of 29 adults at Sodus Village, presented by the Rev. Mr. Thomas. Another class of ten was presented by Mr. Thomas on the seventh of last month, making a total of 39 for the year. This is an unprecedented record for Sodus and shows conscientious work on the part of the genial Rector.

On June 18th, the formal opening of the new church at Hunt's took place, at which time the cornerstone, taken from the old original building was relaid by the Bishop in the presence of a large gathering of the people of the community and a goodly number of the clergy from nearby towns, together with certain lay members of the Missionary Board.

The first service was held at eleven A. M. after which in the public hall of the village a bountiful dinner was served by the members of the church. At three P. M., the rite of confirmation was administered by the Bishop to a class of eleven adults. Helpful and inspiring addresses were made by the visiting clergy and the large congregation, which more than filled the building, entered most heartily into the spirit of the occasion. On the tenth of June it is purposed to consecrate the building which is now free of debt and we are looking forward to another day of rejoicing. A movement is also under way towards the building of a parish house.

In Grace Church, Nunda, with which Hunts is associated, a furnace has been installed and paid for, and it is hoped to be able soon to remodel and redecorate the interior of the building.

On July 12th, the Bishop visited our isolated mission at Bradford and confirmed a class of eight. This mission is to be worked in connection with Hammondsport and the Rev. Grant P. Sommerville having accepted a call to this field, entered upon the work the first of this month.

On July 14th, the Bishop formally opened the new church at Spencerport and confirmed a class of six presented by the Rev. Mr. Parsons, our missionary in charge, and rector of the church in Holley.

From our working force we have, during the year, lost one, the Rev. Mr. Newton, who served the mission at Shortsville in connection with his larger work at Phelps, having accepted work in another Diocese.

With this exception, and that of Mr. Sommerville, who has just come to us, our working force remains as it was a year ago. Two lay readers give able and valued service: Mr. Chas. C. Jatho, of Hobart College, continues his conscientious work at Dresden, where in connection with the services of the Church he has built up a vigorous Sunday School. Mr. Wm. R. Martlin, who has recently moved to Rochester from Buffalo, where under the Rev. Mr. Stanton, he did most helpful work as a lay reader, now goes regularly to Hunts.

The missions to which I have ministered personally during the past year are as follows: Dundee, Dresden, Himrods, Hunts, Nunaa, Wolcott, Bradford, Sodus Point, Shortsville, Holcomb, Union Hill, Victor, Wayne, Allen's Hill and Bergen. The last four mentioned places are practically non-existent and have been for many years. At other points, with the exceptions of Union Hill, Holcomb and Himrods, the work is in an encouraging condition.

In the missions just mentioned I have held one hundred and eighty one services. Baptized eighteen. Presented twenty-seven for confirmation. Officiated at two marriages and eight funerals and attended twenty-one meetings in the interests of the work.

The report of our Treasurer shows that we have made little advance during the past ten years in the amount received from the quarterly offerings, although the stipends of the men in the field have been increased to meet, in a measure, the higher cost of living.

The Sunday School offering for last Advent amounted to $586.04. This is some sixty dollars less than the high water mark reached the year before. Whether this falling off can be traced to carelessness on the part of the officers of the schools or to the counter attractions of the five-cent moving picture shows, I am not able to say.

To stimulate a more generous response our Board of Missions has adopted a certain plan of apportionment, based partly on the scheme of other apportionments and partly on an average of what each parish and mission had done during the last three years and what in the estimation of the committee appointed for that purpose, it was felt that each congregation ought to give. In as much as "Silence" is reputed to "give consent," we conclude that the brethren have bowed to the inevitable.

If we are to maintain our present standing and undertake such aggressive work as of necessity falls to the lot of a living organization we must have the amounts asked for.

In order to obtain this there should be on our part a more vivid realization of what the Church stands for and of what she holds in store for every hamlet and town in this and every other Diocese.

In the confusion and excitement caused by the multiplicity of movements of our time, each of them perhaps, well in its way, and because of the babel voices crying "Lo here" and "Lo there," many of us are getting weak-kneed and are putting the Church's light under a bushel: and yet there has never been a time when the Church's light was so much needed as now.

In the great and growing movement for Church unity, the Church has a part to play which can be played by no other Christian organization and for the lack of which the movement must suffer. Not only is the life of society dependent upon our letting the light of the Church shine but the Church's life itself depends upon it.

Because of our indifference to the responsibility which our heritage lays upon us, God is raising up other Christian bodies to do His will.

The Church's failure in time past to let her light shine has called into being the multitude of Christian organizations of our day. They have made up that which has been found wanting in her, and now only in her can they find that which they themselves lack.

I repeat that which I have often said before. The Church has a mission in every community, no matter how well that community may be supplied with other Christian organizations. This is not meant to cast any disparagement upon the glorious work being done by other Christian brethren; we do not come into competition with them. The Church's presentation of the great realities of our common faith is of a different type and character.

If we have nothing to offer a community other than that which the community already has, then there is no reason for our going into it; in fact, there is no reason for our being on earth at all. On the other hand, if we have, as we believe we have, that to offer which can be found no where else, then our responsibility is great, great out of all proportion to our numerical strength.

In the work of Church extension we have need of money, but above and beyond that we need men, men who can become incarnate in the lives of the people among whom they are sent to labor. Unless a man, and this is specially true of a missionary, is able to catch the visions that are in the eyes of his people, he will never be able to lead them to see the vision that is in his. Many a man makes a failure of his ministry and brings the Church into disrepute through giving strong meat when he ought to feed milk. The true Churchman, like his Lord and Master, may have many things to tell his people which for the time being they are not able to bear.

The deferring of a principle does not imply its sacrifice. If we expect to reap a harvest the ground must first be worked and made ready before the seed is sown. Thus while we need money, our greater need is of men of common sense and consecration. Someone has wisely said that "The Church has suffered more through lack of tact than through lack of learning."

But though of lesser importance, the necessity of properly financing the work of the Church is nevertheless pressing and it is hoped that the effort which our Board of Missions has made to make a just apportionment of our common responsibility will meet with the generous response and hearty co-operation which it deserves.

We are doing very little to meet and supply the demands lying at our own doors. Our English speaking population is not keeping pace with that of foreign tongues which is pouring into our country. Unless the children of these alien tongues can be met and given Christian education, our boasted civilization is doomed to extinction.

Then, too, the conditions in our rural communities are in many instances deplorable; especially so when viewed from the Church's position concerning the two great sacraments. These are practically ignored and the habit of Church attendance is not as strong as it should be.

We have need then of both men and money to meet these conditions, and whenever and wherever they are properly and generously met the response is most gratifying.

I fear that through force of habit this, my ninth annual report, has drifted into the character of a sermon. It has not, however, been my intention to depart from the regular order and I trust that this will be received by my brethren as a report and that back of it they will read the necessity of providing proper support for our common work.

Respectfully submitted,

W. L. DAVIS,
Archdeacon of Rochester.

MAY, 1913.

To the Seventy-Sixth Annual Council of the Diocese of Western New York:

The Trustees for the management and Care of the Fund for the support of the Episcopate of the Diocese of Western New York respectfully report as follows:

The principal of the Episcopate Fund at the present time is as follows:

Bonds and Mortgages as per list appended:

Real Estate	$30,260.00

The Mortgages held are good securities on which the interest is promptly paid. Annexed to the report is a tabulated statement showing the particulars of the mortgages held.

The receipts of income during the year have been as follows:

Received from the Treasurer of the Diocese. $3,277.37

From interest on mortgages and notes and money in bank

$5,576.76 $5,576.76

Expenditures for the year have been:

Bishop's Salary	$5,000.00
-----------------------	------------

Treasurer's Bond and Insurance..	12.50

Surplus for year			<hr/>
Surplus last year			376.06
			<hr/>
			3,354.16
Present surplus			<hr/>
			$3,730.22

There was charged income account $144, which is explained as follows:

On the Colvin Street land contract—Rittenbacher.

During 1905 and 1906, Mr. Rittenbacher paid in in different installments, $144, which was credited to income, but which should have been credited as payment on this land contract, his interest having been kept up. There is no loss of money, simply a transfer from income to principal. This land contract was paid down to $500 and a deed given to Rittenbacher, we taking back a $500 mortgage, such mortgage appearing on list of mortgages.

The income and expense account is an open account, and is not figured in the principal of the Episcopate Fund. This money is deposited in the Union Trust Co. of Rochester bearing interest at 4%; the interest going into the Income Account under Receipts from Interest.

The salary of the Bishop is paid to May 1st, 1913, and there is no other indebtedness.

There has been received during the year special remittances from the various Parishes under direction of the Bishop, $304.37.

These amounts are transferred to the Principal or Endowment Fund and show in the cash on hand in the Rochester Trust and Safe Deposit Co. as special item, $554.66.

A committee of the Trustees have examined the books of the Treasurer and find same have been correctly kept. Have checked up the bank balances and find the amounts on deposit agree with the figures noted above.

The vacant lots, Fillmore Avenue, Buffalo, we have been trying to sell for some years; they have produced no income and have been a drain on account of taxes, improvements, etc. This property has fallen rather than increased in value, and the amount at which they were carried was too large. On the best advice obtainable, the Trustees decided for the interest of the fund to sell these lots for $1,755.00, they having been carried at $3,000.00, a loss, therefore, the principal of $1,245.00.

On direction of the Council, an audit of the books on May 1st, 1913, has been ordered, and such audit will be given to the committee appointed by the Council to examine this account of the Trustees.

Respectfully submitted.

HIRAM W. SIBLEY,
FRANCIS N. TREVOR,
JOSIAH ANSTICE,
JOHN K. WALKER.

REPORT OF W. SALVIN TAYLOR AND COMPANY
PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS AND AUDITORS

302 Central Building, Rochester, N. Y., May 16, 1913.

We have examined the books relating to the accounts of the Episcopate Fund of the Diocese of Western New York, together with the report to be submitted to the Seventy-Sixth Annual Council.

We find that the Principal of the Fund as stated is a correct record of the same as found on the Treasurer's books, that the securities named therein are in the Deposit vaults of the Rochester Trust and Safe Deposit Company and that the cash on hand as reported is in accord with the Cashier's certificates of the respective banks.

The Income and Expenditures for the year are correctly stated and the Surplus is as set forth in the report. Vouchers for the disbursements have been submitted to us.

W. SALVIN TAYLOR & CO.,
Public Accountants and Auditors.

(II) Report of Sunday School Commission

I am directed by the members of the Sunday School Commission, in lieu of a more formal report, to lay before you the following statement:

FIRST:

We have made a substantial beginning on a statistical record, which will show, from year to year, the trend or movement of the individual schools and also of the schools of the diocese as a whole. Obviously, to make such a record complete, weekly reports are necessary. Inasmuch, however, as the Commission is interested, not so much in exact figures as in determining the movement numerically, up or down, of each school, we felt our purpose might be achieved with sufficient accuracy if, for the present at any rate, we reduced the information asked for to a minimum, and based our record on a yearly comparison of figures covering one month. We thereupon took the month of January as a standard, and sent out blanks calling for the figures of enrollment, attendance, and the like, developed during that month. Nineteen (19) parishes, which should have made answer, have failed utterly to reply. We mention the fact not because the situation is in any way novel to the members of the Commission—it has lost for them none of its earlier potency and charm—but to admit frankly that if these parishes so desire they can, by their refusal, make a numerical record of the schools of the diocese impossible. We do not understand their objection. We do not know why they refuse. We can only hope as they become better acquainted with the efforts made by the members of the Commission to get a comprehensive grip on the actual numerical situation of the schools in the diocese, and appreciate better the importance of this particular piece of work, a more sympathetic and understanding attitude may follow.

SECOND:

In our effort to prepare and to submit a typical form of school organization, complete in curriculum, and in its division of duties and responsibilities, the Commission asks for more time. The work could have been done during the year just past, but, after consideration, we determined it could be better and more permanently done if we were first to get in closer touch with the individual schools. To this end a series of five meetings was planned—of which four have been held—in Rochester, Buffalo, Geneva, Corning and Jamestown. These meetings have had a varied measure of success. None have been especially well attended, but, as a whole, we think they have been of service. A careful record has been kept of what each school, represented at these meetings, offered by way of curriculum, and of organization and methods, and much information of value, to the Commission, at any rate, has been acquired. We now have, for the first time, some just conception of local conditions. It is our purpose, later, to develop these meetings, where possible, into Sunday School Institutes, and, if the suggestion meets with favor, to set up certain Standards of Excellence, which any School may or may not accept, but which will enable a common rating throughout the diocese. These steps will be taken, however, only when it appears a sufficient interest has been aroused to make them successful.

Several facts of interest have developed in these meetings, which, for want of time, we dismiss without mention. One fact, however, stands out so saliently that we desire to refer briefly to it in this statement. We have been interested, naturally, to learn, so far as we could, the precise aim or object each Rector or Superintendent had in mind to accomplish by his school—what, in a word, is to him to be its real underlying problem. And so we asked the question. The answer obviously is important, since on it depends, in some measure, the efficiency of each man's work. We have had a great many answers. And roughly summarized, they come pretty much to this—that a Sunday School is a place or organization to develop character, and that the problem of the Sunday School is, therefore, how best to develop character. That is to say, putting the matter concretely and in our own words, the real problem of the Sunday School is how to make John and Mary better. This answer is so invariable and so widespread that we may fairly take it as expressing, in some degree at least, the mind of the diocese.

Now the essential problem, whatever it may be, presented by one Sunday School is exactly and precisely that presented by any other, no matter how it may be defined. And provided the problem itself seemed to be realized in a practical sort of way, we would not for a moment undertake to criticise any man's definition. But such does not appear to be the fact. A more or less real confusion seems to exist. And while, no doubt, we are each of us entitled to see our own problem in our own way, the members of the Commission desire to offer, as a suggestion merely, a definition of the problem as we have ourselves come to see it. We disagree wholly with the answers given. These are sound enough in a sense. But they do not seem to us to state the problem in its simplest terms. Development of character is not, in our opinion, a Sunday School problem at all. How character may be developed, by what method or process it may be best accomplished, are matters with which, in our opinion, a Sunday School has no concern whatever. We can probably all agree, however, that one factor, at least, in the process, is education. Experience has taught us that education is essential. And schools of any sort are, of course, based on that assumption. We all of us believe that a boy is made a better citizen if he is taught certain facts, because in the learning his character expands and develops along normal lines of good and effective citizenship. Therefore we have the public school. We all of us believe that a boy is made a better man if he is taught the great facts and truths of religion, because in the learning his character expands and develops normally in a religious sense. Therefore we have the Sunday School. He could be taught them, it is true, in some other way. He could be taught them at home, for instance. But here, again, experience has shown that, taking family life as it is, he will not be taught them there. The school, therefore, so far as it can or must, assumes the responsibility. But whether taught at home or in school, the essential need is that the boy shall be taught. Wherefore it seems to us that the real problem of the Sunday School, the problem we are each and all of us facing day by day and year by year, is not, to revert to our illustration, how to make John and Mary better, but now, efficiently, to get hold of and to teach John and Mary certain definite facts. And that is a vastly different matter. For it means, in effect, that a school on Sunday differs from a school on Wednesday or Friday only in that it attempts to teach a different kind and range of facts. The distinction is something more than verbal. Certain definite conclusions can be drawn from it.

For if we may regard our Sunday Schools as, after all, essentially schools, and not as quasi-religious organizations where attendance is largely voluntary and work is mainly optional—if, in a word, we may, for the moment, regard the religious education of our children as in any way analogous to education of any other kind or sort, our real problem becomes plain. It is, first, how to make our children regular in attendance, and it is, second, how to induce them to do certain prescribed work. Both are necessary. And given both, we may be reasonably confident that our children's character will be developed normally—in so far, at least, as intelligently directed school work can develop them. The underlying difficulty appears, therefore, not as a problem of character building, but as a matter of efficiency and of organization. We must ascertain how best, with the means and power at our disposal, to bring our children to school, and we must ascertain how best to get from them, when there, the necessary and prescribed work. It is, of course, a problem. Children will not, voluntarily, work regularly at any thing. That is, no doubt, in part, at any rate, due to the fact that they are our children. But, in any event, it is a fact. And it means that somewhere and somehow a note of authority must be sounded. We can never succeed by an appeal directed mainly to the children. If a public school, for instance, depended on its ability to coax or to cajole or to persuade children to come regularly and to work regularly—if it even went so far as to base its appeal on the fact that the responsible head of the school was a nice man who loved children and wished to make them better—its efficiency, you will agree, would be negligible. And yet, in effect, we seem to think, many of us, that a school on Sunday can exist and do good and effective work under precisely those conditions. The notion, to speak frankly, is absurd. It involves a contradiction in terms. You cannot have a school at all, except in name, unless the children come regularly and work regularly, and you cannot get children to do either without an appeal to some authority beyond them. So much seems plain.

Now, it is easy to state a problem. It is harder to solve it. And how, you ask, are we to meet the conditions laid down? The answer, we believe, is furnished by the public schools. A public school obtains both work and regularity of attendance. Why? Because, first of all, the parents require it of their children, and second, public opinion, expressed frequently in terms of positive law, demands it, and third, and perhaps mainly, the child, caught in the grip of an organization over which he has no control, finds himself given certain definite tasks to do which, working along lines of least resistance, he will do. Precisely this, it seems to us, if our Sunday Schools are to be really effective instruments, must ultimately be their position. They must be based upon the will and desire of the parents. They must be supported by the public opinion of the parish. And they must be so organized that efficient teaching, and not the likes or dislikes of the children, except in so far as these may be turned to its use, shall be their one object. That, we say, must be their position. That, we believe, will be their position if, on the one hand, the responsibility be placed frankly and squarely and definitely where it belongs, on the parents and not on the Rector; and if, on the other, by its efficient organization, the school shall prove itself worthy of the parents' respect. It then becomes a definite parish responsibility. And if this conception, expressed bluntly, seems too radical, or impossible to realize, it is well to remember that behind such a school stand our common experience and custom. It needs no explanation. It is familiar alike to the parent and to the child. For such a school is part and parcel of our American life.

In other words, the members of the Commission venture to offer for your consideration the suggestion that until our Schools are conceived and recognized frankly as schools, in fact, demanding and receiving regularity of attendance and work, and based frankly upon the will and desire of the parents, they cannot attain that efficiency which they must attain if they are properly to fulfill their purpose. And we offer the further suggestion, as a helpful means toward this end, that, instead of making our schools mere incidents in the parish work, on a substantial par with a sewing circle or with those other Churchly bodies which, on occasion, serve suppers, or hold sales of more or less appetizing home-made cakes and pies, that they be given the position they deserve as the one effective means the Church now has to give Her children instruction in matters of fact and faith and doctrine. It is, of course, possible to conceive the work in other terms. A Sunday School may be pretty much anything from "a sort of necessary evil," as one reverend gentleman has crisply put it, on the one hand, to a highly organized and efficient instrument to do Christ's work, on the other. But we feel the less hesitation in offering these suggestions because, as our report indicated a year ago, our schools are not keeping pace numerically with their opportunity, and because if they are to keep pace, some better form of organization than we now have is plainly necessary. We have no need here, and in this presence, to emphasize the need of the religious education of our children. That would be an impertinence. "He who helps a child," said Bishop Brooks, "helps humanity with a distinctness, with an immediateness, which no other help given to human creatures in any other stage of their human lives can possibly give again." Nevertheless, the fact that our school population is not growing as rapidly as it ought cannot be ignored, nor can the responsibility. The world we are living in to-day is a vastly different world from that of a decade ago. Every possible influence to keep our children from both Church and school is to-day organized—organized in a highly intelligent and efficient manner for precisely that purpose. These children are wanted elsewhere. Their pennies are wanted. And whether it be the excursion, or the trolley ride, or the sail on the lake or river, or what not—all tend in the same direction. It is the part of wisdom to recognize the fact. But what have we done to oppose this tendency? Certainly, so far as radical improvement in Sunday School methods is concerned, very little, and our results show it. We are not meeting organization with organization. We are not making use of the means at our command. Our appeal is valid. It is the deepest and the strongest appeal that can be made. But to be effective it must be heard. Are we each of us doing his full share to make it heard? Each must answer for himself. Are we to-day emphasizing sufficiently the importance of the religious education of our children? Are we laying that stress and emphasis on our schools that they deserve? Do we see in them the possibility they offer? Do we act as if we knew that in them were perhaps the most efficient of all means to combat those organized forces which are tending to break down the outer barriers of God's Kingdom? Certainly we do not, gentlemen, if we regard them as "a sort of necessary evil." Certainly not, if we neglect any or all means at our hands to make them stronger and surer instruments of service. Until we are prepared to acknowledge that the Church is impotent in the face of the cheap and strident calls of organized amusement, we are not prepared to acknowledge that the loss of so many hundreds of children in the past decade is beyond our ability to help, or to deny our responsibility towards those other children who will be looking to us in the years that are to come.

WE REQUEST THE COUNCIL TO DIRECT THE COMMISSION—

First—To continue its work of gathering and tabulating statistics;

Second—To complete the typical form of organization it is now preparing;

Third—To hold five Sunday School Institutes, one in each local centre;

Fourth—To develop a plan for establishing Standards of Excellence, and report upon the same at the next Council.

X. If a question in debate contains distinct propositions, one or more, they may be separated at the call of any member into so many several motions.

XI. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received, except (1) to lay the motion on the table, (2) to postpone it indefinitely, (3) to postpone it to a certain time, (4) to commit it, or (5) to amend; and motions for these purposes shall have precedence in the order thus named.

XII. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, when no member is speaking, and shall be decided without debate; and if it be negatived, it shall not be renewed until other business has been treated in due order.

XIII. A motion to lay on the table shall be decided without debate.

XIV. Or the yeas and nays may be taken by order on the call of any five members, and when so taken the vote shall be recorded in like manner.

XV. No member except the mover may speak more than twice on the same question without leave of the House.

XVI. A question once decided, shall not be reconsidered during the same session without the consent of two-thirds of the votes of the Council, nor without the motion for that purpose being made by one of the majority on said decision. No question shall be reconsidered more than once.

XVII. Special Committees not otherwise provided for shall be appointed by the Chair.

XVIII. Except by the votes of two-thirds of the persons present entitled to vote, no standing rule or order shall be suspended, changed or rescinded.

XIX. Before the final adjournment of any session of the Council, the minutes of the last day's proceedings shall be read, corrected and approved.

XX. Parishes and Missions of the Diocese of Western New York

In Respect to their Organization and Relationship to the Diocesan Council

(The following list of parishes and missions, with the dates of organization and admission into union with the Council of the Diocese, is based upon a list published in the Journal of 1865 by the Secretary of that year, and upon records examined by the present Secretary in the Journals of succeeding years. It is here set forth after most careful search of the pages of the Journals, and with the request that where information is lacking, or the lists are at fault, the clergy and laymen of the Diocese will assist in making the lists complete and correct.

Perhaps it will not be amiss to quote in this place from a note at the head of the lists of 1865, written by the Secretary of that time. "The dates of incorporation and admission of the older Parishes in the following list, though sought out with great care, are quite imperfect. No record is found in the Journals of the admission of.....St. Mark's, Le Roy; St. Luke's, Rochester; Zion, Avon; (the three last organized in 1817, and admitted, probably, in 1818), nor even of Grace, Lyons, reorganized in 1838." The request was then made, as it is now, that "Corrections and additions which may be obtained from Parish Records" be forwarded to the Secretary, to aid in preparing more perfect lists for future Journals.)

mittee, Board of Education, Diocesan Missions, Trustees of De Veaux College, Treasurer of the Diocese, Trustees of the Parochial Fund, Trustees of the Episcopate Fund, Trustees of the Christmas Fund, Sunday School Commission, Sustentation Committee, and Sunday School Commission, and, on motion, they were referred to their respective committees.

A motion of Mr. Lewis Stockton, requesting the clergy to report such activities of the laity of their respective congregations as may be specially commended and to append it to their parochial reports for printing in the Journal, was lost.

The Rev. C. J. Davis presented the following report which, on motion, was received and placed on file:

The Standing Committee on Missions of the Diocese of Western New York, present to the Diocesan Council of 1914 the following report:

The whole Committee has held two meetings during the past year, on November 5th, 1913, and April 1st, 1914, respectively. At both meetings there were present, besides the Bishop, five members. At the former meeting the announcement was made that the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese has contributed towards last year's apportionment the sum of $2,518.00. Suitable resolutions of thanks were adopted and the Secretary was instructed to transmit these to the President of the Auxiliary with a request for the same cooperation this year. At this meeting the Diocesan apportionment for the year was announced as $26,026.00, and a sub-committee was asked to apportion the sum to the parishes according to a sliding scale as in former years.

At the second meeting of the Committee the sub-committee reported that the apportionment had been made and only three parishes had objected to the amounts asked of them. In view of the extraordinary need of the Board for funds, members of the Committee were asked to write the rectors of parishes assigned to them urging a special effort this year to meet the apportionment.

The reports from the Board show that the Diocese as a whole is progressing in its gifts towards the full apportionment. We have done better this year than we did last. It seems quite within the realm of the possible that the Diocese may occupy a place on the Honor Roll. It is evident from the reports of the parishes to the members of the Committee that the Duplex

System of offerings is responsible for this improvement. In every case where it has been introduced by a canvass it has increased the offerings. The Committee wishes to urge again most earnestly that parishes which have not tried this plan to do so during the coming year.

CAMERON J. DAVIS, Secretary.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Ashton, the following was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this Council proceed to elect four Clerical and four Lay Delegates to represent it in the Primary Synod of the Second Province, in accordance with, and after the manner of, electing Deputies and Provisional Deputies to the General Convention.

On motion, the following resolutions, presented by the Special Committee authorized for the purpose, were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the following canon be adopted, to be designated Canon Four of Title First, to follow the present Canon Three of Title First, and that the subsequent Canons be renumbered accordingly:

TITLE FIRST. CANON FOUR.

Section 3. The filling of vacancies in the deputation shall be in accordance with the manner of filling vacancies in the deputation to the General Convention.

L. O'Brian, J. K. Walker, H. A. Bull, E. H. Boynton, M. D. Mann, M. D., H. Sibley, H. H. Glosser, M. D.

A familiar figure in more than forty consecutive Councils of the Diocese of Western New York is, for the first time, missing in the Council of 1914.

Mr. William W. Killip, of St. Michael's Church, Geneseo, who has always been seen and often heard, is absent.

His death occurred on the 20th day of December, 1913, at the age of eighty-seven years. Born on the Isle of Man, he became in his youth an American citizen.

Long time a holder of public office, interested in every civic occasion, devoted to his church, for more than two score years its organist and choir leader, in every place fastidious, urbane, positive, honorable, upright, industrious, his passing deserves the recognition of this Council and the Journal.

Judge McLouth presented a statement relative to the history, management, and condition of the Thomas Clark Fund, which, on motion, was accepted with approval.

On motion of the Rev. C. J. Davis, it was Resolved, That a Special Committee consisting of two members of the Committee on Constitution and Canons to be appointed by the Chairman of that Committee, and two members of the Standing Committee to be appointed by the President of the Standing Committee, be and hereby is directed to bring before this Council such amendments to the Canons of the Diocese as will separate the personnel of the Financial and Educational Boards from that of the Standing Committee, and from each other; that will consolidate in duties and personnel the Sunday School Commission and the Education Board of the Diocese; and that will provide that all financial reports be referred to the Financial Board and be approved by them.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Ashton the Finance Committee was instructed to report on the report of the Trustees of the Christmas Fund tomorrow.

G. SHERMAN BURROWS,
Secretary.

CHARLES H. SMITH,
Assistant Secretary.

The following reports were received after the close of the Council:

To the Seventy-seventh Annual Council of the Diocese of Western New York:

Having examined the report of the Trustees of the Episcopate Fund, we find it to be correct and explicit in its statement of the various items composing the fund.

As the securities were passed upon last year by an auditing company and the securities reported first class, in our opinion the fund is well invested and in good condition.

T. G. MOULSON,
ROY C. KATES,

Lockport, May 20, 1914.

The Committee on Finance was instructed by the Council to bring in a report and have it printed in the Journal.

The Committee reports (1) upon the Report of the Treasurer of the Diocese which they have examined and have found to be correct. They would call the attention of the Diocese to the fact that the Assessment for the Sustentation Fund amounted to $2,094.95 and only $1,307.80 was paid into the treasury; that the Assessments for the Support of the Episcopate amounted to $4,188.46 and only $3,544.83 was paid to the treasurer; that the Assessments for Diocesan Expenses amounted to $5,244.98 and only $4,318.10 was paid to the treasurer. The Parishes ought to meet their obligations to the Diocese, and could not the treasurer urge them by more frequent appeals to both rectors and vestries to pay in full their quota to these funds.

The Committee reports (2) upon the Report of the Treasurer of the Parochial Fund which they have examined and have found to be correct. This fund has increased since the Report of May 1, 1910, from $183,504.42 to $190,572.58 and the income from $8,336.66 to $10,578.25. We believe that all funds of this character should be audited by a reliable Auditing Company at least every five years, and we recommend that the Parochial Fund be so audited.

The Committee reports (3) upon the Report of the Trustees of Christmas Fund which they have examined and have found to be correct. The Report of May 1, 1911, shows 79 parishes and missions contributing $1,736.43; the Report of May 1, 1914, shows 65 parishes and missions contributing $1,490.40—a falling off of 14 parishes and missions and a decrease of $246.03. This is to the shame of the Diocese. These same reports show that the Fund has increased from $32,459.87 to $33,773.43. Of this amount $17,750.00 is invested in bonds and mortgages and $16,023.43 is on deposit in nine banks. We would suggest that if all the moneys were invested in good bonds and mortgages at 5% the income would be increased. The Report of May 1, 1911, shows interest from investment $1,121.35 and that May 1, 1914, interest from investment $1,117.10—a decrease of $4.25 in interest and an increase of $1,313.56 in the interest bearing funds. The report of May 1, 1911, shows $2,962.50 paid annuitants, and the report of May 1, 1914 $2,600.00—a decrease of $362.50. We understand that the annuitants are paid from the Clark Fund, an amount much in excess of this decrease but this does not appear in the Report. We would suggest that in the report for the next Council the transactions in the invested funds be placed by themselves and the income and offerings with the disbursement of the same be made a separate account.

We recommend that this Fund be audited by a reliable Auditing Company at least every five years.

APPENDIX I.

(A)

Bishop's Annual Address

Reverend Brethren and Brethren of the Laity:

With all affection and welcome I greet you at this annual gathering for our conference and labor in the interest of the Church of our love and the Kingdom of our God.

We are at the vestibule of the Ascension glow as the Master goes forth and up to the Father, and the white light of that other splendor through the Pentecost gifts is near its dawn. The new foliage and the fresh blossom of the springtide sparkle before our eyes and in the gladness of the opening season our hearts may well stir to larger sympathy and the wider service.

The conditions, concern and sorrow, however, blend with the spirit of cheer and gladness. The bitterness and the blood of industrial tumult and the terrors and tragedy of war, and the rancor and wrath of class conflicts blur and darken the fair sky of human brotherhood and international fellowship. It is indeed unrest everywhere, in all conditions of men—in church and nation and family. And I group in this statement the last of these institutions of God's creation, because of the prodigious increase of that hideous scourge of society—Divorce.

Of course, at all ages of the world, men have been suffering and sinning and the ideal and the Utopia has been ever unreached, and advance has been slow, and hearts have been selfish, and the tyrant's hand has scourged and human freedom has been trampled under the feet of power and gold.

Such—the weaknesses and the wrong of men—call often, as in centuries gone, for the Christian's pleading prayer and the Christian's helping hand.

Nevertheless, we will find rejoicing for the Church's onward stride, guiding governments and people to richer patience and gentler discipline and humaner law. We will be happy in the thought that the Church of Jesus is softening legislation, relaxing the heavy bars of the prison house and in a degree soothing the heart of the condemned, with its story of help and sympathetic care. And so our philosophy of life and the world, will not gaze cheerlessly out from the Cathedral door at a clouded sky, but will find beauty as it looks forth through the stained window with its wealth of color—the ruby, and the emerald and the gold—telling of brightness and hope for bruised, or even tainted souls.

So let us do our work in confidence, knowing that the Saviour loves His Church and abideth therein forever.

Neurology

The House of Bishops and four Dioceses have been called to mourn more than the usual number of Fathers in God, who have gone forth from leadership in the Master's Kingdom to places at His side in the Kingdom beyond.

These, my Rt. Rev. brethren and friends, are: two hundred thirty-seventh Bishop receiving consecration in and for this American Church and the second Missionary Diocesan for Nevada. His was a brief Episcopate. Consecrated in the year 1908 he passed to his rest last year. The field was a difficult and heart-breaking one, as I think. Mines which had called in the population had largely failed of production and the people passed out in a long procession thereafter to lands and fields of labor beyond. He stood bravely at the helm, through ebbing seas and a hopeless headway for the ark of Christ's Church. Depopulated villages and towns, deserted homes, closed churches, a departing people—these were the bald, grim features of the field which met his eyes as he entered on the threshold of his Episcopate. But nothing daunted, though often almost in despair, he pressed forward, and had some victory. At last, perhaps through the high altitude of the Nevada mountains, disease came, and God called his good laborer from the vineyard home.

I. Rt. Rev. Henry Douglas Robinson, D. D., the

II. Rt. Rev. John Scarborough, D. D., the one hundred eleventh Bishop in the American Church and the fourth in the Diocese of New Jersey.

He died in the fullness of years, having reached upwards of fourscore. He was a gentle, genial Godly prelate—a friend who was true, a man who was truly a man—as I fully learned in long years of warm, trusting intimacy. All knew him—who had honest hearts—but to love him. He was linked to this Diocese by a solemn relationship. As chairman of the Court of Review that made decision regarding the action of our own Court, in the trial of Dr. Crapsey, he had especial interest in Western New York. He showed the judicial mind and an anxious fairness in his study of the whole case. It was distasteful to him, beyond measure, that duty compelled him to have ought to do with so grave a concern as the renunciation or surrender of his priesthood, by any who had served at God's altars. His heart was sick. So was mine, in those days, when, as his Father-in-God, and his long-time friend, I besought again and again my troubled brother to pause before going forth from among us.

In the administration of his diocese Bishop Scarborough was careful and patient and generous, and loyal to Christ. Kind was he in spirit, but firm in the maintenance of the Church's order and obligation and demanding as to the holding of the faith by his Reverend brethren. To him this branch of the Saviour's household was the representative of Divine truth and the dispenser of Heaven's own blessings—pardon and grace. Compromise with, affiliation to, ecclesiastical surrender for, those who had broken the unity of the Redeemer's Body he could give no heart to. It was to him a grievous sin. It was the rending of the seamless robe of Jesus. How could a son palliate such a dishonor to the Father's name and love?

The sentimental alliances with the alien or with the subject of another antagonistic allegiance, Protestant or Roman, appealed not to his brain nor his heart. The complex experiences of a lifetime with religious compromises—in those eighty-three years—taught him the futility of the visions and plans and affiliations of this modern day by some Churchmen. He acknowledged no lack of charity in setting forth unmitigatedly his claim for this Church's authority and for its purity of doctrine and practice, as given and commanded in its official standards. The proposals of some of our clergy of the day, and worse still, their action, in connection with a so-called and a hazy and compromising union, he flung out as unreal and false. There are truces that are dishonest and there are surrenders that are disloyalty. His claim was that he was the Church's officer, and to lead his command into the ambush or the citadel where the hand was raised in any sort against his fold and his flag and theirs, was treason. His counsel was "Hear the Church" and his solemn injunction was ever "go not after strange gods."

I have endeavored in faint degree to picture the man—loyal to the Truth, to the Word, to the Church—and so to our Divine Master Christ. No mere formal believer, no institutional automaton, no unroused mediaevalist, no dry Churchman. But a cheerful man, a joyous Christian, an intelligent professor of religion, a robust representative of a human piety, of sense and ecclesiastical honor, of sincerity of living, of gentle tolerance, of firm adherence to vows, of unshaken piety, of a Churchman's zeal, devotion, integrity, honor, loyalty and truth.

So his photograph stands indelible in my memory. A godly, gracious, grand Bishop. He is truly a loss to the world and the Church.

III. Rt. Rev. William Woodruff Niles, D. D., second Bishop of New Hampshire and ninety-sixth in this American Church.

He was a man of large learning, who passed from an academic chair to the throne of the Episcopate. In that sacred and exalted office, he served a small and difficult Diocese, with an earnest and unending devotion.

He was loved and honored by his classes in their undergraduate days, and had for young men a hearty interest and sympathy. As the preacher, in his palmy days, he was always pleasing and fluent and instructive. He was the wise and learned teacher in the pulpit, not a mere wordy essayist. He was pre-eminently a Theologian; not merely scientifically so, but abundantly practical and even poetical and picturesque. There is theory in this modern time that dogma is impertinence; that a creed is a fossilized fiction, or an empty formula; that to preach on doctrine is to unrealize the need of this humming, electric century. Mars Hill audiences and the Areopagite temper reigns among the would-be wise of our age. Social service is ideal religion and money given for missions is the open sesame to salvation and a blinding force on the eyes of the Judge of all the earth. Emotion and devotion are past ceremonies of a defunct age. The bustle of "doing something" is the vociferous demand of the missionary harangue, the revival expert, or the Board secretary. That means self-congratulating humanitarianism—sometimes a modern subtle Pharisaism. We need more humility in our modern Christianity, more keen sense of our sole dependence on our royal, human, divine Master. The cross is not only the emblem of salvation, but the sole means of that salvation. Our beneficent deeds or our rich sacrifices are not the passports to Paradise. Social service is not the sole factor in godly piety. Our brotherly pitifulness for the heathen or our next door needing neighbor is not all, is not the dominant element in a genuine religion. Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ. Worship Him; honor Him; love Him; give life for Him, if you desire to be saved.

"Nor alms, nor deeds that I have done,
Can for a single sin atone;
To Calvary alone I flee,
O, God, be merciful to me."

Such teaching it was that characterized the earnest utterances of my Rt. Rev. Brother of New Hampshire.

The Church he loved and pleaded for, and gave allegiance to, and honorably and sacrificingly served with an untiring will and work. Combinations and affiliations and federations of competing and jealous and antagonistic organizations bearing the name of churches born within a quadre centennium of years, had no charm for him. To him there was a Church, one not many, not multiplied fragments—undivided—not varied, Apostolic, Catholic, unified, sanctified. This Church was to his mind and heart that Church.

Bishop Niles labored beyond the four-score years and passed to Paradise a man of God filled with the Holy Ghost.

IV. Rt. Rev. Charles Clifton Pennick, D. D., third Missionary Bishop of Cape Palmas and the one hundred seventeenth by consecration in the American Church.

Fervent Missionary enthusiasm led him to hear the call of the Church and go, with self-consecration of a singular intensity, to the unattractive field of Africa.

When he entered upon his labors the "missionary district of Cape Palmas and parts adjacent" had little to stir the zeal of a man however self-surrendering and devout he might be. There was no romance of missions in that foreign field. There was a bad climate, an ignorant, uncivilized life, the savage blood running in the veins of the converts, fiery passions dominating, thanklessness, indifference, opposition, sometimes hate. Living in early years amid the slave-holding masters of the Southland, he knew in large degree, the tone and temper of the black man and the needs and defects of so alien a race. But even to him, the African in his native haunts was problem and at times great discouragement. And so after a few years of energetic effort he came home and made place for one, other than his own race, to carry forward the work and the struggle, Thenceforward he gave himself to parochial labors among the Southern people; and in the few parishes where his pastorate was passed he gave example and leadership in the old-fashioned, evangelical, personal, religion. He spoke unflinchingly in his Master's behalf and gave the testimony heroically whenever opportunity served, whether men would hear or whether they would forbar. Sometimes, many of us, in the outer highways of life, where men are bargaining or planning or recreating, hesitate to deliver our message—waiting for the convenient season, and in some cases—many cases—that never comes. Such was not the spirit and trait of the retired Bishop of Cape Palmas in these latter days of ministry in the Southland. Sometimes men claimed that out of the excess of his enthusiasm, Bishop Penick spoke for Christ out of season. Perhaps so, perhaps not.

At any rate his eloquent and forceful pleadings for Jesus showed the fiery earnestness of an overwhelming conviction of the truth of his message and of a burning sense of responsibility for the opportunity and for the man (addressed). And so noble pleading and gracious promise was poured from consecrated lips to the soothing and serving of needing or negligent sons of men.

Finally the earnest speech was stilled and a few weeks ago, after pain and weakness, the laborer laid himself down and fell on sleep.

I have given somewhat more than the usual time to the throwing of these pictures of great lives on the screen.

The heroes and saints in the Episcopate of the earlier days of American Church life are dropping rapidly out of the ranks, and it is good to gaze for a few moments upon their vivid portraits. These octogenarians of whom I have spoken took part in Church extension and Christian enterprise that was honeycombed with anxiousness and care and personal privation and money straitness. They had upon them the scars of genuine conflict; there were the stigmata in hand and foot like their own Master, leading in a degree a martyr life in their confessions for Him. I am speaking no figures of speech, but solemn, serious truths. The early Episcopates in this land found no beds of royal ease for a scented repose, no retained Lord Bishop's palace and lot—but work, privation, anxiety, care—sometimes, often, the sharp, opposing voice of the Christian bodies of other names. This last especially was bitterness. But the King led the way and clasping His hand they walked forward in morning light or eventime shadow to the victor's tomb and the eternal rest.

One more servant of God for your thought and your reverential memory, and I close this necrological record. I would turn your eyes upon a member of our own Diocesan family who has recently in another part of the land laid his burden down. I refer to Rev. James H. Dennis, for a quarter of a century the rector of St. James' Church, Rochester.

Many gathered here today knew him not. For nearly a dozen years past, his home, until his death, was outside of the Diocese. Although in declining health, he remained to the end, pastor, priest, preacher in the Church of God. Courage and zeal stirred him to the last.

Some of my brethren present knew his record in this Diocese. He was the humble-minded presbyter here, the diligent pastor, the sympathetic man who cared for the poor, ministered to their needs, and moved the opulent to generous gifts for suffering and for want. Many in Rochester recognized in him the self-abnegating, hard-ness-enduring, saintly man. The Church has lost a rich exemplar of unselfishness, consecrated devotion, solemn and yet cheerful self-sacrifice, human pitifulness radiating out of the heart of a simple-mannered and simple-living priest of the Saviour's Church. His name and work have high place and loving honor on the record-books of the Diocese of Western New York.

Official Acts

Officially during the past year, by God's blessing, and through a good condition of health, I have been occupied with a larger variety and number of duties than in any former year of my Episcopate.

The services of morning or evening prayer at which I officiated were 161. It was my privilege, by the goodness of our Father, to deliver sermons on 115 occasions and to make 150 addresses in public. The number of Confirmations held by me was 88, in as many different places. This is a record of less than last year, resulting from epidemic in some villages and changes of rectorship in others. One thousand three hundred forty-four persons received the Laying-on-of-Hands. Some classes were larger than usual. Several were smaller than customary in certain parishes. Some of my Reverend brethren testify to a diminished interest in Church-going on the part of portions of their people. Country clubs, bicycles, automobiles, golf and tennis are the new idols at whose shrines so many are worshipping who have in the past sworn lifelong allegiance to King Jesus. It is a transferred fealty, a tender of submission to alien and inimical powers, and a partial renunciation, at least of loyalty and service to our true Sovereign. The sin has become a national one—in the Church and in other communions—and where the defection will end God only knows. He is still merciful and patient with His erring children. But may there not come a limitation-day to His tolerating love? History shows calamity, seditions, war, pestilence, at times, as the camp-followers, as the fruit of such self-alienation from God. What are these wayward, wilful youths of our time, these broken homes, these inordinately multiplying divorcees, these dishonorable business relations, these class clashes, these oppressive trusts, these mighty fortunes gained by the sweat and blood of labor—what are these but the fruits and the reacting penalties that come of our Sabbath-breaking, Church-deserting, God-forsaking age. Beloved brethren, have not we a responsibility, more or less, here? Let not courage or the manliness of our office be silent. St. John the Baptist day's Collect speaks with a ringing note for such conditions. Hear its bravery—and his, "Make us to follow his doctrine and holy life, that we may truly repent according to his preaching; and after his example constantly speak truth, boldly rebuke vice, and if need be—patiently suffer for the truth's sake." I presided at 67 meetings called in the interest of parishes, organizations or committees, diocesan or general.

The conferences relating to parochial questions, new enterprises, general progress and policies relating to the Church and personal and official religion at which I presided were 76 in number. Personal and group interviews, touching personal and official action by clergy and laity, reached the large total of 116. I officiated at one funeral within the twelvemonth, and dedicated a restored chapel and a chime of college bells; made addresses before half a dozen Sunday schools—which latter privilege is always enjoyment, keen and refreshing to me—issued two legal citations for grave conferences, held two hearings on ecclesiastical problems, made six rulings, officially, on matters of moment referred to me, and gave Episcopal decisions five times in the matter of as many parish differences.

I made six different official inspections of property sold or bought for the Church's interest, and gave formal consent, agreeably to the Canon, for the removal of a church site. I attended and officiated at three commencements of Church institutions of learning. I gave instruction to Postulants, six in number, on many occasions, and to people outside of our Church on the Prayer Book half a dozen different times, and made addresses before the Delancy Divinity School three times, and issued legal summonses for two formal, legal examinations. I took part in the consecration of a Bishop of the Church of God. I ordained two of our own sons—men to the manor born—during the year—to the Diaconate. It became my solemn and sad duty, during the twelvemonth, at the written request of each, to depose two Presbyters of the diocese from the Sacred Ministry.

This tale of work means great concerns to me. It touches sorrows and anxieties and differences between brethren and—sometimes—even sharp speech. These on the one hand, and on the other, sacrifice, fellowship, devotion, brotherly love, mercy, soul-surrender to the Redeemer's call, loyalty and gifts of self to God. Interests were they and deeds were they and consecrated hearts were they that summoned often to my lips, the humble petition and the glowing thanksgiving for that God had helped me through His people and my people—and that so He was their God and my God.

De Veaux College

This address would be lacking if large reference to DeVeaux College—its work, progress and satisfactory condition were not made by me. I, as the Bishop and the President of the Board of Trustees, am profoundly rejoiced and deeply thankful to Almighty God that this splendid record of three years, the period during which the pay-pupil department has been in operation, can be recited. It was no mistake that at last, in answer to my repeated appeals to this Council, you concluded to reopen those doors to the class above named. Here is the gratifying story, taken from the records of the Secretary and Treasurer of the Board of Trustees. During these three years, the attendance has increased from 22 to 50 boys. The latter was the average number during the last twelve-month.

Within the same period—the three last years—the endowment has developed from $231,021.93 to $251,747.03, of which $6,500.00 is the gift of old DeVeaux boys and their friends. The income has increased from about $15,000.00 to nearly $25,000.00 a year.

The value of the property has been enlarged through the rehabilitation of the gymnasium—improvements made from top to bottom, a cement floor, strengthened rafters, bars, dumbbells, etc., etc., the introduction of steam heat therein, the installation of electric light within a hundred rooms, the erection of a standpipe with nine openings; fire hose sufficient to reach every part of the building, and four new fire escapes. These latter improvements bearing upon the safety of human life within those walls, although very expensive, were no luxuries. They were commanded by the Fire Marshal, and other state authorities, and our duty was only to obey even though our exchequer was seriously diminished thereby. There is, with it all, the comforting thought that all safety appliances for guarding against fire and for the protection of human life required by law and known to experts are a part of DeVeaux's equipment. On January 1st of this year, I dedicated a fine chime of ten bells given and erected within the chapel-tower entirely at the expense of Mr. Albert Henry Lewis of Bridgeport, Conn., one of the first students of the college. Another long ago graduate of the institution, Mr. Charles Kennedy, of Buffalo, has added to his former three donations of a thousand dollars each, still another gift during the year of a similar amount, making therefore the Charles Kennedy Endowment Fund for DeVeaux College $4,000.

These evidences and expressions of gratitude for the culture and care of our Diocesan Academy cheer the hearts of those of us who, by your authority, are giving thought and labor to its welfare.

I cannot but refer, not for compliment, but as fact, to the honorable and large service bestowed by the Trustees and the Head-Master upon the management and in the interest of economy for the institution's good. Harmony governs at all times and conscientious concern for the wise care and use of funds and for the rightful nurture of the youth committed to their charge dominate all conference and all plans. I have spoken similar words regarding the administration of DeVeaux in the past from this chair, but the zeal and larger work which has come of the increased responsibility under new conditions constrains me with a warmer zeal to give this hearty testimony before this body today.

Funds

It may be interesting to my brethren to learn of funds which have been committed to me, that they may be administered by me for specified purposes.

First, a fund amounting to $4,000.00, originally bequeathed absolutely to Bishop Coxe. He placed it in the hands of a layman to invest. On my advent into the Diocese it was, in due form, transferred to me, and allowed to remain in the hands of Bishop Coxe's investor. On his death, its care passed, by my desire, to a member of the deceased's household. From him the dividend's come, and are used in the erection of new churches at times, and in confidential aid to a reverend brother now and then. I have never handled the principal.

Second, on September 10th, 1902, the executors of the estate of Rev. Francis Granger deposited in my hands $4,550.45. This sum of money constituted the residue of the reverend brother's property. It was, by the terms of the will, bequeathed to Rt. Rev. Wm D. Walker, Bishop of the Diocese of Western New York, to be used by him, "for the spread of the gospel in Western New York." That sum I deposited in a Trust Company at Rochester, immediately upon its receipt by me. There it has remained ever since, at four per cent., with its compound interest untouched until it has reached the amount of $7,206.00.

My plan has been to accumulate a total which will produce $300 annually—a condition nearly reached—and then dispense it each year for the work of Western New York.

Third. I am co-partner with three laymen of the Diocese in the administration for aged or infirm clergymen of the Clark Fund amounting to $13,500. The marvelously economical administration of this fund will surprise all.

Fourth. In the will of Mrs. Charles L. Ely, of Rochester, probated last year, is this clause: "I give and bequeath to the Bishop of the Diocese of the Protestant Episcopal Church of which Rochester shall form a part, and his successors in office, the proceeds which may arise from the sale of my house on Plymouth Avenue, Rochester, in trust, and the income derived from the fund to be set apart from such proceeds of sale to be used for the purpose of assising the aged and infirm clergymen of said Diocese." From the executor I have received the sum of nearly $20,000 in the shape of bonds and mortgages. The results of said sale have come within a few months to me and a remnant of settlement amounting to about $1,000.00 has been deposited by me in a Buffalo bank bearing four per cent. interest.

I have as yet disbursed none of the income, postponing the distribution until the first year shall end.

I have presented these facts to you, knowing that you would, as members of the Diocese, have interest in such material aid to its strength and usefulness.

General Convention

Memories of the General Convention's achievement, or non-achievement, rise to our thought as we cast our eyes over the Church's landscape for the year. It was an eventful and momentous session. Visions of divided camps or of a helpless shipwreck on the rocks, rose before the imagination of many of the loyal and the thoughtful. God has spared His people's heritage. Our hearts are glad and we rejoice before the Lord.

1. Change of name came not. This was a foregone conclusion to any who read "the signs of the times," before the session opened. The tidal waves of public opinion—rightly—were too strong against it. That hoary title which our fathers maintained from destruction by Roman aggression, on one side and sectarian assault on the other, had become too reverend and holy in the esteem of the sober Churchmen of our time to fling away, like a cast-off robe or a faded flower. It was inwrought too deeply with our national history and our earlier statesmen and our corporate existence as a people to be lightly rejected. And so, it is with us still, a treasured name, unstained, true to Catholic truth and Apostolic order. A victory in behalf of a new title could have been but a meagre one at most. And the consequences in defections and secessions and revolting voices of honest Churchmen, would have been dire. When the almost universal utterance of our membership calls for a "correction" of the Church's name, then it will be fitting to consider anew the grave question. A weak majority must never presume to revolutionize in the family of God. Sanctified common sense and mutual tolerance and recognition of universal rights, in the long run, can only justly win a cause. With such Christian regulation and Christian recognition the Church can have noblest prosperity and holiest life.

Religious Education

2. Religious Education was a burning question. It was recognized that the failure to weave a teaching of God—His relation to man, man's privileges from Him and man's obligations to Him therefor—into the curriculum of the school and the university, was to evolve an imperfect and a crippled manhood. Discussion showed defect—moral, intellectual and even physical—as the outcome of such incomplete training.

It was clear from the testimony of experts that the omission of this element in a man's attainments, means lopsidedness, flaccid mental muscle, proneness to prejudice and lack of intellectual poise. Attribute the absence of this or that in a man to what we please, but plain science shows a limited capacity to grasp and use highest things and functions, where the knowledge of God and the sense of God and the honor of God is not. Reverence, awe, honor, truth and the like—these are ennobling and unselfish and softening influences in a man. They come of religion—even in the cults of a part of the savage world. The French Revolution and the Paris Commune of 1870, tell of a life and people from whom religion was practically banished in education. It is an established truth that the splendid well groomed human animal, or the intellectual giant, wanting in religious emotion and principle, makes not the man of highest efficiency. I am speaking only of what I may call a secular or material side of the subject, not the Godward relation or the factor of a divine piety. The man so constituted is only a man of warped thought, of oblique vision, of narrow or diluted philosophy. The whole of human life is not in his grasp. His, I say again, is an unfinished manhood.

Hence it was that the topic of religious education came to the front in the General Convention. All earnest observers of the trend of the day in the popular impure novel, in the indecent dance, in the suggestive speech of the drawing room and the easy manners of society, realize profoundly the need of another than our Godless education, in our halls of learning.

It is unfair to place the responsibility for the many social, industrial and economic wrongs of the time, at the door of the Church—whether the claim is made of neglect, unsympathy or Pharisaism as the cause. The people—as of yore in Israel's ancient day—love to have it so. The Church would be—if we would so allow it—the mother of us all, leading into the paths of honor and integrity and peace. The sad and serious social unhappiness and unrest and unworthiness of the time, is the fruit, in large degree, of the prayerless home, and the unreligious home of learning. There the duty of reform lies. There new voices are to speak and new action installed. A changed life must control. The banner of the cross as well as the flag of the people must be unfurled at each school-house and college door. So shall the country be redeemed. So shall the righteousness that exalteth a nation, reign.

I have simply generalized on this stupendous topic. Details of action and of advance are partly in your hands and mine, reverend brethren. The pulpit and the Sunday school and the pastoral visit are the fulcrums by which we may, in some degree, in our separate spheres, labor and by God's grace, uplift.

Provinces

3. Provinces are a fact. And the ancient term Synod has entered into our terminology. Some are asking “cui bono?” I, personally, have no answer and meekly accept the inevitable. More money expended. More talk given utterance to. More absences from posts of responsibility. More projects, wise or unwise, launched. More differences among brethren. More fat salaries. More divided counsels, in the great General Church. More separations of sections of the country. Less dignity for our mother. Less honor for her fame and her good name. New ecclesiastical offices and dignitaries, moss-grown titles, distinctions and degrees. A hierarchy perhaps, Archbishops, Metropolitans, Patriarchs. One step short of Pope.

This may be a fancy picture, a pessimistic theory, a haunting nightmare of the darkness. But honestly in view of Diocesan Councils and General conventions and Lambeth conferences and Federal councils—which never meet—I fail to learn what there is for a Synod to do. It is added machinery and big name, but in view of Diocesan function and Archdeaconry enterprise and Diocesan Mission Board struggle, again, I say where is Provincial power and place and practicalness in this American Church? But we will all hope and conform and say God-speed to it if it means glory and growth and new greatness for our mother, the Church.

Christian Unity

4. Christian unity had its niche in the Convention's order. The sane and safe "Commission on faith and order" reported moderate progress and was encouraged by both houses to continue its work. But the wise man knows that the goal is very far away; that the fences to be broken down are almost insuperable, that time—long, long time—is a desirable and a dominating factor in the problem. It is a brave work, a holy work—and we will give it constant prayer and sympathy, while on its present basis of conference only.

But, another shape of the relationship of varying bodies to each other, was thrust into the Convention. It appeared first in the House of Deputies, to the consternation of many, who claim to be honest, intelligent Churchmen. It glided through that house. Let me say that fifty-one per cent. of the members of that body never had a place in its counsels before. Hence perhaps the action taken. The sober sense of experience generally, I think, was against it. At any rate it came to the Bishops. Due consideration was given it. In the course of the discussion, amazing revelations were made, which compelled the house to reject it. It was a resolution commending and giving the Church's sanction to a body bearing the name of "the Federation of the Churches of Jesus Christ." The resolution also provided for the representation of our Church, authoritatively and officially, in its executive committee, called the Federal Council thereof. Thank God, the action of the Bishops—sober and logical—forbade a serious leap in the dark and a concession and compromise, that would be self-stultifying and dishonoring to the Church. There is clearly a broad, a very antipodal difference between the aim of our Commission on Faith and Order and the "Federation of Churches." The former plans and prays for a genuine unity of all professing Christians in one great Church; the other seeks a relationship which only federates a variety of churches, having no cohesion and each maintaining its separate system, doctrine and organization. The one idea is that there ought to be only one Body of Jesus, of which all should hold membership; the other is that the Master's petition to His Father for oneness of His children, can be reached by co-operation and a law of comity governing the relations of a number of churches to each other. The conviction of the Bishops was that federation meant simply hindrance, not help, to a Christian unity; that only the Master's will is fulfilled as corporate separation is banished and as a vital unity is established as all give heart and loyalty to one great fellowship, where union is real, in the faith and worship and communion of Jesus Christ—the Body which is Himself, one and indivisible.

And so your Fathers in God said No to this nostrum for the healing of a wounded Church and a broken Christendom.

A resolution reached the House of Bishops from the other House as follows: "Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring, that the Board of Missions be informed that in the judgment of the General Convention it has full authority to take such steps as it may deem wise to co-operate with other Christian Boards of Missions in this country and elsewhere, in the united effort to arouse, organize and direct the Missionary spirit and activity of Christian people, to the end that the people of this Church may be enabled to discharge their duties to support the missions of the Church at home and abroad, through prayer, work and giving; provided, that the expense incurred in such co-operative educational efforts shall not be a charge upon the funds raised through apportionment."

On thorough consideration of this proposition, the following message went from our House to the other House: "The House of Bishops informs the House of Deputies that it has not concurred with the House of Deputies in adopting the resolution contained in its message, No. 83, as to the assertion of certain powers for the Board of Missions." And so it was "consigned to the tomb of the Capulets," to have, I trust, never a resurrection until the crack of doom.

It was a proposition which changed the whole attitude of this Church from the beginning. It was a proposition which seemed to throw discredit upon the Board of Missions itself, inasmuch as it had rejected such a proposal, in a prolonged discussion, some months before. It was a proposal that, in my opinion, would have made endless confusion and heart-burning in connection with our work of this Church, in our fields, at home or abroad. One of our Missionary Bishops told me as we sat side by side, during the discussion that he was going home to find on his hands an unfortunate and unhappy tangle through action on the part of certain clergymen of the character proposed. Other statements showed the peril of such co-operation. Jealousies arise among excellent Christian men under certain conditions and religion is thereby marred and reviled. In my opinion while divided Christendom remains, separated sects are better apart—each peaceably working out its own salvation.

General Missions

At the urgent request of the President and Secretary of the Board of Missions, reaching me after the close of the council, I present to you the subject of the very serious deficit at the present time, the diminished income for the year up to this date, and the prospect of a still largely increased arrearage, at the close of the fiscal year.

I never like to exhibit the shadowed side of a good cause, if circumstances justify emphasis on the brighter phase of the matter. But when the cloud which is dark lowers so heavily upon the Church's endeavor for the extension of religion in the world, it seems fitting to face around and look squarely at the condition, though we be in the darkness of night, or at a twilight of the work. Whether this seeming chill at the heart of the Church comes from anxious concern regarding business conditions in the nation; or from differences of opinion as to the modus operandi, in general, of our missionary enterprises, or from critical comment regarding costs of administration and indefiniteness respecting official salaries so far as public knowledge goes; or from diluted interest in our own specific work through new policies which forced upon many of our people, under the guise of liberality and comity, a contact with the advocates of other religious systems through the eccentric movements of a triennium past; or whether other causes are the influence I am not able to say fully.

But the fact is before us that unless improvement in giving comes—so says a recent circular of the Board of Missions—bankruptcy confronts the Mission-work of the Church.

I am not addressing you as the critic either of your own effort, my people, or of administration at headquarters. My office, and I esteem it my high privilege and my bounden duty, is to exhort you to do even more generously for the extension of our Redeemer's Kingdom than ever before, and for the increase of the knowledge of His truth "as this Church hath received the same." I know well of generous sacrifice on the part of hundreds upon hundreds of you, in the interest of our Church's Mission-work, because she, your mother, asks your helping hand. I know, personally, hosts in this Diocese, who for the spread of the religion and the Church they love, are voluntarily enduring privations of one or another shape. God reward them for their sacrifice and labor of love for His name's sake.

Let me close by again beseeching of you a new zeal and a larger giving for His dear work who hath redeemed us with His own precious blood.

Finis

Here this address ends. Memories come to me of so many happy visitations in the parishes, of so many earnest workers; of devoted clergy and zealous laymen and lay women; of good work done; of devotion at worship; of boys and girls in Sunday schools and in Christian homes growing to man's and woman's estate in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.

And, too, there are these bright personal memories, of kind, attention, respectful courtesy, abounding hospitality and loyal friendship. They linger in thought long after the good-bye is spoken and prayers go up continually from these lips for blessings to descend on household and Church, thus giving humble and holy service to the King and Saviour of us all.

Report of the Warden

To the Board of Education of the Diocese of Western New York.

The Warden of the DeLancey Divinity School respectfully reports as to the condition of the School for the year 1913-1914:

The year closes with nine students in attendance on the Lecture Sessions and with two additional men, students of Hobart College, reading under our direction along the lines of our curriculum, but unable from their engagements at the College to attend the lectures. We are thus able, without expense to the School, to assist men in the work of the Junior year who may continue their course with us after graduation from Hobart but who will in all probability enter other theological schools. A former student of the Junior year who has been pursuing his studies at another school is now seeking re-entrance with us for the work of the Senior year. The increase in expenses is slight when the increase in the number of students and the present prices for board and lodging are taken into consideration.

Criticism has been made as to the cost to the Endowment, per capita, of the student body, but critics fail to remember that no student, whether in University, College, Theological or Professional School, receives his education for the number of dollars he may be called upon to pay in fees, where fees are demanded. Original cost and maintenance of buildings, apparatus, salaries, etc., must be taken into account.

The lectures have been held and instruction given regularly every month, from October to May, both inclusive, with the annual Examinations in June, with increasing ability and practical efficiency on the part of the lecturers and followed with faithfulness and diligence by the students with one or two exceptions.

As the date of this Report is nearly two months in advance of the annual examinations it would be premature to speak of the results of the three years' course to the men who have pursued it. We are, however, confident that the majority will sustain the examinations with credit to themselves and with honor to the School. Handicapped, as some of our students are in the toil of earning a maintenance it should not be held as against either their faithfulness or their mental ability if some have to request an extension of time, beyond the three years, in which to accomplish the required work.

Mr. Leon F. Haley from the Diocese of Central New York, who was a member of the Class that graduates this year, left us last year to accept work and to take Orders in a Western diocese. Mr. Chas. A. Dowdell has definitely withdrawn from the School.

One hundred and twenty-one volumes have been added to the Library, sixty-seven of these being text-books for the use of students and lecturers and fifty-four being gifts from individuals. These include a gift of valuable books from the library of the late Bishop DeLancey, made by his son, William H. DeLancey, Esq., which has been acknowledged, as has also a copy of "A Memoir of Bishop Hobart," given by Mr. George D. Hartley of Worcester, Mass. The School has also been made the recipient of an exceedingly fine, large, framed photograph of the late Bishop Coxe, the gift of his daughter, Mrs. Philip W. Nash.

The $50.00 granted by the Board for the purchase of books added to the unexpended balance of $67.11, making $117.11, has proved adequate to the demands made upon this fund, there being a balance now in bank of $20.56. An immediate draft will be made upon this balance, amounting to about $9.00, for text-books, ordered, but not yet received. This fact together with the present and prospective increase in the number of students compels the Warden to ask for a grant of $70.00 for the coming year.

The Bishop of the Diocese, with his accustomed regularity, has visited the lecture rooms giving words of counsel and advice to the young men in attendance.

The Warden has received since May 1st, 1913, by order from the Secretary of the Board for lectures and incidental expenses, the sum of $595.00. This sum does not include the special honorarium to the lecturers, $600.00 of which passed through the Warden's hands; the other hundred was divided between an out-going lecturer and his successor and was paid to them directly.

There remains in the hands of the Warden a balance of $15.00 of the above sum. He has also to acknowledge the receipt of $50.00 for the Book Fund as well as a special grant of $28.13 paid to W. & T. Smith for work about the Geneva property. Ten dollars and forty-five cents has been received from two former students; $5.45 being for books purchased and $5.00 a gift to the library. The Bishop of Central New York has remitted $69.15 on account of expenses incurred for a student from his diocese.

In closing this Report the Warden desires to make heartfelt acknowledgement of the encouragement and support he has received in the discharge of his duties from students, associates and the Board of Trustees, as also from many of his brethren of the diocesan clergy.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS B. BERRY,

Warden.

(C) Report of the Trustees of DeVeaux College for Orphan and Destitute Children

Niagara Falls, N. Y., January 1, 1914.

To the Bishop and to the Standing Committee of the Diocese of Western
New York:

Gentlemen:—The Trustees of DeVeaux College for Orphan and Destitute Children respectfully submit herewith their report for the year ending December 31, 1913, in compliance with the terms of the charter of the corporation.

During the year the Trustees held five meetings, with the following record of attendance:

Rt. Rev. W. D. Walker, D.D., President	present 2, absent 3
Gen. H. C. Hodges, Vice-President	present 2, absent 3
Rev. P. W. Mosher, Secretary	present 4, absent 1
John K. Walker	present 3, absent 2
Porter Norton	present 2, absent 3
Rev. Pierre Cushing	present 2, absent 3
Rev. Edward P. Hart	present 3, absent 2
de Lancey Rankine	present 3, absent 2
Rev. E. J. Babcock, Treasurer	present 4, absent 1

The main items of this report are two: 1, the school; 2, the books of account.

1. In the school boys only are taken.

During the year 1913 there were received on the foundation 28 boys. The average number maintained during the year was twenty-three, the greatest number in attendance at any one time was twenty-three and the least number twenty-three. The age of the youngest boy on the foundation was 11 years; that of the oldest 19 years.

During the year the total number of pay pupils received was thirty-four of whom fifteen were day pupils. The least number in attendance at any one time was sixteen and the greatest twenty-eight during the latter part of the year.

The course of study is that published in the Register and is based upon the Elementary and the Academic Syllabus of the New York State Education Department.

In the matter of accounts the annexed schedules show: a—the balance sheet; b—Interest Bearing Endowment with a list of loans paid and made during the year, Land Contracts, and the amounts of Special Endowment Funds with the investments of the same; c—Income Cash Account, Receipts and Disbursements; d—a list of bonds and mortgages of the General Fund; e—Strickland Fund; f—The Charles Kennedy Endowment Fund; g—Land Contracts; h—Guarantee Fund; i—a list of real estate owned by the Corporation.

In the audit of the books of the school it was shown that the expense incurred through the pay pupil department, which included two extra masters, food, service and proportion of general expenses, amounted to $5,212.70, and there was received a total from the pay pupils of $7,314.60, showing a total profit of $2,101.90 which amount was applied to reduce foundationer's per capita cost.

The school in 1912 ran at a loss of $209.45 and in the year 1913 the net loss was $761.10 making a loss for the two years of $970.55. This apparently large loss in running the school is accounted for by the fact that at the order of the State Fire Marshal we were obliged to spend on stand-pipe, fire escapes, hose, and fire doors during the years 1912, 1913, $872.78.

Mr. Albert Henry Lewis of Bridgeport, Conn. (DeVeaux, '57-'62), has presented the College with a chime of ten bells made by the Meneely Bell Company of Troy, N. Y. This splendid chime was placed in the tower of Munro Hall during the latter part of December and was set apart at a service held by the Bishop of the Diocese on New Year's day, 1914.

We are pleased to report that Mr. Charles Kennedy has again added $1,000 to the "Charles Kennedy Endowment Fund." This gift came in January, 1914, and will not appear in the Treasurer's report until next year.

Through the generosity of the Old Boys' Association of DeVeaux College the electric lighting system has been extended to many parts of the building.

In accordance with the directions of the State Fire Marshal four additional fire-escapes have been placed on the outside of the building.

Respectfully submitted,

P. W. MOSHER,
Secretary.

(D) Diocesan Missions

Rev. Father in God:

Your Archdeacon respectfully presents his Eleventh Annual Report of the work performed during the past twelve months. Like other reports recurring annually it must be a record of work largely routine, much travel, frequent services, large correspondence, many things planned, and a few things accomplished: though here and there in the work of Christ and His Kingdom these are marked by some growth and advance.

My monthly reports to you as the Diocesan, my regular reports to the Missionary Board on alternate months, my annual reports to the Archdeaconry and the Council, and the report of each place of worship for the Journal show how and where my time has been spent, and how your Archdeacon has performed the duties of the office.

During the year the ministrations of the Church have been provided in thirty-seven places by the Archdeacon and Missionaries of the Board. The cost of maintaining the work of the Board has been about $4,500.00.

There are other places which may be termed parochial missions cared for by rectors of parishes who assume these extra labors for the love of the work. Five of these are in Buffalo and nine in adjoining villages.

There are in the Archdeaconry, not counting the self-supporting parishes, where the services of the Church are held each Lord's day:

Parochial Missions	14
Parishes and Missions supported in part by the Board	16

The new place entered upon during the year, or in other words an old work revived, in which we have erected a Church building is at New Town on the so-called Anti-Christian end of the Reservation. The Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese has each year voted a certain sum of money for aggressive work among the Indians in the Cattaraugus Reservation. The part not used, has been allowed to accumulate and placed in the bank, as the "Building Fund of the Church of the Redeemer, New Town." It was thought well by the Bishop of the Diocese that the fund on hand and the condition of the work warranted the venture of faith to erect a small Church building on the lot 60x90 which was bought with the funds given by the Babies' Branch through Miss Mary Hart. A plain Gothic building 40x20 with recess chancel was erected last summer. The mason and carpenter work were done by the local Indians. The furnishings from the old St. Bartholomew Mission in this city, consisting of altar, lecturn, prayer desk, altar hangings and matting, was donated by the rector, Rev. Dr. Smith. The organ was given by the rector of St. Mark's, N. Tonawanda, Rev. G. S. Burrows. The amount thus far expended has been about $940.00. The building is not finished on the inside as yet, though it has been occupied and services have been held and it is quite comfortable.

I am glad to bear testimony to the faithful labors of the Clergy who are Missionaries of the Board.

Rev. Harry Idle, minister in charge, Bolivar and Allentown.

Rev. A. A. Murch, minister in charge, Attica, Perry and Warsaw.

Rev. J. H. Herendeen, minister in charge, Angelica and Belfast.

Rev. F. A. Ransom, minister in charge, Gowanda and Hamburg.

Rev. Jas. Livingston, minister in charge, St. Philip's, Buffalo, and Lackawanna.

Rev. J. H. Parson, minister in charge, Ellicottville and Springville.

Rev. F. C. Smielau, minister in charge, Deaf Mute work.

Rev. J. L. Short, minister in charge, Youngstown and Lewiston.

Rev. P. B. Hoffman, minister in charge, Belmont, Belvidere and Friendship.

The Archdeacon, minister in charge, Indian work in Cattaraugus Reservation.

Much to the regret of those in authority, there are several vacancies in the Archdeaconry. It is hoped, however, that these places will shortly be filled. The personal work of the Archdeacon, for which he is responsible in the many missions—21 in number—and to which he ministers regularly once a month are supplied with lay service from the Missionary Layman's League of Buffalo when he is unable to be present. More than a score of these men are engaged in reading the services of the Church in the various missions and institutions of the city and vicinity.

It became my personal duty with invitation of the Bishop of the Diocese to again, for the third time, last summer assume charge of the services of the Chapel of the Good Shepherd on the Chautauqua Assembly grounds.

This is certainly a very important and strategic point for the Church, situated as it is in the great assembly grounds where there are gathered together many thousands of people from all parts of the world, many of whom are Churchmen. The following services were held by me, assisted by clergy of the Diocese, during July and August:

Sundays: Morning prayer, 9.

Sundays: Holy Communion, 15.

Saints' Days: Holy Communion, 2.

Wednesdays: Evening prayer, 18.

Fridays: Litany, 9.

There was the usual large attendance at each and every service.

Your Archdeacon has visited regularly the following places, performing the duties of his office:

The Parishes—Belmont, Irving, Silver Creek, Youngstown, Lewiston and Mayville.

The Missions—Angola, Belvidere, Brant and New Town (Indian), Corfu, Chautauqua, Darien Center, Depew, Forestville, Franklinville, Sinclairville, Friendship.

Stations—Alden, Hinsdale, Williamsville.

The personal report for the past twelve months of your Archdeacon of all official acts, exclusive of the Chautauqua services, is as follows:

Morning prayer, 70; 2658 attendance; 38 average.

Evening prayer, 156; 5460 attendance; 35 average.

Holy communion, 124; 2,900 attendance; 35 average.

Holy Communion, Private, 12.

Litany, 35.

Penitential office, 12.

Total, 409.

S. S. Teachers, 40; scholars, 275.

Holy baptism, infants, 26; adults, 4.

Confirmation, 3; confirmed, 10.

Marriages, 7.

Burials, 21.

Sermons and address, 350.

Meetings in interests of the work, 40.

Hospitals visited for out-of-town patients, 50.

S. S. festivals at Christmas, 7.

Pastoral calls, about 1,200.

Junior Auxiliaries organized, 2; Woman's Auxiliary, 1.

Your Archdeacon desires at this part of the report to express his grateful thanks to the Rt. Rev. Father-in-God, the Bishop of the Diocese, for his many acts of kindness shown me; for his fatherly council given at all times and the grateful approval of the work done.

To the Reverend Clergy for their encouraging words of interest expressed to me, for the many services rendered by them in the nine different missions during the past Lent, when some 48 services were held and sermons preached and miles travelled. The places were Corfu, Darien Center, Depew, Angola, Brant, Irving, Silver Creek, Sinclairville and Williamsville.

To the Superintendent and the members of the League for their many services in the missions and the several institutions of the city, where services are held each Sunday when the Archdeacon is unable to be present. These readers are willing and ready at all times to go and to do what they can to help in the Church work.

The usual notices were sent out in the fall requesting each rector and missionary to name the number of red mite boxes needed for their respective Sunday Schools for the Advent season, the offering to be devoted to Diocesan Missions. Some 2,500 boxes were distributed and the amount received will appear on the Treasurer's report.

The Rev. J. L. Smielau, the missionary among the deaf mutes, has continued his ministrations among those afflicted people within the limits of the archdeaconry during the year.

Your Archdeacon takes the following data from the consolidated reports of the Archdeacon and missionaries prepared by General H. C. Hodges for the Missionary Board from February 1, 1913 to February 1, 1914:

Services, 1,067; attendance, 25,675; collection, $1,712.23; Holy Communion, 270; Communicants, 4,432; baptismal services, 36; baptized, 57; confirmation, 7; confirmed, 22; marriages, 17; burials, 36; ordinations, 1.

Sunday School sessions, 342.

Teachers, 681.

Scholars, 5,176.

Offerings, $9,506.

Here I close my report, with thankfulness to our Heavenly Father for His goodness and His many mercies and blessings vouchsafed to me during the past year, thereby enabling me to do the work assigned; asking your prayers and co-operation in the work of another year which will close my fourth term as your Archdeacon.

Respectfully submitted,

G. W. S. AYRES,
Archdeacon of Buffalo.

Report of the Archdeacon of Rochester

Rt. Rev. William D. Walker, Bishop, and brethren of the clergy and laity:

In making this, his tenth annual report, your archdeacon is glad to be able to state that at all of our regularly organized missions, with two or three exceptions, increased interest has been manifested during the year past, and the services, especially during the season of Lent, have been well attended.

Two new men have been added to our working force, the Rev. W. H. Benford having been called to fill the vacancies at Sodus, Sodus Point and Sodus Centre, caused by the removal of the Rev. H. B. Thomas to Pittsford, and the Rev. Kenneth A. Bray, recently called to St. Peters' Church, Geneva, has taken charge of South Phelps.

The Rev. Mr. Parsons having accepted a call to Ellicottville, his former work at Holley has, since his departure, been under the care of the Rev. W. H. G. Lewis of Brockport.

The Rev. Mr. Harvey for a time gave Thursday night services in Nunda in connection with his regular work at Mt. Morris which he has recently resigned.

At other places the appointments remain as they were a year ago. New work has been undertaken at Erwins, a small settlement in Steuben County. This work has been established through the energy and faith of a woman, who, finding it impossible to attend church elsewhere, conceived the idea of having the church come to her.

In a district school house not far from her home, she has organized and conducted a Sunday School, which, at the present time, has an enrollment of 58 scholars. Your general missionary has been called upon to supply this energetic worker with implements of warfare in the form of prayer books, hymnals and Sunday School literature. Recently it was his privilege to baptize eighteen candidates, whom she had gathered for the sacrament. These candidates ranged in age from eight weeks to forty-one years, and in the service I was called to use the forms for Infant, Adult and Hypothetical baptism. Other candidates to the number of ten, were unable to be present owing to threatening weather.

As there are no other religious services held in the community, this woman has set her heart upon the erection of a small chapel. Assurances of financial help have been given her from outside sources, as well as from within the community, and doubtless her heart's desire will soon be realized. This is but an illustration of what might be done in many isolated sections of this archdeaconry if others, trained in the ways of the church, could be induced to take up the work.

In the southern portion of this diocese, there are thousands of men, women and children, who would welcome instruction in hygiene, domestic science, and religion, and any one of tact and judgment going among them, in a spirit of helpfulness, would receive an encouraging welcome.

I have given considerable time to Wolcott of late, and the response has been most gratifying. In spite of numerous reverses, and in the face of many discouraging conditions, the people of Wolcott have persisted and are entitled to all encouragement. The debt on the church building has been reduced to fifty dollars. We ought to have funds sufficient to enable us to put a man in Wolcott. It is a place of importance, and a good man properly supported, could build up a flourishing work.

We ought also to be able to place a man in residence at Fairport to care for that flourishing suburb of Rochester, and take in connection with it, a work which for some time we have hoped to establish in Despatch, or as it is now called, East Rochester. For the work in Despatch we have had for a number of years, money in hand.

Services in Fairport are at present maintained by the Rev. Dr. Bush, in connection with his larger work at Charlotte. If we are not able to place a man in residence at Fairport, a combination with the church at Pittsford would, I believe, be a more satisfactory arrangement than the present one.

The Rev. Mr. Bouck gives such time as he can spare from his larger work at Watkins, to the church in Montour Falls. Here, too, we ought to have a resident priest. Montour Falls is a place of some 1,500 people, there are important and growing manufacturing establishments located there, with a weekly pay roll of over $5,000.

The great weakness in all of our work lies in our failure to properly care for our mission stations.

In nearly every town in this archdeaconry, of three hundred inhabitants or more, you will find that Christian brethren of other names have established work with resident pastors, while we, in even much larger places are not able, or willing, to provide for more than an occasional service by an itinerant.

In this way we are very much handicapped. These churches are made the social centers of the towns and the resident ministers have a vast advantage in that they are in daily touch with the people, and all inducements are offered to draw them into their folds. Newcomers to a town, as well as the children of the older inhabitants, are drawn naturally to the churches where regular Sunday services, and social functions are maintained. Only our older members whose loyalty to the church has been bred in the bone, and become fixed like the law of the Medes and Persians, are able to resist these allurements.

As an illustration let me say that in one mission station which I have in mind, we have lost no less than three organists who have been drawn away from us one after the other, by other Christian bodies.

People trained in the church will not, as we have said, be drawn away; but we have few of that stamp in our missions—they are dying off, and only a resident priest and regular Sunday services can raise up others to take their places.

Then too, in a community we are almost always the last to arrive on the scene of action, as a result much of our work is supplementary rather than initiatory and the church's struggle for a footing is often made in the face of established and organized opposition.

It is with such conditions as these that your general missionary has to contend and having now completed ten years of ceaseless vigilance he thinks himself fortunate in that he is able with all reverence to say, that not only of those committed to his keeping has he lost very few, but also that many other sheep have been gathered in. This, however, has not been made possible through any excellency of speech on his part, but because he has in a measure been able to lead people to a realization of the fact that the church in her sacraments and services, has that to give which can be found nowhere else.

If with only occasional services by your general missionary we are able thus to maintain our footing what might we not do if we had men of consecration and common sense in residence at each of our important missions?

As it now is, your archdeacon can do little aggressive work, he must give his time to strengthening the stakes, rather than lengthening the cords.

The report of our treasurer, a summary of which is made supplementary to this report, shows that we have received from our parishes and missions less money than we did a year ago.

So far as our larger parishes are concerned, the plan of apportionment adopted last year has on the whole proven a financial gain to our treasury, while with the smaller places, with few exceptions, it has not.

The amount received from the Sunday Schools last Advent, $697.56, is the largest we have ever had. At the present time we have, aside from your general missionary, nine priests, and three lay readers on our working force as follows:

- Rev. G. W. Raines at Caledonia.
- Rev. M. G. Freeman at Manchester and Shortsville.
- Rev. H. S. Bush at Charlotte and Fairport.
- Rev. W. H. Benford at Sodus Centre and Sodus Point.
- Rev. G. P. Sommerville at Bradford.
- Rev. F. N. Bouk at Montour Falls.
- Rev. W. H. G. Lewis at Holley.
- Rev. Kenneth A. Bray at South Phelps.
- Rev. F. C. Smielau, Missionary to Deaf Mutes.

Lay Readers:

- Mr. Chas. C. Jatho at Dresden.

Mr. W. H. Martlin at Hunts.

Mr. Seth Wakeman at South Phelps under the Rev. Mr. Bray.

Personally I have during the past year ministered to the following places:

Dundee, Dresden, Himrods, Hunts, Nunda, Holcomb, Union Hill, Sodus Point, Spencerport, Wolcott and Erwins, and have given occasional services at other points. I have held 208 services including 42 celebrations of the Holy Communion. I have officiated at eleven funerals and three marriages. Have baptized 36 and have candidates for confirmation at Hunts and Sodus Point. Those at Sodus Point have been turned over to the Rev. Mr. Benford, who now has charge of the mission.

I feel that the granting of a stipend to a mission year after year, often works an injury to the mission, in that it has a tendency to pauperize it and make it dependent, in place of independent.

I believe that whenever a stipend is given, it should be with the understanding that each succeeding year a certain per cent. of the same will be withdrawn. If this should seem to work a hardship to some, an investigation could be made by the committee on stipends and suggestions made as to means whereby the finances of the mission may be increased.

When a stipend is given year after year, the mission comes to regard it not as a temporality, but as a birthright, and little or no effort is made to relieve the Missionary Board of its responsibility.

This policy in place of encouraging self-support creates dependence and weakness.

However, before such a scheme can be put into effect, a stipend adequate to the proper support of the work must be granted. You can't take something from nothing. Only when sufficient money is given for diocesan work, so that competent men can be secured for the missions, can the plan be made operative.

The success of missions in the diocese, as elsewhere, depends upon competent men, adequate financial support, and business methods.

When such a combination has been effected, the church will go forth as a giant refreshed with wine, conquering and to conquer.

Until such time we must continue to do the best we can with the resources at our command.

Report of the Missionary to Deaf Mutes

My dear Bishop Walker:

I herewith submit my annual report for the year ending April 30, 1914.

On account of severe illness I was unable to do as much work in the Diocese as in former years, but when I resumed my regular visits to Rochester and Buffalo I noticed a good many more communicants present than formerly. At Buffalo where we are privileged to use the beautiful Chapel of Trinity Parish, the attendance has doubled. The Communion services also have had more who received the sacrament, and the congregations showed more earnestness and reverence. The outlook for the Missions at Rochester and Buffalo is exceedingly hopeful and I am looking for more unity and faithfulness among the people.

Services were held and visits made in Buffalo, Rochester, East Aurora, Geneva, Jamestown, Olean, Batavia, Niagara Falls and Lockport.

Services held in public, 28; in private, 8.

Celebrations of the Holy Communion, public, 12; private, 5.

Contributions: for Diocesan Missions, $10; Trinity Church, Buffalo, $5; St. Luke's Church, Rochester, $5; for the Missionary's travelling expenses, $35.55.

Largest number present at Buffalo, 38; at Rochester, 35.

During my illness, the Rev. Mr. Van Allen of Utica, took duty for me at Rochester and Buffalo.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANKLIN C. SMIELAU,

Allentown, Pa., May 6, 1914.

The income and expense account is an open account, and is not figured in the principal of the Episcopate Fund. This money is deposited in the Union Trust Co. of Rochester, bearing interest at 4%, the interest going into the Income Account under Receipts from Interest.

The salary of the Bishop is paid to May 1st, 1914, and there is no other indebtedness.

There has been received during the year special remittances from the various Parishes under direction of the Bishop $447.87.

These amounts are transferred to the Principal or Endowment Fund and show in the cash on hand in the Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Co. as special item $1,002.53.

A committee of the trustees have examined the books of the Treasurer and find same have been correctly kept. Have checked up the bank balances and find the amounts on deposit agree with the figures noted above.

During the year the Nelson Blood mortgage of $300 has been paid.

The three lots on Lark St., Buffalo, valued at $300, have been exchanged for a second mortgage of $350 with interest at 5%. These lots produced us no income and were an expense as to taxes, etc., so this exchange for a good second mortgage was a profitable one.

(II) Report of Sunday School Commission

To the Bishop and the Members of the Council:

During the past year the Sunday School Commission of Western New York has continued throughout the Diocese its campaign of education. Holding as an ideal for its work the principle, so well expressed by the able President of this Commission to the Council a year ago, that we regard our Sunday Schools not as quasi-religious organizations, where the attendance is largely voluntary and work is most optional, but as schools, as centers of education, the Commission has taken some steps forward, and prepared the way, we believe, for far greater strides.

In the course of the year's work, meetings and institutes have been held in many cities and towns, and a great deal of valuable information has been gathered, and some disseminated. For several years this Commission has sought figures, believing that only upon a solid foundation of facts could a superstructure be built that would stand. Need we say that in many instances the figures—solid, honest figures have been given gladly—in others, the figures have come more grudgingly, and in many instances the figures have not come at all. But as a result of this work we do know several things. The children are in our schools—not so many perhaps, as there should be, but enough to demand a sound system of teaching. The officers and teachers are there, too, full of splendid inspiration and enthusiasm, but meeting their pupils mainly as untrained teachers.

And we protest most firmly against those who trust everything to personality, and are satisfied to neglect efficiency. Essential is the teacher's personality—equally essential is the teacher's training.

Your Commission recognizes that it has before it a High Standard of Sunday School efficiency—it appreciates its duty to give to the teachers and officers in our schools such help as lies in its power to the end that the schools may more nearly approach this High Standard.

The work of the Sunday Schools is many-sided. In order that your Commission might best be prepared to touch these various sides, each member of the Commission took one division of the Commission's interests as his particular obligation and responsibility. In this we have followed the leadership of the General Board of Religious Education, and have chosen the same general divisions as the General Board divided among its members, namely.

Finance.

Organization and Equipment.

Missions and Social Service.

Worship, Music and Art.

Curriculum and Lesson Courses.	Primary and Secondary Schools.
Teacher Training and Summer Schools.	Parents and Home Department.
	Publicity.

Yet early in the year, it became very plain that a need in Newark for help in the selection of Lesson Material could but inadequately be met by a member of your Commission residing in Buffalo. Similarly, instruction in Christian Service cannot properly pass to Niagara Falls from Corning, when the member of your Commission in Corning is not a free agent, but bound to a task of responsibility which he cannot leave. Moreover, general advice is often valueless, for the Lesson Material admirably suited to a school of 75 might be entirely inadequate for a school of 350. A personal study of each problem is essential.

Recognizing as we do this definite need, we obtained the consent of the Reverend William E. Gardner, Secretary of the General Board of Religious Education, to come to this Diocese for an intimate and personal study of our problems. The results of this visit far surpassed our most sanguine expectations. Through the energetic management of the Secretary of your Sunday School Commission, the Reverend Mr. J. W. D. Cooper, meetings were arranged and held in all the main centers of the Diocese, at which Mr. Gardner met and talked with a large proportion of the teachers of our schools. What the general value of these meetings must have been in the Diocese can only be surmised, but what the results were on the schools with which the members of your Commission are connected, we know! Mr. Gardner not only gave to our teachers unnumbered new improved methods of teaching and of organization, but he opened to a great many a vision of the wonderful value of Christian Service never before realized:

Yet the work he did was but a beginning. In our schools the newly-appointed grade leaders will need counsel and guidance in their work through the coming year. Mr. Gardner cannot meet all the questions of all the grade leaders.

We need in this Diocese one member of the Sunday School Commission who can meet with all grade leaders—with every teacher who needs help—who needs inspiration. We need in short a trained expert—a Diocesan Field Secretary! Massachusetts has such a man! Rhode Island has! The Third Missionary Department, now known as the Third Province, has an Educational Field Secretary whose whole time is retained for educational matters. The General Board of Religious Education tells us that each of these men has added immeasurably to the effectiveness of the work done in his department.

We believe that the Diocese of Western New York should have such a man. Our President, Mr. Houghton, tells the Commission that such an expert can be obtained. Should such a man be available, the Commission would expect him to make a thorough study of those Dioceses in which this work is being carried on. The General Board of Religious Education promises to give to such a secretary every assistance in its power, and to pass on to him the results accruing from its work.

When ready to begin he would take his place as a member of this Sunday School Commission, ready and waiting to serve any and every Sunday School in the Diocese that might call upon him. His powers would be in no instance inquisitorial; he would not pry into any school where he was not wanted, should such a school exist. To such schools as do need counsel, his would be always freely offered.

We come, then, before you today with this distinct proposition. Create such a Diocesan office, empower us to find a man to fill that office, and your Commission will assume the entire responsibility of his salary for a period of three years. Further, this will be done without any appeal being made during this period to the Diocese or to any member of the Diocese for funds.

To this end we propose the following definite resolutions:

First: Resolved that this Council welcomes and approves the appointment of a Diocesan Field Secretary to assist in the work of the Sunday Schools.

Second: Resolved that this Council empower the Sunday School Commission of the Diocese to select and appoint this Diocesan Field Secretary, said appointment being subject to the approval of the Bishop, the Commission for three years to be responsible for the expenses attached to the office.

Respectfully submitted by the Sunday School Commission of the Diocese of Western New York.

(3) Report of the Sustentation Committee

The Committee held several meetings and carried on much correspondence to secure the data necessary to apportion the fund under the Canon.

It was decided to apportion the amount reported by the Treasurer of the Diocese at the opening of the Council of 1913, to such rectors as were eligible according to the list furnished the Committee by the Treasurer. Due notice of this action was mailed to six rectors whose parishes had met the requirement of the Canon, and who were eligible under the following sections of Canon XVI:

(a) "Whose parishes have paid in full the assessments for the preceding year for the support of the Episcopate, for Diocesan expenses, and for the Sustentation Fund;

(b) The amount of whose salaries as pledged by their parishes are below the standard provided for in Title I, Canon II, Section 6, Subsection 5; and

(c) Whose parishes in the judgment of the Committee pledge as large a salary as is consistent with their ability."

Resolutions passed by the Committee:

A study of conditions in the Diocese lead the Committee to adopt the following resolutions:, believing thereby to secure justice to all concerned:

Resolved, That the apportionments of the Sustentation Committee be based upon the salary originally pledged by the parish, or by the parish and Missionary Boards, and should not apply in cases when parishes have reduced such salary or the rectors have voluntarily given up a part of the work agreed upon, also, no account should be taken of the failure of parishes to carry out supplemental pledges of increase of salary.

Resolved, That the apportionment apply to salaries from May 1st, 1912, to May 1st, 1913, and be based on such sum as the Treasurer of the Diocese reported as paid in for the year ending May 1st, 1913.

The amount necessary to meet the deficit in full was $3,315, with but $505.49 available. On this basis orders were drawn by the Secretary of the Standing Committee on the Treasurer of the Diocese, each man on the list receiving 15%% of the difference between his pledged salary and the Canonical minimum.

The Committee would suggest that a statement from such rectors as deem themselves eligible be furnished the Committee immediately after the meeting of the Council, or better include in their parish reports a statement of the salary pledged and the possession of a rectory or its equivalent in rent.

W. H. SIMMONS,
Secretary of Committee.

(1k) Report of The Social Service Commission

To the Seventy-seventh Annual Council of the Diocese of Western New York:

The Social Service Commission desires to report as follows:

The Commission has met four times during the year—twice at Buffalo, once at Batavia, and once at Lockport. It has had for its consideration several matters of a more or less social aspect, and after due deliberation the Commission brings the following under the notice of the Council:

1. TRAIN MATRONS: This means "a consecrated woman on every through train entering our large cities. They will have a double duty. First, to look after women generally, and, second, to become acquainted with and to help in every way all young women and girls traveling alone. This has been approved by the Commission, one member dissenting.

2. ANTI-TREATING LAW: The Commission also favors the introduction in the New York State Legislature of an anti-treating law such as has been in other States of the Union, tried and found acceptable, not only to abstainers, but to the better class of business men who drink occasionally, and has been also found possible of enforcement. As such a law, if passed, would be State-wide in its effect, the opinion of this Council upon its desirability would be of some moment.

3. NAVY CHAPLAINS. The attention of the Commission has been drawn to the project for increasing the number of Chaplains in the United States Navy. We emphasize three points in connection with the proposed legislation:

(a) The total number of Chaplains should be at least sixty-five, instead of twenty-four as at present, thus allowing a Chaplain for every one thousand enlisted men.

(b) We are opposed to the appointment of special moral and social workers in lieu of ordained ministers.

(c) The present discrimination against Chaplains in the matter of rank and salary should be removed, in order that they may be on an equal footing with other officers of the Navy.

4. ORGANIZED LABOR: In order to be in closer touch with the various Trades Unions, with a view to a better understanding of the relations between employer and employee, the Commission has appointed different members to represent it in separable localities. The Secretary has been requested to inform the organizations, where possible, of this action.

Respectfully submitted,

PERCY ISHERWOOD, Chairman.

Lockport, N. Y., May 19, 1914.

XI. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received, except (1) to lay the motion on the table, (2) to postpone it indefinitely, (3) to postpone it to a certain time, (4) to commit it, or (5) to amend; and motions for these purposes shall have precedence in the order thus named.

XIII. A motion to lay on the table shall be decided without debate.

Or the yeas and nays may be taken by order on the call of any five members, and when so taken the vote shall be recorded in like manner.

XV. No member except the mover may speak more than twice on the same question without leave of the House.

XVI. A question once decided, shall not be reconsidered during the same session without the consent of two-thirds of the votes of the Council, nor without the motion for that purpose being made by one of the majority on said decision. No question shall be reconsidered more than once.

XVII. Special Committees not otherwise provided for shall be appointed by the Chair.

XVIII. Except by the votes of two-thirds of the persons present entitled to vote, no standing rule or order shall be suspended, changed or rescinded.
